Local.

☞ Prof. J. DeLaunay, of France, delivered a free lecture at the Middle st. church on Monday evening, on "The Catacombs of Rome; or the early faith of the Christian martyrs." He also lectured on Tuesday evening. He has a large number of finely executed illustrations of the subjects upon which he speaks, and a wish has been expressed by some of our citizens that he might find it convenient to deliver a course of lectures in this city, as he has done in Newburyport, and other places.

☞ Mr. Fletcher's lecture at Hanover street Chapel, on Monday evening last, was extremely gratifying to the large audience present. Few lyceum lecturers have that indescribable power which controls the attention, interests the sympathies, and attracts the minds of hearers towards a common centre of thought, to such an eminent degree as he. There is an unwillingness to lose a single word that falls from the speaker's lips,—yet, so easy and graceful a speaker is he, that few at the time realize how close an attention he wins from them. His next lecture will be delivered at Hanover street Chapel, on Monday evening next.—Subject: "The Amazon; and the Palm Tree and its relations to Society."

☞ The sale of shells, birds, &c., at J. B. Adams' auction store, will be continued to day.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?—Trinity Episcopal Church, Trenton, N. J., has lost two rectors since the commencement of the war, both having gone as Chaplains. It is a singular fact that they both bear martial names, the one being Rev. Mr. Camp and the other Rev. Mr. Drumin.

☞ The Southampton, England, correspondent of the Dublin Freeman's Journal, after announcing the arrival of the rebel steamer Nashville at that port, adds: "The Nashville is going to Bremen for repairs.—She is in a very dilapidated state."

☞ Unless the rebel blockade of the Potomac river is made more effectual, the Government will entirely disregard it. Transports with troops and stores pass regularly up and down at the rate of half a dozen a day.

☞ Colonel Peyton told people in England that there are in the South 750,000 bales of cotton of the old crop, and over 4,000,000 bales of the new crop, as well as upwards of 50 million dollars' worth of tobacco and naval stores ready for shipment.

☞ There is a report from Washington that Lord Lyons has intimated to Mr. Seward that his Government will assure him that they mean neutrality on board their vessels and everywhere else.

☞ The St. Louis correspondent of the Cincinnati Enquirer states that the proclamation of Gen. Halleck, forbidding negro fugitives from coming into the army lines, was sent from Washington, and was dictated by President Lincoln.

☞ Iron-clad ships are in great favor at headquarters, as the Secretary of the Navy includes in his estimate the cost of building a fleet of twenty of these invincible monsters.

PUPPIES LOOKING UP.—An invitation is issued by James Bailey, Jr., "Secretary of the Metropolitan Canine Society," for dog fanciers to correspond with him in reference to a dog fair.

☞ As an item of scientific intelligence, it may be mentioned that the astronomer, Otto Struve, has received from the Emperor Alexander II. a sum of 125,000 francs, to establish a complete observatory on Ararat.

ECLIPSE OF THE MOON.—Early in the morning of Tuesday, Dec. 17, there will be a very small eclipse of the moon, visible throughout the United States.

☞ John C. Heenan, the Benicia Boy, has arrived in Cincinnati, intending to raise a company of troops for the war, in the Southwest.

☞ The measles are raging with great violence in the 13th and 15th Maine regiments at Augusta, Maine.

☞ Brownlow's Knoxville (Tenn.) Whig, which was suspended on the 24th of October, was the last Union journal in the eleven seceded States.

☞ Paper money at the South is at 35 per cent. discount for gold. U. S. Treasury Notes, or demand notes, are freely taken at par.

Somebody having expressed the opinion that there is a knotty question involved in the Mason and Slidell case, the Cincinnati Gazette replies:—"The only knot we can see in it is the hangman's."

Three hundred poisoned pies were given to the N. Y. 5th Regiment by secessionists in Belhaven, Md., but the boys were warned by negroes, and foreswore pie.

Since the erection of the first Methodist church in America, in 1760, fourteen thousand have been erected—an average of three a week.

An editor says that when he was in prison he was requested by the jailor "to give the jail a puff."

FOREIGN NEWS.

Bremen steamer Hansa, from Bremen via Southampton Nov. 27, passed Sandy Hook, Thursday morning. The intelligence of the capture of Mason and Slidell reached England on the same day on which the steamer sailed. John Bull is highly indignant. An indignation meeting was held in Liverpool on the evening of Nov. 27th, and resolutions were carried by acclamation, denouncing the "insult," and calling on the British Government to assert "the dignity of the flag." The room was crowded to excess. Several merchants asserted that the meeting and action were premature, but the feeling of indignation was very general.

Capt. Nelson has entered his protest against the capture and destruction of the ship Harvey Birch, by the rebel steamer Nashville.

Capt. Pegram of the Nashville and Mr. Yancey had returned from London together, and the latter states that it has been intimated to him through a third party that the Nashville is recognized by the British government as a national vessel, and will be allowed to refit and repair at Southampton, as was the case with the James Adger so as to exercise perfect neutrality between the two contending parties.

AYER'S

Sarsaparilla

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

Now for the speedy cure of the following complaints: Scrofula and Scrofulous Affections, such as Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Blains, and all Skin Diseases.

OAKLAND, Ind., 6th June, 1859.

J. C. Ayer & Co. Gents: I feel it my duty to acknowledge what your Sarsaparilla has done for me. Having inherited a Scrofulous infection, I have suffered from it in various ways for years. Sometimes it burst out in Ulcers on my hands and arms; sometimes it turned inward and obstructed me at the stomach. Two years ago it broke out on my head and covered my scalp and ears with one sore, which was painful and loathsome beyond description. I tried many medicines and several physicians, but without much relief from any thing. In fact, the disorder grew worse. At length I was recommended to read in the Gospel Messenger that you had prepared an alterative (Sarsaparilla), for I knew from your reputation that any thing you made must be good. I sent to Greensburg and got it, and used it till it cured me. I took it, as you advise, in small doses of a teaspoonful over a month, and used almost three bottles. New and healthy skin soon began to form under the scab, which after a while fell off. My skin is now clear, and I know by my feelings that the disease has gone from my system. You can well believe that I feel what I am saying when I tell you, that I hold you to be one of the apostles of the age, and remain ever gratefully, Yours,

ALFRED B. TALLEY.

St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Dropsy.

Dr. Robert M. Preble writes from Salem, N. Y., 12th Sept., 1859, that he has cured an inveterate case of Erysipelas, which threatened to terminate fatally, by the persevering use of our Sarsaparilla, and also a dangerous Malignant Erysipelas by large doses of the same; says he cures the common Erysipelas by it constantly.

Bronchocele, Goitre or Swelled Neck.

Zebulon Sloan of Prospect, Texas, writes: "Three bottles of your Sarsaparilla cured me from a Goitre, that became swelling on the neck, which I had suffered from over two years."

Leucorrhœa or Whites, Ovarian Tumor, Uterine Ulcerations, Female Diseases.

Dr. J. B. S. Channing, of New York City, writes: "I most cheerfully comply with the request of your agent in saying I have found your Sarsaparilla a most excellent alterative in the numerous complaints for which I have employ such a remedy, but especially in Female Diseases of the Scrofulous diathesis. I have cured many inveterate cases of Leucorrhœa by it, and some where the complaint was caused by ulceration of the uterus. The ulceration itself was soon cured. Nothing within my knowledge equals it for these female complaints."

Edward S. Marrow, of Newbery, Ala., writes, "A dangerous ovarian tumor in one of the females in my family, which had defied all the remedies we could employ, has at length been completely cured by your Extract of Sarsaparilla. Our physician thought nothing but extirpation could afford relief, but he advised the trial of your Sarsaparilla as the last resort before cutting, and it proved effectual. After taking your remedy eight weeks no symptom of the disease remained."

Syphilis and Mercurial Disease.

New Orleans, 28th August, 1859.

Dr. J. C. Ayer: Sir, I cheerfully comply with the request of your agent, and report to you the cases of the school I have realized with your Sarsaparilla.

I have cured with it, in my practice, most of the complaints for which it is recommended, and have found its effects truly wonderful in the cure of Venereal and Mercurial Disease. One of my patients had Syphilitic sores in his throat, which were completely healed by the judicious use of the mixture. Your Sarsaparilla, steadily taken, cured him in five weeks. Another was attacked by secondary symptoms in his throat, which the ulceration threatened to eat away a considerable part of it, so that I believe the disorder would soon reach his brain and kill him. But it yielded to my administration of your Sarsaparilla—the ulcers healed, and he is well again, not of course without some disfiguration to his face. A woman who had been treated for the same disorder by mercury was suffering from this poison in her bones. They had become so sensitive to the weather that on a damp day she suffered excruciating pain in her joints and bones. She has now cured entirely by your Sarsaparilla in a few weeks. I know from its formula, which your agent gave me, that this Preparation from your laboratory must be a great remedy; consequently, these truly remarkable results with it have not surprised me.

Fraternally yours, G. V. LARIMER, M. D.

Rheumatism, Gout, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Pain in the Side, &c.

Dr. J. C. Ayer: Sir, I have been afflicted with a painful chronic Rheumatism for a long time, which baffled the skill of physicians, and stuck to me in spite of all the remedies I could find, until I tried your Sarsaparilla. One bottle cured me in two weeks, and restored my general health so much that I am for the first time in life not sick.

Julia T. Gotchell, of St. Louis, writes: "I have been afflicted for years with an affection of the Liver, which destroyed my health. I tried everything, and every thing failed to relieve me; and I have been a broken-down man for some years from no other cause than derangement of the Liver. My beloved pastor, the Rev. Mr. Page, advised me to try your Sarsaparilla, because he said he knew you, and say thing you made was worth trying. By the blessing of God it has cured me, and has so purified my blood as to make a new man of me. I feel young again. The best that can be said of you is not half good enough."

Schirrus, Cancer Tumors, Enlargement, Ulceration, Caries and Exfoliation of the Bones.

A great variety of cases have been reported to us where cases of these formidable complaints have resulted from the use of this remedy, but our space here will not admit them. Some of them may be found in our American Almanac, which the agents below named are pleased to furnish gratis to all who call for them.

Dyspepsia, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Melancholy, Neuralgia

Many remarkable cures of these affections have been made by the alterative power of this medicine. It stands below the vital functions, brings vigorous action, and thus overcomes disorders which would be supposed beyond its reach. Such a remedy has long been required by the medical world, and we are confident that this will do for them all that medicine can do.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the Relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced Stages of the Disease.

This is a remedy so universally known to surpass any other for the cure of throat and lung complaints, that it is useless here to publish the evidence of its virtues. Its unrivalled excellence for coughs and colds, and its truly wonderful cures of pulmonary disease, have made it known throughout the civilized nations of the earth. Prudent mothers, or even families, know that among them will have had some personal experience of its effects—some lasting trophy in their midst of its victory over the subtile and dangerous disorders of the throat and lungs. As we know the dreadful fatality of these disorders, and as they know, too, the efficacy of this remedy, we need not fear that we shall have when making the cures which have won so strongly upon the confidence of mankind.

HOUSE FURNISHING ESTABLISHMENT,

No. 46 Market Street, Portsmouth.

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,

Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster, or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take the large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz.:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking over.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the back and hot air plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves,.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be TRUE STOVE for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is surely a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

ZOLLICKOFFER'S
ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL
A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF
INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA AND LUMBAGO.
Of all the diseases incident to the human family, there is none, perhaps, which occasions so much intense suffering and physical disability, and none that appears to elicit so little commiseration and sympathy as RHEUMATISM in its various modifications. Medical writers, and the faculty in general, have entertained different views as to the cause of this painful malady, and hence the variety of compounds of one kind or other which have been presented to the public as curatives.
Rheumatism, as well as Gout (which latter is but a more aggravated form, or what is commonly understood as Rheumatism), would seem to result from a peculiar diathesis or inflammatory condition of the system, originating in a diseased state of the blood. It usually affects the larger joints, as the ankle, knee, elbow, shoulders, &c., and manifests itself in Neuralgic pains, Sciatica, Lumbago, and other forms of this character.
Sometimes, through negligence, or the inadequacy of the remedies applied, it assumes a decided inflammatory feature, and then often becomes a constitutional affection, permeating every muscle, and excoriating the surface to a most painful sensitiveness to every change in the weather; thus seeming to preclude all prospect of a restoration to health.
The almost exclusive and indiscriminate use of external applications, such as fomentations, stimulating embrocations, blistering and warming plasters, bleeding, cupping, and leeching, have in most cases proved ineffectual, merely transmuting the disease from one part of the system to another. The ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL, on the contrary, is administered as an internal remedy, and is intended to strike at the root of the disease. It is a new and original preparation, invented by the subscriber, and he can therefore recommend it as perfectly safe, as it is efficacious, being wholly free from any deleterious substance whatever
It is not pretended, however, that this Cordial will cure every repeated case of Rheumatism that may be presented, although the results have hitherto been such as would justify every one afflicted by it in making the trial; and in many even the most remote benefit is discoverable, it may then be fairly inferred that a cure will be effected, providing the directions be steadily and perseveringly adhered to, both as to the time of taking it, and the quantity used.
It is a singular fact, that advanced age appears to be equally susceptible to the benefits derivable from its use as youth, or those in the meridian of life. We have a number of testimonials, persons ranging from sixty to upwards of eighty, who, having been many years the subjects of Rheumatism, in one or other of its varied forms, have by using a few bottles been completely restored—their whole system invigorated, and, as a matter of course, their general health greatly improved. We have rarely known a return of the disease after it has been subdued by the use of this Cordial, even though the patient may have been exposed to the vicissitudes of wet weather; when, however, there have been any slight indications of "the old complaint," a few doses have produced the most happy effect.
The subscriber can furnish a long array of names of the most prominent and influential citizens, who can testify to the inestimable efficacy of this invaluable compound, and who are willing that their names should be placed before the public, in order to inform those who are afflicted with RHEUMATISM in its various phases, that there is a sovereign remedy in ZOLLICKOFFER'S ANTI RHEUMATIC CORDIAL." Prepared only by THEODORE DILKS, Chemist,
N. E. cor. Fine and Sixth sts., Philadelphia.
This article has been used in this city and vicinity during the past year, by many persons; and with results that fully justify the above recommendation of the manufacturer. A fresh supply just received by

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1861.

The New York World says the white prisoners in Washington jail are as badly if not worse off in accommodation and treatment than the negroes in the same building.

Very likely this is true. The same miscreants who would enslave, imprison, and abuse Uncle Tom, the black man, would naturally treat Uncle Toby, the white man, in the same manner, if they had the same opportunity, and the same temptation to do it.

It may perhaps be understood, one of these days, that the two opposing ideas of liberty and slavery, have little regard to race or color. Many white men of the Northern States, who have for years aided the slave power in riveting the manacles of the blacks, are now sensible that they were thereby forging chains for their own limbs, and strengthening an enemy that now seeks crush out the last vestige of liberty.

Thus in Washington, the jail was not like Northern jails—but like Southern slave jails,—and the jailors to match. Their treatment to black jail birds naturally leads them to treat the white ones in the same way: and they do so, with the single exception that they cannot sell the white man for jail fees, but they do sell the black.

We hope Congress will cut the abuses up by the roots.

HIGH PRICE FOR COTTON.—The Naumkeag Cotton Company of Salem sold one hundred bales of cotton, last week, at the enormous price of thirty cents per pound, cash. This was the highest price yet paid for cotton in this market.

Since the above was written, cotton has been sold in Newburyport for 32 1-2 cents.

Two lots of cotton, comprising about 250 bales, were sold in Providence on Wednesday for thirty-five cents per pound, cash. The sales netted the owners the snug little profit of one hundred dollars per bale.

THE SEIZURE OF MASON AND SLIDELL. The London Times is more moderate in its comments on Mason and Slidell's capture than the News. While denying that the Federal Government, on its own position that the existing war is a mere rebellion, have a right to overhaul neutral ships, it nevertheless admits that England herself has established precedents which may tell against her in this matter of the Trent. In discussing the question whether Mason and Slidell were liable to capture as belligerents or contrabands on board the Trent, the Times states that it is the opinion of very eminent jurists that this was not the question to be adjudicated by the boats' crews. The legal course would have been to take the ship itself into port for adjudication. It concludes with the assertion that Englishmen will discuss the question with calmness, and appeals to the Federal States not to provoke war by such acts.

The London Star has this statement:

"The event has not been unanticipated. The opinion of the law officers of the Crown has been taken upon the subject, and we are assured that it is clearly in favor of the right assumed by the United States Government."

The London Daily News of the 28th says:—

"The remote consequence of the act we shall not attempt to predict. Enough for the present that it is one which will make it the duty of our Government to insist on ample, complete, and immediate satisfaction. Its wanton folly bids us to hope that Lieut. Fairfax was acting without instructions, and that the Washington Cabinet will no sooner learn what has taken place in the Bahama Channel, than it will disavow the act, restore Messrs. Mason and Slidell, and tender the fullest apology."

CONGRESS.—Mr. Wilson offered a resolution of inquiry into the need of sutlers for the volunteer forces, in the Senate, Thursday, and it was passed. This is probably preliminary to a bill abolishing or restricting the office. The bill to promote the efficiency of the navy was passed. In the House a bill was reported, authorizing the raising of a volunteer force for the better defence of Kentucky. After discussing it a while the House proceeded to the consideration of the various propositions involving the question of emancipating persons held as slaves by rebels. This occupied the remainder of the session. Both branches adjourned until Monday.

CHARLESTOWN NAVY YARD.—Seamen are now shipping in good numbers for the naval service. There are about 400 on board the Ohio. Orders are expected from Washington to launch the Virginia. It is thought that the receiving ship Ohio will be fitted for sea and be used for a floating battery down South. She will be iron-clad and mount a number of heavy guns. A number of large cannon are being received at the yard for new gunboats. There is great activity in the different departments, and the 2500 men find plenty of work.

☞ It is known that the rebel Congress did vote to remove from Richmond to Nashville, although afterwards reconsidering the vote, in consequence of the clamors of the Virginians.

THE REBELLION.

Our guns are but ten miles from Savannah, the steeples of which are plainly visible from the decks of our ships as they ride at anchor.

It seems to be understood that in addition to our occupation of Beaufort, Gen. Viele was at once to be sent with a considerable force to occupy the most important points in the new approaches to Savannah; and that another force will go about the same time on a similar errand in the direction of Charleston, to hold certain strategic points.

A U. S. frigate is to be sent to the Mediterranean to protect our commerce. Rates of insurance on vessels trading to the Mediterranean have been increased on account of the absence of our war vessels.

There is no truth in the statement that Gen. McClellan threatened to resign unless the President overruled a portion of Mr. Cameron's report.

The Viceroy of Egypt has given orders that no vessels bearing the rebel flag shall be allowed to enter his ports, and no privateers shall be fitted out or shall take their prizes there.

Johnson, the rebel Provisional Governor of Kentucky, in a message to his Legislative Council, says he will gladly resign his position when Magoffin shall escape from his virtual imprisonment at Frankfort.

The latest report from Price states that he was still at Osceola, and had made a speech, vowing vengeance on Kansas for burning that place.

The man who hauled down the American flag at Lexington after Mulligan's surrender, has been arrested at Sedalia, Mo., as a spy.

The Postmaster at Somerset, Ky., on Wednesday, wrote that they were expecting a battle hourly, the enemy being close upon them, with a force estimated at from 8000 to 15,000. Our force was about 5000.

The indignation of the people of Nashville at the attempt to draft citizens into the army was intense. A riot broke out, and four policemen were shot dead. The mob rushed to the Capitol to attack Gov. Harris, who fled to Memphis. 2500 Louisianians passed through Nashville, Saturday, carrying black flags, embellished with skulls and cross bones. The people of Nashville were constantly expecting intelligence of a battle at Bowling Green. The rebel force was estimated at 25,000, and reinforcements were going forward. There were 8000 to 10,000 rebels in the hospitals at Nashville.

Capt. Rowland, who arrived at New York on Thursday from St. Thomas, asserts that the captain of the Iroquois is to blame for the escape of the Sumter from Port Royal, Martinique, he having refused to give chase, although the Sumter could be plainly seen from the Iroquois, — saying it would be very unpleasant for him to capture her, as Semmes had been his schoolmate and superior officer; also, that he did not want to break the neutrality laws.

A rebel dispatch says twenty-two of the Beaufort Artillery visited Beaufort, "where the utter desolation and abandonment were relieved only by the presence of one light and a barking dog." Their chief object was to destroy the cotton and provisions on Parris Island, "which, being near the enemy, was crowded with negroes who had escaped from their masters. 4000 bales were destroyed.

A Philadelphia paper has a letter from Hilton Head, of the 4th, which says: "Last night the fleet arrived with 25,000 troops. Savannah and Charleston will soon be ours."

☞ A letter has just been received from the relatives of Sigismund Fellner, who was recently murdered in the vicinity of New York. It states that he left home without the knowledge of his family, and had in his possession about $100,000. He leaves a wife and child and a large circle of influential friends. His family feel quite mortified at his conduct while in this country. The relatives offer an additional reward of $3000 for the arrest of the murderer, and also one-half of all the money that may be recovered.

POLICE COURT, Friday.—Thomas Kyley for committing an assault on John Kelly, was sentenced to pay a fine and costs, amounting to $8.86, and put under bonds in $50 to keep the peace.

John E. Hoyt, for breaking window glass in the house of Mr. John Nutter on Water street, was sentenced to pay a fine and costs, amounting to $10.37. George Seaward, John Smart, and Wm. Jenkins, Jr., charged with breaking glass in the same house, were discharged.

☞ A correspondent inquired in Friday's Chronicle, how articles for the Volunteers could be forwarded, with a certainty that they would reach those for whom they were designed. The Committee at the Navy Yard, having in charge the fund raised by the workmen to supply the immediate wants of the Volunteers, are about sending on a large quantity of different articles for the soldiers, and kindly offer to forward anything which private citizens may desire to send. Such articles should be sent to the Navy Yard before Wednesday, Dec. 18th, addressed to the care of Gowen Wilson, Esq., or Francis Bacon, Esq.; and to each article should be attached a card, containing the name of the individual to whom it is to be sent, with the designation of his regiment, &c.

CHASE'S MUSEUM OF ART is coming, and will open at the Temple Monday evening, Dec. 16th, for a short time.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— It was announced that on Saturday, the last day of November, Mr. Sam'l Downing, a New Hampshire soldier of the Revolution, now a resident of Edinburg, N. Y., would celebrate his one hundredth birth day. A nephew of the veteran, Mr. James Downing of Marlow, saw the notice, and started in season to attend the festivities in honor of his uncle, whose whereabouts he had lost sight of for some years past. The people of Edinburg and the neighboring towns, turned out in large numbers — and with cannon, martial music, speeches, toasts, &c., made the day merry and joyful. Among the things done was the felling by his own hands of a large hemlock tree, the planting of another tree near to his residence, and subsequently the felling by the same veteran hands, of a cherry tree. The old hero stood upon the cherry tree which, with the stump and limbs, he sold at Auction. The crowd eagerly seized the limbs in fragments, and carried them home, and the stump even was to be taken away, to be used as the pedestal of some towering flag staff.

—— The City Council of Nashua has appropriated an additional $5000 for the benefit of the families of soldiers. The State refunds whatever sum is expended for this purpose, in accordance with an act of the last Legislature.

—— Capt. Ephraim Weston, of Co.G, 2nd New Hampshire regiment, who returned from the seat of war last fall in feeble health, died last Tuesday at his residence in Hancock. He was commissioner for Hillsborough County.

—— The Claremont Eagle says "the gamey little Black Hawk horse "Surprise," owned by A. & A. B. Atherton, of that town, died a few days ago, after a long illness, commencing soon after his last match at Sullivan Park. He was a very promising young horse and has left some colts that exhibit unmistakable characteristics of blood and style. The loss was somewhat serious to the owners. They paid for him, when a two year old, over $500, and had refused $1000 for half of him."

THE PATENT

FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably supersede all other Hair-Brushes, whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it pronounce it a complete success. It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot by any possibility get out of order, is compact, elegant, durable, and will save twice its own price within three months, by economizing Preparations for the Hair.

THE FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH is guaranteed to effect a Saving of One-half in the use of all hair-washes, oils, &c., as compared with any and every other means of applying them. As some of these articles cost from one to two dollars per bottle, this is a matter of no small moment.

To recapitulate, in brief, the merits of the PATENT FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH:—

It dresses the hair without soiling the fingers; it effects a saving of one-half in the use of hair preparations; it does away with the greasy hair-oil bottle; it is a handsomer article than the common hair brush; it regulates the quantity of fluid used, to a drop; it is perfectly tight, and cannot spill over on the trunk or on the toilet; it carries enough of any preparation to last for a voyage or a long journey; its price is moderate, and it saves its own cost in three months: and finally, no sensible person who uses the PATENT FOUNTAIN BRUSH will ever use any other.

PORTSMOUTH CITY MISSION.

In presenting the twelfth annual report of this Mission, we desire to renew our expressions of gratitude to that Divine Providence which has ever watched over its interests and seconded the labors of its friends. Each revolving year presents us with new and stronger motives for pursuing with increased vigor and devotion the great objects embraced in our work. To rescue the fallen, to elevate the degraded, to sympathize with the afflicted, to comfort the mourner, to relieve the distressed, to afford aid and counsel to the poor and ignorant, and to impart moral and religious instruction to those under our care, has been the great work which we have endeavored at all times to pursue.

The experience of every year impresses us more deeply with the greatness of our work, and with the necessity of increased wisdom, perseverance and piety, in order to prosecute it with success. We have sought not only to relieve the temporal wants of the poor, so far as the means placed at our disposal would permit, but also to impress upon them the claims of religion, and to lead their minds to the contemplation of those great and solemn realities which take hold upon the interests and destinies of the future and spiritual world. To this end we have always urged them to attend some place of religious worship in our city. It is very difficult, however, to break up long-established customs of any kind; and where persons have habitually neglected the house of God, we need not expect that anything short of divine influence will make them regular attendants upon religious worship.

But we have gone forth in this branch of our work with increased hope of success, from the fact that we go to their families, not as the agent of any one church or denomination, but as the representative of a whole Christian community; and it has ever seemed to us, that this plan exhibits more clearly the genius of the gospel, and embraces more fully the true spirit of Christianity, than can possibly be combined in any other method of operation. And here we are happy to say that we do not now recollect a single instance, during the five years we have labored in this field, where our calls have not been received with at least apparent cordiality, and in most cases with warm expressions of gratitude.

Every year strengthens our conviction that the proper management of the poor is one of the most difficult problems in the whole range of political economy; but we have ever found that, when it could be done, the best and most effectual aid was to furnish them with suitable employment, thus enabling them to help themselves. Such a course must necessarily tend to inspire them with a spirit of self-reliance and a determination not to be dependent upon charity alone. In various ways we have succeeded, within the year, in furnishing a large number of individuals with more or less employment. And it is certainly a matter of gratitude, that while the depression of business is so general throughout the country, our own city was never more highly favored with ready employment for our mechanics and laborers.

Still, in a community like ours, there are always persons who, from sickness or other causes, are unable to labor, and must therefore, be provided for, either by public or private charity. Such are demanding our constant care and attention.

The unnatural and wicked rebellion, against which our government is now struggling, has necessarily attracted the attention of our citizens; and, by opening new channels for benevolence, has in a great measure absorbed the resources from which our Mission has heretofore drawn; thus throwing a new obstacle in the way of our success among the poor. And, though we have rejoiced at the liberality of our community in furnishing means for the support of the families of our soldiers, and aid and comfort to those who have gone forth to sustain the government, and to maintain the supremacy, as well as to establish the perpetuity, of our laws,—we have deeply regretted that these causes have so greatly detracted from the usual amount contributed for the relief of the poor among ourselves, reducing it to about one-third of what we received the last year.

Our poor suffer more from the want of fuel, during the severity of the winter, than from any other cause. This cannot be procured without money, and of this they have little if any. It would be a noble act of benevolence, if some individual who has ample means would place at our disposal a few cords of wood, to be distributed among the deserving and suffering poor in our city in the course of the coming winter.

Between twenty and thirty of those under our care have within the last year passed from earth. Some of these, whom we frequently visited in their last sickness, manifested a patient resignation to the divine will, and died in the hope of a better world.

The deceased embraced all ages, from the infant child to the man of three score years and ten. Twelve of these were heads of families. In one case the children left have been taken to the alms-house; in others, they have thus far been provided for, but may need additional aid the coming winter.

The nature of our work, connected as it is with private family matters, forbids our laying its details before the public. For the encouragement, however, of those who might too soon give over a case as hopeless, we would just refer to one instance where, in a family which had long been under our care, we have lately witnessed a very happy transformation.

The father, some months since, sunk into a drunkard's grave, leaving a family of helpless children with their mother, whose habits had become nearly or quite as debased as his own. By the blessing of God, they are now in comfortable circumstances. Those who had never seen the mother till within the last few months, would hardly believe it possible that she ever could have been the victim of intemperance. Referring to what she once was, she remarked to us, a few days since, that no mortal but herself would ever know the crushing weight, the heart-breaking influence, by which she was borne down while living with her drunken husband, with her large family of helpless little ones. For years she had withstood, and suffered, and borne in silence; till hope deferred broke down her spirits, and she sought to drown her sorrows by resorting to the awful remedy of the intoxicating bowl.

Her case is not a solitary one. The wonder rather is, that so many are kept from sinking under the pressure of a drunkard's home. Many a heart-broken wife and her worse than fatherless children have told us within the year their tale of suffering and woe, from the drunkenness of him who but for rum would be a kind father and an affectionate husband.

We are glad to know that our dram shops have been effectually closed upon the Sabbath by order of our city authorities, and thus one fruitful source of drunkenness and immorality has been suppressed. Yet intemperance prevails in our city to an alarming degree, and is no doubt, either directly or indirectly the cause of by far the greater part of our suffering and poverty.

We are sorry to say that we have in our midst a large number of youth of both sexes, who are evidently pursuing a course of life which, if not speedily abandoned, must ultimately result in their own ruin, as well as in the grief and sorrow of their friends.—In this connection we feel it our duty to lift up the voice of solemn warning to parents that, inasmuch as they value their own peace or the character of their children, inasmuch as they would secure their highest good, they should be exceedingly cautious in the selection of companions with whom they permit them to associate.

Several times, within the last few years, we have called the attention of our citizens to the number of persons, particularly children, who are found begging in our streets. There is no necessity for this practice. It is injurious to those engaged in it, and detrimental to the cause of true benevolence. All worthy families and individuals, who will make their situation known, can be cared for in a better way. In the case of children, this practice leads to habits of indolence and falsehood, and is the most direct road to their final ruin. In many instances they are taught to represent distressing cases of want and suffering where nothing of the kind exists. Sometimes they have been known to throw food from their baskets before leaving the yard of the dwelling from which they have received it, and sometimes the articles procured have been known to be bartered for intoxicating drinks.

The parents of such children have often been urged to place them in good families where they would be cared for and educated. But they have declined to do so, apparently for no other reason than an unwillingness to lose the profits of their begging.

Those families who give clothing or broken food to those whom they know to be deserving, are greatly aiding us in our work. But we hope our citizens will universally discourage the practise of street begging, especially where practiced by children.

It is impossible to say how many children have through our influence been gathered into, or kept in Sabbath or day-schools.—Our uniform practice is to encourage and aid all who come under our influence, to keep their children not only at our weekly schools, but also in such Sabbath schools as they may prefer.

Our Mission Sabbath School has been continued throughout the year, and is in a prosperous condition. Our devoted superintendent, Mr. Edward P. Kimball, and the faithful band of teachers from several different denominations, are still prosecuting their labors with unwearied diligence and persevering effort. We have no doubt that this school is exerting a powerful and happy influence, not only upon the children themselves, but also upon the families from which they come. The faithful instruction there received and the valuable books and papers which they take from the school to their homes are, we trust, making impressions upon the minds of both parents and children, which will be conducive of the most happy and lasting results.

Several boys have been sent to the Reform school, others ought to be sent there, and probably would be were it not for the expense which keeping them there would bring upon our city. Hence we see the importance of our Reform school being made a purely State institution.

We have visited the prisoners in our jail as often as we found it consistent with other duties. In these visits we have been accustomed to converse with the inmates so as to learn the leading features in their history and give them such counsel and advice as we deemed suited to their several cases.

We have also continued our visits to the Alms House from time to time, as we had opportunity, and have ever been welcomed to the rooms of the inmates with expressions of gratitude and kindness. Especially has it been so, as we have called upon the sick and infirm, with whom we have frequently conversed and prayed.

We have had within the year our usual amount of travelling beggars. Many of these have no doubt been the inmates of some alms-house, while others seem to have selected travelling and begging as a regular profession. We have kept no account of the number of those we have fed or otherwise assisted, but think it cannot be less than one hundred.

In some instances persons calling late at night, particularly if young lads or females, have been furnished with lodgings and breakfast, and sent on their way in the morning. But in most cases we have sent such to the station house, where they have been lodged and fed by the city authorities.

In one instance a boy some 15 or 16 years old, who called upon us for lodgings, told us that he had been travelling about the country for more than four years, never having been more than a month at a time in any one locality. We furnished him with a pair of second-hand boots, gave him such counsel as we thought suited to his circumstances, and the next morning he started again on his pilgrimage.

Several transient persons who called upon us for aid, proved themselves to be impostors. The most striking case of this character was that of the "mysterious woman," whose fabulous story was published in several newspapers. Of the two children whom she brought with her, the youngest, an interesting girl eight years of age, was adopted into the family of one of our citizens. The other, a boy of ten years, after remaining with us some three weeks, was taken by his father to his home in Manchester.

Quite a number of families have come to our city within the year, for the professed purpose of obtaining employment, asking for aid to establish themselves here. From the experience of past years, we have found it necessary, in such cases, to act with great caution, until we could inform ourselves of their character and antecedents.

Many persons have called, soliciting aid to reach their homes and friends in distant towns or cities. Where we have been able to satisfy ourselves that such were not impostors, we have done what we could to pass them on their way. It is difficult, however, to guard ourselves against deception in this matter. Nor is it anything unusual to receive a second call from the same person, whose anxiety to reach a beloved home, which he had not seen for years, has not one jot abated by the intervention of several weeks or months.

We have done what was in our power for the benefit of seamen who have visited our port within the year. Eight U. S. ships have been visited, including those that have left and those that have arrived at this station. We have conversed freely with both officers and crews of these ships; and those that were leaving our port were supplied with such reading matter as we were able to procure.

The U. S. frigate Macedonian and two new merchant ships were supplied by us with Bibles and Testaments, from our city Bible Society. We also supplied the U. S. ships Marion and Dale each with fifty Bibles and fifty Testaments, from the American Bible Society, New York.

We were much interested in the crews of the U. S. ships Portsmouth and Constellation, which have recently arrived at this naval station. Quite a number of the men were consistent and devoted Christians, who had maintained religious worship on shipboard during their whole cruise of more than two years. We have had a call at our house from nine of these Christian seamen at one time, representing eight different nations, and were surprised and delighted in finding them such enlightened and intelligent Christians.

While the Second Regiment of New Hampshire Volunteers were located in this city, we labored as we were able for their comfort and improvement. We addressed them several times on the field upon the Sabbath, and distributed among them a large number of tracts and valuable books, contributed by several benevolent individuals in our city. These books were gladly received, and we have no doubt were read with interest and profit. We also distributed among the regiment six hundred and thirty-seven copies of the pocket edition of the New Testament and Psalms, bound together, furnished by the N.H. Bible Society. The company raised in this city were supplied with one hundred and ten copies of the New Testament, furnished by our city Bible Society.

We cannot close this report without expressing our renewed obligations to our city government, as a whole, for their ready co-operation in the great objects of our Mission; especially is this true of our worthy Mayor and the Board of Overseers of the Poor. With this last-named branch of our city government we are brought into almost daily contact, and have ever found them ready to render the most prompt relief in any case of suffering or want which we have brought to their notice.

The Ladies' General Charitable Society have this year acted more directly through the Mission than ever before. From some mistake, their collections were not taken up in every district, but their committees collected $67.39. This amount was expended as follows: for shoes, $28.85; for dry goods, $21.73; and for the poor in various other ways, $16.82.

The Humane Society have also been active as ever during the past year. Their subscriptions amounted to $96,—and the number of garments which they were thus enabled to make and distribute was about 200.

Something, too, has been done in aid of the poor, by the North Parish Relief Club.

The ladies of the South Parish have also a very efficient Donative Missionary Society, whose funds are mainly appropriated for the support of this Mission.

The number of orders issued by the Howard Benevolent Society this year has amounted to six hundred. Many a family, from year to year, is thus made to enjoy the benefit of their persevering and truly Christian philanthropy.

We have endeavored to keep ourselves informed of the doings of all these benevolent organizations, that we might act together understandingly and harmoniously; and in the case of each we have found the most ready and cordial disposition to aid us in our work. We have also been very materially aided by a number of benevolent individuals who, in different parts of our city, have visited among the poor, and contributed to their relief.

A benevolent gentleman of this city has for several years furnished us annually with from one to two barrels of excellent hard bread, with which we have been able to assist a number of deserving families. Several merchants also have contributed dry goods or other articles, which have proved a great help to us.

There is of necessity much in the labors of a City Missionary which can never be presented to the public. His work, quiet and unobtrusive though it be, is still of sufficient magnitude to tax his utmost energies. After doing all that he can, he still sees much remaining undone, which he would gladly do, for the welfare of those committed to his care—much, too, which he hopes yet to accomplish, through the continued co-operation of a benevolent public.

Our statistics for the present year are as follows:

Visits to the alms-house,	26
" " prisons,	30
" " sick,	226
Whole number of visits in the city,	2045
Funeral services,	29
Children furnished with homes,	25
Strangers assisted to reach their homes,	65
Garments distributed,	1000
Bibles distributed,	160
Testaments distributed,	980
Persons furnished in various ways with employment,	154

The following is our cash account:

Received from various sources,	$110.50
Expended for the benefit of the poor—
For groceries and food,	$45.50
For shoes and dry goods,	32.00
For the sick,	15.00
For Mission Sabbath School,	8.00
For seamen,	9.00
For strangers,	3.75
	113.25
Balance due,	$2.75

And now permit us to express the hope that, amid the numerous objects which appeal to the sympathies of the benevolent, the claims of the poor in our midst will not be forgotten. Particularly would we be grateful for donations of second-hand clothing, which are often as good as money—and to those who receive them are sometimes even better than anything which they would be obliged to cut and make for themselves.

Those who have thus favored us in time past, with all who have in any way assisted us in our work, may be assured that they have our heartfelt gratitude. This is a work to which an angel might aspire; and though it may be of little value in the eyes of the world, yet it is of infinite value in the sight of that Saviour, whose character has been drawn by the pen of inspiration in a single line,—"He went about doing good."

N. MEDBERY, City Missionary.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS.

Are you sick, feeble, and complaining? Are you out of order, when your system or stomach, and your feelings generally, demand a change? Do you require to be stimulated, purified, invigorated? Are you a sufferer from the effects of previous indiscretion or exposure? Have you symptoms of your disease coming upon you, and should be averted by timely use of the right remedy? Take Ayer's Pills, and cleanse out the disordered humors—purify the blood and let the fluids move on unobstructed in health again. They stimulate the functions of the body into vigorous activity, purify the system from the obstructions which make disease. A cold settles somewhere in the body, and obstructs its natural functions. These, if not relieved, react upon themselves and the surrounding organs, producing general aggravation, suffering, and disease. While in this condition, oppressed by the derangements, take Ayer's Pills, and see how directly they restore the natural action of the system, and with it the buoyant feeling of health again. What is true and so apparent in this trivial and common complaint, is also true in many of the deep-seated and dangerous distempers. The same purgative effect expels them. Cannot by similar obstructions and derangements of the natural functions of the body, they are rapidly, and many of them surely, cured by the same means. None who know the virtues of these Pills will neglect to employ them when suffering from the disorders they cure.

Statements from leading physicians in some of the principal cities, and from other well known public persons.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 1, 1858.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples upon her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

ASA MORGRIDGE.

As a Family Physic.

From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, New Orleans.

Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach

From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore.

DEAR SIR, AYER: I cannot answer you what complaint I have cured with your Pills better than to say all find a ready and certain purgative medicine. I place great dependence on an effectual cathartic in my daily contest with disease, and believing as I do that your Pills afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body ever knew by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach which they cleanse at once.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PRESLEY,
Clerk of Steamer Cherokee

Bilious Disorders—Liver Complaints.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more effectual for the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I am acquainted with. I sincerely rejoice that we have at length a purgative which may merit the confidence of the profession and the people.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
Washington, D. C., 7th Feb., 1856.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quite decided, and consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that did not yield to a dose or two of them. Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital

Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Relax, Worms.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

Your Pills have had a long trial at my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses, for bilious dysentery and diarrhœa. Their sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children.

Dyspepsia, Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in this town. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood, they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends.

WAKEFIELD, Wyoming Co., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountain of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

From Dr. J. P. Tuttle, Hunterdon, Canada.

Too much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. If others of our fraternity have found them as effectual as I have, they should join me in proclaiming it for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the progenitor of others that are worse. I believe costiveness to originate in the liver, but your Pills affect that organ and cure the disease.

From Mrs. E. Stuart, Physician and Midwife, Boston.

I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent promotives of the natural secretion when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawkes, of the Methodist Episc. Church

PULASKI HOUSE, Savannah, Ga., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my bones and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until to relieve pain I took excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie. I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them, I am now well and hearty.

SENATE CHAMBER, Baton Rouge, La., 5 P. M., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured, by your Pills, of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that has afflicted me for years.

VINCENT SIBLEY.

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its injudicious use. Ayer's Pills are entirely free from any mineral substance whatever.

☞ 25 cents per Box, or 5 Boxes for $1.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but there are many inventors who come to him for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has important reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relating to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to afford superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is soon pending. Such unmistakeable evidence of great skill and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

HOUSE FURNISHING ESTABLISHMENT,

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,

Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster, or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and tin jackets are provided for the back and bottom plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves,.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

ZOLLICKOFFER'S
A PREPARATION FOR THE CURE OF
INFLAMMATORY AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM, AND RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIC RHEUMATISM, SCIATICA AND LUMBAGO.
Of all the diseases incident to the human family, there is none, perhaps, which occasions so much intense suffering and physical disability, and none that appears to elicit so little commiseration and sympathy as RHEUMATISM in its various modifications. Medical writers, and the faculty in general, have entertained different views as to the cause of this painful malady, and hence the variety of compounds of one kind or other which have been presented to the public as curatives.
Rheumatism, as well as Gout (which latter is but a more aggravated form of what is commonly understood as Rheumatism), would seem to result from a peculiar diathesis or inflammatory condition of the system, originating in a diseased state of the blood. It usually affects the larger joints, as the ankle, knee, elbow, shoulders, &c, and manifests itself in Neuralgic pains, Sciatica, Lumbago, and other forms of this character.
Sometimes, through negligence, or the inadequacy of the remedies applied, it assumes a decided inflammatory feature, and then often becomes a constitutional affection, permeating every muscle, and exposing the surface to a most painful sensitiveness to every change in the weather; thus seeming to preclude all prospect of a restoration to health.
The almost exclusive and indiscriminate use of external applications, such as fomentations, stimulating embrocations, blistering and warming plasters, bleeding, cupping, and leeching, have in most cases proved ineffectual, merely transmuting the disease from one part of the system to another. The ANTI-RHEUMATIC CORDIAL, on the contrary, is altogether an internal remedy, and is intended to strike at the root of the disease. It is a new and original preparation, invented by the subscriber, and he can therefore recommend it as perfectly safe, as well as efficient, being wholly free from any deleterious substance whatever
It is not pretended, however, that this Cordial will cure every reputed case of Rheumatism that may be presented, although the results have hitherto been such as would justify every one afflicted by it in making the trial; and where even the most remote benefit is discoverable, it may then be fairly inferred that, other things being equal, providing the directions be steadily and persevering-ly adhered to, both as to the time of taking it, and the quantity used.
It is a singular fact, that advanced age appears to be equally as susceptible to the benefits derivable from its use as youth, or those in the meridian of life. We have a number of instances of persons ranging from sixty to upwards of eighty, who, having been many years the subjects of Rheumatism, in one or other of its varied forms, have by using a few bottles been completely restored—their whole system invigorated, and, as a matter of course, their general health greatly improved. We have rarely known a return of the disease after it has been subdued by the use of this Cordial, even though the patient may have been exposed to the vicissitudes of wet weather; when, however, there have been any slight indications of "the old complaint," a few doses have produced the most happy effect.
The subscriber can furnish a long array of names of the most prominent and influential citizens, who can testify to the inestimable efficacy of this invaluable compound; and who are willing that their names should be placed before the public, in order to inform those who are afflicted with RHEUMATISM in its various phases, that there is a sovereign remedy in "ZOLLICKOFFER'S ANTI RHEUMATIC CORDIAL." Prepared only by THEODORE DILKS, Chemist,
N. E. cor. Pine and Sixth sts., Philadelphia
This article has been used in this city and vicinity during the past year, by many persons; and with results that fully justify the above recommendation of the manufacturer. A fresh supply just received by

MONDAY, DECEMBER 16, 1861.

COLORED TROOPS AT NEW ORLEANS.—A New Orleans dispatch says Governor Moore and Generals Lovell and Ruggles, on the 24th ult., reviewed 28,000 troops, including 14,000 free colored men.

Half the New Orleans army negroes!—Negroes fought there under Jackson, and in his document of thanks to them, he speaks of them as fellow-citizens.

They fought in the revolution, and many of them were citizens, notwithstanding Judge Taney's modern judicial lie.

Are our Solons and Solomons, in the U. S. Government afraid to use this lever, lest they offend the rump of the slave power?

By the way, Uncle Toby does not believe there were half so many troops reviewed at New Orleans as this item says:—and certainly there could not be so many colored men.

In 1850, the whole free colored population of Louisana was about 17,000: it might have risen to 20,000 in 1860; but probably it did not, as a severe law was passed there about five years ago, compelling free negroes to find masters or be sold at auction under certain rules.

If there had been 20,000 men, women, and children, it is certain that 14,000 soldiers could not be found in the 20 thousand.—Five thousand would be a very large proportion.

It is much more likely to be 1400, or 4000 negroes, and these a mixture of slaves and free.

THE ALLEGED TRAITOR IN THE IROQUOIS.—We have already published a brief item stating, on the authority of Capt. Rowland, from St. Thomas, that the captain of the Iroquois is entirely to blame for the escape of the pirate Sumter from Port Royal, Martinique.

His statement is, that a man was sent ashore at Port Royal from the Iroquois to signalize the movements of the Sumter, and on the night of the 23d he made signals that she was leaving the harbor, but no notice was taken of them by the captain of the Iroquois. His 1st Lieutenant tried to persuade him to give chase, which could easily have been done and the pirate captured, as she draws a foot more of water than the Iroquois; but he would not hear to it, saying it would be very unpleasant for him to capture her, as he and Semmes had been schoolmates, and Semmes was his former superior officer; also that he did not want to break the neutrality laws.

The movements of the Sumter were plainly seen from the deck of the Iroquis, the former taking a southerly course.—The captain of the Iroquois, then gave orders to proceed to St. Thomas, not having made the least effort to capture the pirate after having been lying off the port several days for that sole purpose. On these facts becoming known at St. Thomas, great indignation prevailed among Americans in port and others friendly to the United States.

The Boston Traveller remarks:—

"If the same commander is in the Iroquois, at the present time, who was in charge of her early last summer, we have no doubt he is a traitor, as he is charged with being in the telegraphic news to-day. Several shipmasters who were cognizant of his movements months ago, charged him with connivance with the privateers and vessels running the blockade."

P. S.—The Bermuda Royal Gazette, of the 3d, says:—"On the 25th the Iroquois astonished the St. Thomas folks, by dropping into the harbor and reporting that on a dark and squally night the Sumter had escaped through the fingers of the Dacotah and Iroquois. The escape is variously accounted for. One account says a French war steamer came out of St. Pierre during the night, and the Iroquois gave chase; when daylight came the mistake was discovered, but the Sumter had escaped."

PERSONAL.—The Havre journals state that Gen. Scott, who arrived at that port in the Arago steamer, was, on landing, honored by quite an ovation improvised by officers of the American merchantmen lying in that port. On leaving the vessel, the General had to pass under an immense American flag held by several officers.

English papers announce that Mr. Cobden is precluded from public speaking by bronchial disease. And Kossuth is very ill with consumption.

It is rumored that Gen. McClellan resents the attempt of Congress to inquire into the conduct of the war, as if it implied censure upon him.

A delegation of the officers of the regiments composing the Irish Brigade, have waited on the President and presented a petition, signed by every officer, requesting the appointment of Col. Thomas Francis Meagher as Brigadier General.

The Indian delegates on Tuesday visited the camps in Virginia, and witnessed division drills and reviews. They expressed their astonishment and delight at the military power of the Government and their opinion of the statements of rebel commissioners, by saying, "Albert—Pike—lies."

THE REBELLION.

Hon. Caleb Cushing has written a letter at the request of Mayor Wood of New York, which fully sustains the act of Captain Wilkes, in seizing Slidell and Mason, on board the British steamer Trent. He discusses the case in all its aspects, and shows that the act was perfectly justifiable according to international law. It exhibits great research, and the argument is maintained by the characteristic logical power and acuteness of its learned and distinguished author.

It is freely stated that there are large numbers of letters of marque in New York, issued by the Mexican government, to pray upon the commerce of England, France and Spain, and that vessels are fitting out there. The above should be taken with due allowance.

Passengers from England by the steamer Hansa report that the privateer Nashville was in bad condition. Her hull was much shattered, her rigging torn, and machinery out of order. Application was made to the Dock Company at Southampton to have her repaired; but it failed, as they did not wish to take their pay in Confederate bonds. Her crew numbers eighty, most of whom are said to be small boys.

Washington dispatches state that the European news by the Hansa creates little excitement in Washington.

Wm. H. Johnson, a private in the Lincoln cavalry, was executed at Washington on Friday, in the presence of 7000 soldiers, for desertion. Supposing himself to be in the presence of a party of the enemy, he expressed joy that he had made his escape. The officer in command had a private conversation with him, when he freely and anxiously gave such information as would have been of great importance to the rebels. This is the first execution in the army of the Potomac since the commencement of the rebellion.

The rebel Congress has passed a bill admitting Kentucky into the Southern Confederacy; and a bill has been introduced, prohibiting the importation of negroes from Africa. The report of the superseding of Price by Gen. Heath is denied. The Governor of Mississippi has made a call upon the inhabitants for arms.

It has been strongly reported at Halifax that Breckinridge and Hunter applied for a passage by the Canada, but were refused, in consequence of a telegram from Sec. Cameron, warning the agents of the Canada line against carrying rebels. Mr. Cameron emphatically contradicts the report.

There was a serious fire in Charleston, S. C., on Wednesday night, and there are conflicting accounts of its origin. A dispatch from Charleston to the Norfolk Day Book says it is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary: a special dispatch to the N. Y. Tribune, from Fortress Monroe, says it was set by negroes. At 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon, the fire was still raging. The Round Church, the Mills House, the theatre on Broad street, the Institute and other public buildings were destroyed. Assistance was sent for from Augusta, Ga. Rumors were rife in Baltimore, on Saturday, of a negro insurrection in Charleston, but nothing definite could be ascertained.

The Tribune's dispatch says of the Charleston fire:—"Nearly all of that city from Broad street on South-east Bay, on East and King street, and on West, is said to be destroyed. Extra trains left Augusta with supplies for the sufferers, thousands of whom roamed the streets." Another report says "it broke out in a sash factory, and engines were sent from Savannah, Columbia and Augusta, to subdue it, but arrived too late to stay the conflagration."

Col. Brown's official report of the fight at Fort Pickens gives nothing additional, excepting the fact that he considers it useless for vessels to be armed with other than rifled guns, and speaks in the highest commendation of his Parrott pieces.

The captain of the sch. Perry, from Havana, 1st inst., reports that a rebel schooner had arrived there from New Orleans, and steamer City of Baltimore, when leaving Havana, dipped the American flag to the rebel rag flying from the schooner.

Gen. R. H. Mulroy has driven the last army out of Virginia. The Union troops, under Gen. Mulroy, and the rebels, under Gen. Johnson of Ga., fought at Alleghany Camp, Pocahontas, Va., on Friday, from daylight until 3 o'clock P. M. After driving the rebels into their barracks five times, our forces retired in good order. The rebels set fire to their camp and retreated to Stanton. Our loss was 30; the rebel loss was 200, including one major and many other officers, and 30 prisoners. Johnston was shot in the mouth, but not fatally.

☞ One of the officers at Fort Pickens, says, in a letter dated Nov. 25th:—

"By attacking Bragg at this time, we think we have made an important diversion in favor of Gen. Sherman at Beaufort, not only by preventing Bragg from sending troops there, (he has sent some) but by compelling him to bring others here; he was also daily strengthening his batteries. We have very effectually weakened him for some time to come, and have compelled him to expend a vast amount of ammunition which he can ill afford to lose."

☞ The Montreal Commercial Advertiser says "it is understood that some vessels of the Confederate fleet, lately purchased in England, will sail for the China and Japan seas to take possession of a small island there, which was acquired by the United States a few years ago, as a coaling and store station. The Island will be strongly fortified, and converted into a naval depot, from which the Confederate navy will operate against the U. S. commerce, and to which its prizes will be conveyed, and where they and their cargoes will be disposed of to vessels bringing coal, provisions and other necessaries for the Confederates. There is now but one small vessel carrying the U. S. flag on the China station."

☞ The Boston Recorder of Dec. 12, contains a letter from Rev. Nathaniel S. Folsom, giving up his license as an orthodox minister, to the Essex North Association, who gave him their license last August. Mr. F. offers his reasons for placing himself again and finally, among "liberal christians,"—the chief reason being, that he could not affirm the absolute deity of Jesus, nor some other doctrines of orthodoxy, because he does not deem them scriptural nor reasonable. The Recorder, editorially, considers his reasons too slight for the change. Mr. Folsom's letter is written in his characteristic, kind and fraternal spirit, and is as frank as honesty can make it. He desires a pastorship and will doubtless find one with a people to whom he may preach Christ and him crucified, the wisdom and power of God, freely and without restriction.

☞ The Newark (N. J.) Daily Evening Journal has been considerably enlarged, furnished with new type, and, with other improvements, is now one of the handsomest of the Daily papers. Edward N. Fuller, Esq., formerly of the Gazette of this city, is publisher; and all New Hampshire people, as well as most in New Jersey by this time, know that he can make as good a paper as "any other man," and never spares any pains to do it. Success to him, and to his new "organ of the Union Democratic sentiment," so far as it proves such.

FIRES IN PROVIDENCE.—On Wednesday evening, a house in Providence took fire in the upper tenement, being communicated by a child lighting a match.—The tenement was occupied by Ann Conly, wife of Patrick Conly, who is with the Third regiment, and her two children, one about three years of age and the other about three months. The two children perished, and the mother was badly burned. Her right arms and lower limbs were completely blistered. She was sick and unable to do much towards saving her children or herself.

The same evening two wooden factories, together with two outbuildings connected with them, were burned to the ground.—The buildings were occupied, one a woolen mill, for the manufacture of satinets; the other, a cotton mill, for the manufacture of yarn and braided goods. The loss of the proprietors may amount to $30,000 on the buildings and machinery. Insured for about $9,000. Several persons who were at work in the upper story of the cotton mill, barely escaped uninjured.

☞ Sir Robert Peel, Chief Secretary for Ireland, has made an extensive tour through that country, carefully examining into the condition of the people, and states as the result of his observations that the rumors of a famine have been greatly exaggerated. While there has been a comparative failure of the potato crop, and food will be dear, there is by no means a famine.

☞ J. N. Stearns & Co., New York, publishers of Merry's Museum and Parley's Magazine, have just issued "Robert Merry's New Book of Puzzles"—a capital book to enable "the children" to pass the long winter evenings pleasantly. Price 25 cents.

☞ Rev. George Gordon, President of Iberia College, Ohio, has been convicted of resisting a United States Marshal in an attempt to capture a fugitive slave, and sentenced to imprisonment for six months, and payment of a fine and costs of prosecution, amounting to $1500.

☞ The Salem Register chronicles the death of Capt. Samuel W. Cook, the oldest of the sea captains of that place, in his 93d year. His wife survives him in the 87th year of her age, the two having lived in wedlock sixty-one years.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the Springfield Republican says it is a fact that knavery never before flourished as it does at the present time in Washington.—It prospers in high places as well as low.

☞ A firm in New York have got out a new style of gas shade, so arranged by means of mica protectors that carte-de-visites may be inserted or changed at pleasure.

☞ The captain of the steamer Bermuda, which has been running the blockade into Charleston with arms and munitions of war, is said to belong in Skowhegan, Me. His name is Cassier.

nov20 JOHN SISE, 5 MARKET SQ.

Local.

☞ It should be remembered that Rev. J. C. Fletcher delivers the second lecture of his course, this evening at Hanover street Chapel. His lecture last Monday evening, was largely attended and so favorably received, that a large audience will, undoubtedly, welcome him to-night; and there is every reason to believe that he will interest his hearers as deeply as he did then.

For the Chronicle.

While on a visit to Newburyport during the past week, we chanced to attend an exhibition which was then open at the City Hall in that place, and learning that they are to open at the Temple in this city this evening, Dec. 16th, we wish to say a word in favor of the entertainment. We refer to Chase's Great Museum of Art. It is not a panorama; every view is animated by thousands of moving figures, representing men, women, children, horses, carriages, &c. Indeed we were almost led to believe that we were actually promenading the crowded thoroughfares of the city of Venice, so truthfully were they there represented. We advise all your readers to visit the exhibition at the Temple, and listen to the soul inspiring and patriotic songs by Mr. H. Webster Canterbury, and our word for it they will be satisfied. AN ADMIRER.

☞ The young men of Kittery have made arrangements for a course of lyceum lectures, to be delivered in Armory Hall,—and the introductory lecture will be delivered on some evening this week.

HANDSOME CORN.—Mr. Jonathan Roberts, of this city, has raised a large quantity of very fair and uniform Snapping Corn, and has it all traced and hung up at his residence, Christian Shore. It is a beautiful sight. Very many of the stalks bore four full ears, and a few even as many as seven. The contents of one of the seven-eared stalks, when popped, was six quarts. The area planted was thought to be about an acre, and the yield is estimated at sixty bushels or more. It sells for more than three times as much as common varieties. It is of a pale yellow color, and wonderfully uniform in size and tint. We hope he may always raise as fine a crop,—and furnish us as good a sample. Blaisdell has supplied us with a popper, and we are "going into it," or rather the corn is.

PORK.—Mr. Uriah Blaisdell, of this city, last week had a couple of hogs dressed, at his premises Christian Shore, sixteen months old, which weigh together 1047 lbs., (one about forty pounds more than the other,) and are very handsome pork—and judging from our spare-rib, are of a flavor to tempt a Jew.

MAINE ITEMS.—For Col. Dow's Regiment 1300 men have been enrolled, 200 of whom will be transferred to other regiments.

A letter was received at the Lewiston office a few days since with the following superscription:—"Mager william p frye justis of peas & aid of decamp into general virgins starve lewiston, andrew scoggin co maine." The above is said to have emanated from an ambitious Corporal named Korkram, desirous of flattering his patron with a multiplicity of titles.

☞ The Wheeling Intelligencer has the following information of the retreat of Gen. Floyd from Cotton Mountain:—

"At Fayette the inhabitants told our boys the whole rebel army was drunk. Floyd being the tightest of the lot—and escaping but an hour before the arrival of our troops. His body guard consisting of six men, had him placed in his carriage, the main body of his army being some hours in advance."

☞ The rebels thought they were doing a smart thing in sending Albert Pike, the renegade Yankee, to lie to the Indians and seduce them into hostility to the Government. But Indian aid is likely to prove a boomerang, and to fly back upon the heads of those who have used it unskilfully in a bad cause. The Indians are finding out that they have been cheated.

☞ The London Star of Nov. 26th says a numerous party of loyal Americans met on Monday in St. James street, London, to celebrate by a dinner the victory at Port Royal. The company heartily approved that Gen. Scott should be entertained at a banquet in London.

☞ The Governor of Arkansas intimates very strongly that the foreign-born citizens of that State were unwilling to fight against the Union, and he proposes that a regiment of Germans and one of Irish shall be immediately raised, to test the fact.

☞ A daughter of one of the volunteers now at Port Royal, named McCune, committed suicide at Woodstock, Conn., on the 9th inst., by shooting herself with a pistol. Grief at the absence of her father was the cause.

☞ The Charleston Mercury says the sale of trunks in that city was unusually brisk. Frightened traders were packing up their goods and sending them to the interior in large quantities, until Gen. Lee put a stop to their unmanly doings.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

——Capt. A. B. Thompson of Concord, of the Eighteenth U. S. Infantry, is now in service in Kentucky, with the first battalion of his regiment. He writes that Gen. Buell's army now numbers more than 75,000 men.

—— The Statesman says it is reported that "a gentleman in Manchester made a good thing out of the recent management of the Department of the West. He bought a lot of old muskets at a low figure, had them rifled, and carefully groomed up, and sold them to the quartermaster at St. Louis for a good round profit. People mention the gain by this operation at between sixty and eighty thousand dollars. This was prior to Gen. Halleck's administration."

—— The recruiting service for the various States has been placed under the charge of Military Superintendents, and the Superintendent for New Hampshire is Lieut. Col. SETH EASTMAN, of the First Infantry, and the depot assigned for the collection and instruction of recruits is to be at Concord.

—— Rev. Wm. Clark, Secretary of the N. H. Missionary Society, who has been on a tour of eight weeks, visiting churches in the northern part of the State, writes to the Congregational Journal that he finds the people in nearly every town bestirring themselves to furnish various kinds of clothing for our soldiers, especially stockings and mittens. He says: "The ladies, always foremost in every good work, are the principal actors in this timely and most necessary movement. They spin the wool, furnished by the healthy sheep of these mountain pastures, into strong, substantial yarn, made expressly for the purpose; color it in their own domestic methods, and then knit it into warm, durable stockings and mittens, running the heels of the former in true New England woman's style."

—— It will be fifty years next January since the "Concord Female Charitable Society" was formed, and preparations are making for its celebration as the year of Jubilee. The festive gathering will be held in the City Hall; and the usual discourse will be given in the North Church. The meetings of this ancient Society alternate between the North and South Churches.

ELEGANT PICTURES.—MR. A. ADAMS travelling agent for Mr. J. H. Bufford, the well-known lithographist of Boston, is at present in Portsmouth and vicinity, furnishing copies of a magnificent, life-size, lithographic picture of Lieut. Gen. WINFIELD SCOTT. It is superbly executed, by Fabronius of New York, one of the very first artists in the country, and it is difficult to look upon it and not buy it. Gen. Scott, in a letter to Mr. Bufford, written just before he sailed for Europe, said:—"we think it an admirable work of art, and, as a daughter thinks, an excellent likeness." The picture is sold for a dollar only, and a fac-simile of Gen. Scott's letter is given to each purchaser.

Mr. Adams has also another fine large picture—"Our Generals,"— and a large number of Photographs of Generals and others, which are among the best we have ever seen.

THE PATENT
FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably supersede all other Hair-Brushes, whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it pronounce it a complete success. It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot by any possibility get out of order, is compact, elegant, durable, and will save twice its own price within three months, by economizing Preparations for the Hair.

THE FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH is guaranteed to effect a saving of one-half in the use of hair preparations; it does away with the greasy hair-oil bottles; it is a handsomer article than the common hair brush; it regulates the quantity of fluid used, to a drop; it is perfectly tight, and cannot spill over on the trunk or on the toilet; it carries enough of any preparation to last for a voyage or a long journey; its price is moderate, and it saves its own cost in three months; and finally, no sensible person who uses the PATENT FOUNTAIN BRUSH will ever use any other.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS.

Are you sick, feeble, and complaining? Are you out of order, with your system enfeebled, and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the precursors of serious illness. Some ill or sickness is creeping upon you, and should be arrested by timely use of the right remedy. Take Ayer's Pills, and cleanse out the disordered humors—purify the blood and let the fluids move on unobstructed in health, again. Let them stimulate the functions of the body into vigorous activity, purify the system from the obstructions which make disease. A cold settles somewhere in the body, and obstructs its natural functions. There, if not relieved, react upon themselves and the surrounding organs, producing general aggravation, suffering, and disease. While in this condition, opposed by the derangements, take Ayer's Pills, and see how directly they restore the natural action of the system, and with it the buoyant feeling of health again. What is true and so apparent in this trivial and common complaint, is also true in many of the deep-seated and dangerous distempers. The same purgative effect expels them. Caused by similar obstructions and derangements of the natural functions of the body, they are rapidly, and many of them surely, cured by the same means. None who know the virtues of these Pills, will neglect to employ them when suffering from the disorders they cure.

Testimonials from leading physicians in some of the principal cities, and from other well known public persons.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of eleven sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

ASA MORGRIDGE.

As a Family Physic.

From Dr. E. W. Carbonight, New Orleans.

Your Pills are the prince of purgatives. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore.

DEAR DOC. AYER: I cannot answer you other complaint. I have cured with your Pills better than to say that we never trust with a purgative medicine. I place great reliance on an effectual cathartic in my daily contest with disease, and believing as I do that your Pills afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 3, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach which they cleanse at once.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREBLE,
Clerk of Steamer Clarion

Bilious Disorders—Liver Complaints.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more effectual for the cure of bilious fevers than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely rejoice that we have at length a purgative which we may fully the confidence of the profession and the people. 37

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, }
Washington, D. C., 7th Feb., 1856. }

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not yield to them.

Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital

Dysentery, Diarrhœa, Relax, Worms.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I could them in season as one of the best purgatives I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses to bilious dysentery and diarrhœa. Their purgative energy makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children.

Dyspepsia, Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in sickness. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood, they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. YOURS, J. V HIMES.

WEBSAW, Wyoming Co., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

From Dr. J. P. Temple, Montreal, Canada.

Too much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. If others of our fraternity have found them as efficacious as I have, they should join me in proclaiming it for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the progenitor of others that are worse. I believe our Secretary is originate in the liver, but your Pills affect that organ and cure the disease.

From Mrs. E. Stuart, Physician and Midwife, Boston.

I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent promotives of the natural secretion when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual to cleanse the stomach and bowels, when they are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients.

From the Rev. Dr. Bonsilla, of the Methodist Episc. Church

PULASKI HOUSE, Savannah, Ga., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the great your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. I could scarcely get my husband brought on excessively painful pains, which had resisted all other treatment. Nevertheless I tried your Pills. The disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. MacKenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering, as the user of them, I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, Baton Rouge, La., 5 Jan. 1856.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured, by your Pills, of a Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that has afflicted me for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These pills contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever. ☞

Price, 25 cents per Box, or 5 Boxes for $1.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it Inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the probability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides a large private library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse"

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

HOUSE FURNISHING ESTABLISHMENT,

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,

Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster, or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which reaches no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and all jackets are provided for the back and bottom plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves,.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

PREVENTING CROUP.

Messrs. Editors:—I noticed an article in the Chronicle on Croup, which suggested the thought that it would be better to prevent it; as "prevention is better than cure."

First, clothe the children warmly, from head to foot; 2nd, do not put them into a cold bed and cold chamber as some would advise; 3d, after they are in, fasten the clothing down by a spread having long and large loops attached to it, and the other end of the loops wound round some knobs such as are used for bureau drawers, attached to the sides of bedstead: two on each side and one on the foot, will do very well for a small bedstead; 4th, keep the children warm and dry both night and day, particularly the neck and chest, and if they should got a bad cold, attend to it effectually in season; by giving pennyroyal tea in sufficient quantities, and wrapping in warm flannel; 5th, if there should accumulate phlegm in the throat that a child cannot remove, give an emetic sufficient to start it.

These suggestions may appear common but they are none the less important, and if attended to effectually and in season may not only prevent severe sickness and croup, but save the lives of many children. B.

☞ On Friday a deputy sheriff was asked by a Mr. Goodwin to arrest his daughter, who had left her home and was residing in a house in Andover, Ms., owned by E. W. Upton, Esq. The officer accordingly, proceeded to the house about noon and found the girl with another in bed. The house had been occupied by Mr. Upton and family during the Summer, and when he left a few week ago, was in perfect order. The house had been entered by a back window. The furniture had been removed from room to room; matches, molasses, flour, clothing, crockery, etc., were scattered about from garret to cellar. The room where the girls were found, had in it several sofas and chairs belonging to other rooms, as if a large company had been entertained there. They stated that they had been there two or three days, and that they found the house in the same disorder as it then was.

The Fall River News states that on Wednesday, as Capt Nathaniel P. Gray was setting some iron bolts in a curbstone, for the purpose of constructing a fence, he attempted to pour some melted lead around the bolt, when, in consequence of the dampness of the stone, the lead flew into his face and eyes, destroying his sight. He suffered excruciating pain.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE,
PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,
OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,
For Physicians' Use,
FEMALES, WEEKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.
SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

WE REFER TO

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 17, 1861.

THE SEIZURE OF MASON AND SLIDELL. The news from England is decidedly startling; there is a strong excitement among the people upon the Trent case, and the papers are angrily discussing the matter, their statements, however, being somewhat contradictory. As it now stands, the British Government and people have only the statement of the officers of the Trent, together with the very earliest expressions of the American press, and they may yet see reason to modify their views and demands. The gist of the whole appears to be, the British Government have decided that the arrest was illegal, that its nationality has been deliberately insulted, and there is a violent popular demand for immediate reparation. The ministers appear even to have been ahead of the demand. A special messenger was appointed to leave by the Europa. He carries a demand from the British Government to Lord Lyons, insisting upon an apology and a restoration to the protection of the British flag, of the Southern Commissioners. It is said large reinforcements will be immediately sent to Canada. A ship was loading with guns and ammunition of all kinds for the same destination. The export of arms, ammunition, lead, etc., was prohibited. Active preparations were going on in the various navy yards, and a considerable number of vessels have been ordered to be got ready for immediate commission. The Liverpool Post gives a rumor that Napoleon has been proposed as an arbitrator of the question between England and America, and the Paris Temps "repeats the statement that he had tendered his services as mediator."

☞ The demand of the British Government for the restoration of Mason, Slidell & Co. is not an unexpected occurrence,—nor should it surprise any one that the honor of Great Britain, so dear to every Englishman, should be dreadfully wounded by taking these rebel ambassadors from the deck of a British packet.

Yet the demand itself, however it may be met by our government, is favorable to the rebels; and their peculiar friends here are chuckling over it.

We do not suppose, however, that two such nations as Great Britain and the United States will commit the double suicide of their own commerce, over such a question.

It is not for the interest of this country, as we stand to-day, to get into a war with Great Britain, which would surely destroy our commerce for the time being, as well as establish the independence of the rebels.

Nor is it for the interest of Great Britain to turn every fast sailing vessel we have, into a privateer, which would surely spread havoc all over the ocean.

We look rather for some sharp diplomatic talks, on both sides;—for as many apologies, excuses, and concessions as may be necessary, on our part;—or even a mediation of Louis Napoleon between us and Great Britain—and if that happened to result in the giving up of the illustrious rebels,—no great damage would ensue, especially if the negotiation lasted a long time,—and the war went on well in the mean time.

There is a call now, for the utmost firmness, caution, and fairness, in the American Cabinet, for all its wisdom,—and for as much discretion as the American people can possibly exercise.

We perceive that the great cotton merchants in Liverpool, at their meeting, were quite moderate in their tone,—and there is no reason why we should be less moderate than they.

☞ The fire in Charleston, so far as can be ascertained, was terribly destructive.—The Old Point boat, at Baltimore, reports that a negro insurrection had taken place in Charleston, but was promptly suppressed by the military authorities. The account states that the plot was discovered by the body servant of a military officer, who said that the negroes of the city were to be joined by large bands of negroes from the country, who were to come in armed at night. He said the sash factory had been fired by a negro whom he designated, and who had been arrested. A small quantity of arms was found under the floor of a negro cabin. They were all new and in good order. In other cabins knives and hatchets were found secreted. Another account states that negro insurrections broke out in the interior of South Carolina two days before the fire, which was still raging unchecked,—but the report is not well authenticated.

☞ The war has not stopped the stream of charity toward our own poor; neither has it made liberal people indifferent to the great cause of education. We are pleased to learn that President Hill, of Antioch College, has succeeded in raising nearly five hundred dollars more than was necessary for paying the arrearages of salaries due the Professors in that institution, and also in raising more than the required guaranty for the expenses of the current year.

THE REBELLION.

The rebels have again occupied Lexington, Mo. Gen. Shields has accepted the Brigadier Generalship tendered him. The Cincinnati Enquirer's Louisville correspondent, under date of the 14th, says "Gen. Johnson, with 15,000 Federal troops, is on the northern bank of Green river, and Gen. Rosecrans is seven miles distant, preparing to join him. Another brigade, under Gen. McCook, is also moving to concentrate at Mumfordville. Gen. Buckner, with 25,000 men, was covering all the hills two miles back from Green river, and was preparing to prevent our troops from crossing the river. Gen. Thomas' division on the left wing is bearing down from the last to get in Buckner's rear. Gen. Mitchel's division, on the right wing, moves this morning towards Green river. The rebels were actually on the move and an engagement was imminent."

Com. James S. Palmer, commanding U. S. Steamer Iroquois, has sent to the Navy Department his account of the escape of the privateer Sumter, from the harbor of Port Royal, Martinique, while the Iroquois was lying off the harbor. He attributes the escape of the privateer to the sympathy and the connivance of the authorities and people of the port, against whom he makes bitter complaints. Capt. Palmer is from New Jersey, and has been in the U. S. naval service 36 years.

On Friday afternoon Franklin's Rhode Island Battery at Edward's Ferry opened fire upon the rebel fortifications in front of Leesburg and the neighboring woods, where the rebels have been concealed. Cannonading was kept up for six hours, and it succeeded in driving back the rebels to a safer distance.

The steamer Constitution arrived at Fortress Monroe, Sunday morning. She left Boston Nov. 21, with the 26th Mass. and 9th Conn. regiments, of Gen. Butler's division, and arrived at Ship Island Dec. 3. All the troops were landed the next day in four hours, by some rebel steamers, which had been captured by our fleet. Gen. Phelps, commanding there, on the 5th put forth a proclamation to the loyal citizens of the south west, strongly anti-slavery in character.

The steamer Illinois, at Fortress Monroe from Beaufort, reports that all the islands adjacent to Port Royal are occupied by our troops, and immense quantities of cotton are being gathered and brought in by the soldiers, amounting in value to two million dollars.

Barque Agnes, at Baltimore, reports speaking a British brig, which reported that the Iroquois and the Sumter had a severe engagement, and that one of them—they did not know which—had put into Martinique to repair damages.

The Bowling Green, Ky., Courier says Parson Brownlow has been arrested at Knoxville for treason. The N. C. Standard of the 5th says a federal steamer has taken possession of Portsmouth, N. C., and that there are ten Yankee steamers in Pamlico Sound.

Gen. Milroy withdrew the Union forces after tee engagement at Alleghany Camps, in Western Virginia, at night-fall, intending to renew the fight next morning. During the night, however, the enemy stole away, burning all they could not carry.

☞ A dispatch from San Francisco, Dec. 10, says, "During the past four days the heaviest rain storm that has been experienced for years, has prevailed in California, causing severe freshets and great destruction of property. The American river rose to a great height, breaking through the levee and flooding the city of Sacramento from one end to the other. The water is four feet deep in the streets this morning, and people are driven to the second story of their houses. Business is entirely suspended. The freshet extends throughout the valley portions of the State. The damage done is immense. The farmers have suffered great loss by the drowning of their stock, while bridges, fences and other property have been swept away. A part of Maysville and Stockton, as well as Sacramento, are entirely under water. A number of lives have been lost, but how many is not known. Several brick buildings at Maysville were undermined and fell a heap of ruins. The loss of property at Sacramento is estimated at over half a million dollars."

A later dispatch, Dec. 11, P. M. says the weather for the past two days had been more pleasant, and was apparently becoming settled. About $20,000 have been subscribed in San Francisco for the relief of the suffering at Sacramento. The water has been from 2 to 12 feet deep in every house in that city. One third of the city is still overflowed. The water, however, is slowly receding.

MORE NUMEROUS THAN SELECT,—The visitors who called upon some of the newly elected municipal officers in Boston last week. Some spoons are reported to be missing at one house.

☞ Congress will adjourn Thursday next for two weeks, on account of the holidays.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A trial took place before the Manchester Police Court, Saturday morning, on complaint of Rufus B. Hale of Littleton, against George W. Davids, now stopping in Manchester, for winning from him $400 in money and $300 in notes, at the game of faro, on the 28th of October last, at Littleton. Hale testified that Davis won $100; then Hale went to his counting room and got $300 more, and played till he lost that; then he gave his note for $200, and another for $100, and played till he lost both these sums. He said they began in the evening at 8 o'clock, and got through at 3 o'clock in the morning. Hale offered to give his note for more, but the respondent refused. Davids gave bonds in the sum of $1400 to answer at Haverhill on the first Tuesday of April next. Thereupon a complaint was presented against Hale for winning of Davids $100 at billiards. Hale pleaded not guilty, waived an examination, and gave bonds in the sum of $300 to answer at the same time and place.

—— Eighty one horses for the army have been purchased in Lancaster, at a cost of about $7000 in the aggregate.

—— The Manchester American "has learned from various sources that the 4th Regiment, now at Hilton Head, is without regimental officers. Lt. Col. Bell has been promoted, and Col. Whipple and Major Drew have resigned. The report is that Col. Whipple, having some difficulty with a sentinel, got into a controversy in which he and Major Drew were involved, and laid themselves liable to a court martial. Preferring to leave the command, they tendered their resignations. Capt. Greenleaf of Nashua is in command of the regiment.—These are the rumors by private letters."

—— W. H. Tibbetts, of Wolfborough, saw a flock of crows hovering around a large hawk, perched in the top of a pine tree. He got his gun to shoot the hawk, and in getting a position to fire, discovered a large white owl sitting in the same tree, below the hawk. He aimed at the hawk, close by the owl, and fired. He and a neighbor picked up the hawk, the owl and two crows, as the result of the shot.

—— The officers of the Seventh Regiment, at Manchester, on Friday evening, held a reception, which, according to the Mirror, "was brilliant as unique, bold in its outlines, as becometh brave men, and lovely in its details." The store-house of Camp Hale was converted into a reception hall, and the officers' drill room adjoining, into a side parlor,—the whole being an L to a canvass front of sufficient amplitude to furnish a room for refreshments, a ladies' dressing room, and a general promenading outer hall. "The attendance was quite large," says the Mirror, which quotes poetry and all that sort of thing in its report,—"and at one time beauty and bravery crowded together, 'regardless of expense' of crinoline, or fear of brass buttons and gay epaulettes. Later in the evening, after the sandwiched refreshments had satisfied many that 'life was not all a dream,' though to them dreams are much of life, the crowd left, and ample space remained for merrier scenes."

—— Some of the famous Concord Wagons, and Manchester Steam Fire Engines are to be exhibited at the World's Fair, to be held in England next May.

—— The Fifth New Hampshire Regiment has been placed in the brigade of Gen. Howard, of Maine.

☞ Thomas Chappell, a journeyman painter of New Market, England, has invented a portable organ, five feet long, three feet high, and two feet from front to back, comprising only 36 horizontal pipes, each of which has a valve resembling those upon a flute, aad so ingeniously arranged as to be capable of producing all the different keys and notes throughout the chromatic scale. It consists of one stop, instead of the several requisite in a common organ, an open diapason and principal, with 56 notes, possessing the power of upwards of 112 pipes. This instrument is pronounced perfect in every part, and to be sufficiently powerful to accompany the singing in any place of worship. The inventor has already sold two of his instruments at the price of thirty guineas.

SPELLING MATCHES.—With the commencement of winter schools there is a revival of "spelling matches." A gentleman in Spencertown, N. Y., writes: "We held our spelling match on Monday, December 9th, as I designed. Twenty-eight spellers contended for the prize, which was Webster's Dictionary, pictorial edition, unabridged.—All but two of the spellers were silenced in an hour and a half. These were two girls, one eleven and the other fourteen years of age. They continued the contest for nearly an hour longer, on words the most difficult to be spelled, till the audience became so wrought upon that they proposed to buy a second dictionary, and thus end the contest. The money for the purpose was raised on the spot."

THE GUNBOAT SAGAMORE on her trial trip, under steam alone made 11 knots, and under steam and sails 12 1-2 knots per hour. Her heavy armament was discharged several times, with scarcely a jar to the vessel.

The object of all ambition should be to be happy at home. If we are not happy there we cannot be happy elsewhere.

KEROSENE LANTERNS,

Opened this day, and for sale cheap by

nov20 JOHN SISE, 5 MARKET SQ.

Local.

☞ Another attempt to burn the North End of the city was made on Sunday evening last. A gentleman passing Mr. M. H. Goodrich's tannery about ten o'clock, discovered a lighted lamp which had been placed in the bark-house,—the door having been pried open by the incendiary. The bark, under which the lamp had been placed, was just kindling, and its fortunate discovery alone prevented what might have proved a disastrous conflagration.

☞ The new navy bill, retiring all officers who have been forty-five years in the service, on little more than half pay, but giving the President power to put any on the reserved list into active service, on full pay, bids fair to become a law. It will affect, among others, the following officers from this State—the dates denoting the time of their commissions:—George W. Storer, Jan. 16, 1809; John C. Long, June 18, 1812; Wm S. Walker, March 14, 1814; George F. Pearson, March 11, 1815.

☞ The boilers for the new side-wheel steamer Sebago were received at the Portsmouth Navy Yard on Monday.

☞ The Herald says the mice made a raid on a gross of matches in a store in Newburyport, a few days since. The little rebels gnawed off all the outside wrapper, probably to make a nest of, and dragged several bunches across the shelf. They then continued their investigation by breaking and entering one of the bunches and lighting a half dozen of its matches, which after half burning up, providentially became extinguished.

☞ The New England Female Medical College, Boston, has issued its 12th Annual Report, and commenced its fourteenth annual term of instruction. It has had 20 students the last year, including 6 who graduated at the close of the term. There are 6 professors: the College is a commodious building in Springfield street.

☞ The Anti-Tobacco Journal for November and December contains the following articles, A Journal of my War on Tobacco; Tobacco and the Cross; A Tale of Blighted Promise; "Now, Robert, drop that odious pipe"; Tobacco and its Affinities; Forty-four Objections to Tobacco; An Englishman's Objections; Efficacy of Prayer; Immorality of Raising Tobacco; "Give me a Quid"; A Nonpareil Cigar for Young Gentry; SOLDIERS' DEPARTMENT:—Shaker Poem; Fremont's Proclamation; American Democracy. Rev. Geo. Trask, Fitchburg, Mass., who publishes the Journal, also publishes the Fitchburg Army and Navy Tracts, spicy and useful.

☞ Harry Cole, alias Johnson, a notorious counterfeiter, was arrested in New York, on Friday, on the charge of issuing in Albany and other cities about $500 in counterfeit bills purporting to be on the Bank of Lowell, Mass. The bills were so exceedingly well executed that banks and other institutions took them without hesitation.

COASTING ACCIDENT.—A few nights since, while two young ladies were coasting on what is called Pond Hill in Hubbardston, Mass., they came into collision with a team consisting of two yoke of oxen. The oxen were knocked from their pins completely.—It was thought at first that the young ladies were seriously injured, but both parties are getting along finely.

SINGULAR ACCIDENT.—A man residing in Euclid, Ohio, awoke one night last week with a sense of suffocation, and soon after discovered that he had swallowed a set of false teeth with the gold plate to which they were attached. At last accounts he was feeling very poorly about his stomachic region, and the doctor was considing the best method for pulling the counterfeit molars.

☞ Francis Todd, an old merchant in Newburyport, died in that city on Thursday night, at the age of 83 years. For many years the deceased was one of the most extensive and successful shipowners in New England. He was an upright merchant of the old school.

☞ James W. Morris, better known as "K. N. Pepper" of humorous celebrity, announces himself as a lecturer during the present season. He has prepared a poem on two subjects of permanent and particular interest, "war and woman."

☞ The First Universalist Society of Portland, contemplate selling their present house of worship, which has become too small for them, and building another, further up town, at an estimated expense of from $30,000 to $40,000.

☞ Senators Hale and Clark and others visited the camp of the 2d New Hampshire regiment, at Stump Neck, Saturday, on the steamer Washington. The vessel was fired at by the rebel battery at Shipping Point, but was not hit.

☞ Judge Black of Pa. has been appointed Reporter of the Supreme Court, in place of Howard, (secessionist,) resigned.

☞ Major Ben: Perley Poore has been reappointed Clerk of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations — an appointment which he resigned when he entered the service with the three months' volunteers.

ELEGANT PICTURES.—MR. A. ADAMS, travelling agent for Mr. J. H. Bufford, the well-known lithographist of Boston, is at present in Portsmouth and vicinity, furnishing copies of a magnificent, life-size, lithographic picture of Lieut. Gen. WINFIELD SCOTT, drawn by Mr. Bufford's special artist, Mr. D. C. Fabronius, one of the very first artists in the country. It is difficult to look upon it and not buy it. Gen. Scott, in a letter to Mr. Bufford, written just before he sailed for Europe, said:—"we think it an admirable work of art, and, as a daughter thinks, an excellent likeness." The picture is sold for a dollar only, and a fac-simile of Gen. Scott's letter is given to each purchaser.

Mr. Adams has also another fine large picture —"Our Generals,"— and a large number of Photographs of Generals and others, which are among the best we have ever seen.

☞ See a woman, in another column, picking Sambucl Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction ly

HOUSE-KEEPERS, TAKE NOTICE!

Please Call at No. 12 Market St.,

And examine the PATENT

UNIVERSAL CLOTHES-WRINGER,

THE GREATEST LABOR-SAVING MACHINE NOW IN THE MARKET!

Will more than pay for itself in the Wear of Clothing.

FOUR REASONS

Why no one should be without one of them:

1st.—It will wring four times as fast as can be done by hand; much drier, and with one-fourth the labor; and wrings anything from a silk glove to a heavy Blanket.

2d.—Is simple, strong, and durable, and will not get out of repair

3d.—Any servant will use it with safety to the machine, and with great saving of wear to the Clothes.

4th.—It is readily and firmly secured, to tubs of any thickness, and can be easily detached and set aside.

No House should be without one.

THE PATENT
FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably supersede all other Hair-Brushes, whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it pronounce it a complete success. It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot by any possibility get out of order, is compact, elegant, durable, and will save twice its own price within three months, by economising Preparations for the Hair.

THE FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH is guaranteed to effect a Saving of One-half in the use of all hair-washes, oils, &c., as compared with any and every other means of applying them. As some of these articles cost from one to two dollars per bottle, this is a matter of no small moment.

To recapitulate, in brief, the merits of the PATENT FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH:—

It dresses the hair without soiling the fingers; it effects a saving of one-half in the use of hair preparations; it does away with the greasy hair-oil bottles; it is a handsomer article than the common hair brush; it regulates the quantity of fluid used, to a drop; it is perfectly light, and cannot spill over on the trunk or on the toilet; it carries enough of any preparation to last for a voyage or a long journey; its price is moderate, and it saves its own cost in three months; and finally, no sensible person who uses the PATENT FOUNTAIN BRUSH will ever use any other.

L. LAIGHTON.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ At the request of Mayor Wood, of New York, Hon. Caleb Cushing has published a long and very able opinion on the arrest of Mason and Slidell, in which he maintains that Capt. Wilkes and our Government are in the right of the matter.

As to the blockade, he holds that our Government has not only done right but wisely, in blockading rather than closing the rebel ports.

He says, "while the duties of neutrality, in this war, have been voluntarily assumed by Great Britain,—the rights of war, as regards her, have been claimed and asserted by the United States."

And again, "Mason and Slidell not having been embarked on board of the Trent by the British Government,—that Government, as such, has not been offended by the seizure."

Out of the sixty-eight thousand letters sent off by the Massachusetts regiment in Maryland since its departure from home, twenty six thousand were addressed "Miss," and twenty-one thousand "Mrs." So says a letter writer, who adds:—"These figures show that the females receive much the larger share of attention, and this is just as it should be. It is rather significant of the material of this same Thirteenth Regiment, that "Miss" receives so large a share of its letter-writing patronage. All right, of course."

☞ The official count of the vote for Mayor in New York, gives Opdyke 1213 majority over Wood and 614 over Gunther for Mayor.

☞ "Gentlemen may cry 'Peace, peace,' but there is no peace"—can be no peace, until the rebellion is crushed out, or the Government surrendered to traitors.

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE.

Large Premiums!

TO OUR FRIENDS.

Hitherto, we have never offered any one a premium for helping to extend the circulation of THE TRIBUNE. We have printed the cheapest newspaper, considering the outlay by which it is produced, that was ever issued in any country, selling it for little more than the cost of the white paper; have employed no agents to canvass for subscribers, and have allowed no compensation (beyond a copy of our paper) to any of the thousands of generous friends who have annually taken care that the number of copies of our several issues, circulated in their respective neighborhoods, should be at least maintained, and if possible increased. We have been sparing even of we but thanks to these friends, but have none the less realized the fullness of our obligation for their earnest, unselfish, painstaking, persistent efforts.

We propose for the present season only—in view of the hardness of the times, and the fact that we are enabled to buy white paper somewhat cheaper than we have hitherto done, or can hope to do after the close of the War—to make some small acknowledgement—not so much a recompense as a slight testimonial—to those friends who shall see fit to exert themselves to obtain subscriptions (whether originals or renewals) to our Weekly and Semi-Weekly editions. We do not know that we could offer anything of similar value more generally acceptable and useful than a Gold Pen of the best quality and finish. We propose, therefore, to forward to each person who, during the two months ensuing, shall send us subscriptions and payments for THE TRIBUNE, as follows:

Weekly Tribune.

For $12, Eleven Copies Weekly Tribune, addressed to each subscriber, and Pens or Pens and cases to value of....$1 00

For $10, Eleven Copies Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases to value of..... 1 00

For $20, Twenty-one Copies Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases to value of..... 3 00

For $100, One Hundred Copies Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases to value of...25 00

$1 20 each will be required in all cases where the Paper is to be addressed to each subscriber

Semi-Weekly Tribune.

For $11 25, Five Copies Semi Weekly Tribune, and Pens or Pens and Cases to value of.....$2 00

For $20, Eleven Copies Semi-Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases to value of..... 4 00

For $40, Twenty Cop. Semi Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases to value of.....10 00

For $100, Fifty Copies Semi Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases to va ue of....30 00

$2 25 each will be required in all cases where the Paper is to be addressed to each subscriber.

The pens will be of the manufacture of A. Morton, these make of pens having been known to be the best made. They will be furnished at the manufacturer's lowest prices. To choose as to the style and quality of the pens any one may want for premiums, our friends are referred to the manufacturer's prices in another column.—See "The Pen Is mightier than the Sword," and be particular and specify the number and quality of the Pens or Pens and Cases preferred.

Specimen Copies of the Tribune sent when requested.

When Drafts can be obtained, it is much safer than to remit Bank Bills; but be sure that the Post Office and State should in all cases be plainly written. Payment always in advance.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the drawing of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that upon a MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has different reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to Patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All those who go or send a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TA GGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

HOUSE FURNISHING ESTABLISHMENT,

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,

Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster, or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long; or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:—

1st. The permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the back and hot plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be true stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for hotels, boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE,
PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,
OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,
For Physicians' Use,
FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.
SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

The Great Remedy for Kidney Affections, Rheumatism, Chronic Complaints
Excellent Wine for Females.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial properties as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.
AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.
SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.
A LADY'S WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.
WE REFER TO

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 18, 1861.

THE REBELLION.

Several citizens of Arkansas have reached Rolla, Mo., and enlisted in the Arkansas company under Capt. Ware, late a member of the Legislature of that State. Those men say there was a Union society in Izard, Fulton, Independence and Seavey counties, numbering 2500 men, which could have made an organized stand in two weeks more, but it was broken up by a recreant member. Some of these Union men have been hanged, and a large number are in the woods, trying to effect their escape from the State.

The consul at Tampico says that the city is thronged with fugitive Unionists, from Texas. They are in great want, and he has no means of assisting them except from his own private resources.

It is reported that the rebels of Columbus have received a number of heavy anchors and cables, for the purpose of obstructing the navigation of the river at that place.

The Sec. of War replies to the request of the House, that the General-in-chief considers it inexpedient as yet to give information concerning the disaster at Ball's Bluff.—The surrender of Fort Fillmore, in Texas, is chargeable to Major Lynde, who has been dismissed the service.

The Herald's Washington dispatch says that at a protracted Cabinet meeting on Monday, our difficulty with England was discussed with great calmness and firmness. Whatever the demands from England may be, our government is resolved that Mason and Slidell shall never be given up.

The Brazilian Minister gave a dinner Monday evening, at which quite a number of the diplomatic corps were present. Of course, the seizure of Mason and Slidell was discussed, but in a non committal way. The impression was that England would make a demand for the release of Mason and Slidell, but that a lengthy correspondence would settle the matter without a war.

It is said that Senator Polk has gone over to the rebels, and is taking council with them at Memphis.

The Lynchburg Virginian says a Maryland regiment was sent out to do picket duty, and hoisted the Confederate flag and marched into Centreville, accompanied by the Colonel and all the other officers.

The Union sentiments in Eastern Virginia, it is said, is rapidly increasing.

The Constitution left at Ship Island her splendid rifled long range guns, and also six fine life boats. Our naval authorities at Ship Island refused to carry Gen. Phelps' slavery proclamation over to the mainland, and Lieut. Buchanan, of the U. S. Navy, commanding Fort Massachusetts, gave orders that it should not be posted or read within his lines as long as he was in command.

It is stated on doubtful authority that Fort Pulaski had been evacuated by the rebels and occupied by Federal troops.

The rebel schooner Royal Yacht has been captured by two boats, with 40 men from the Santee, under command of Lieut. Jouett. She was boarded at 3 A. M. and after a sharp conflict, taken, set on fire and destroyed. 13 prisoners were taken,—three of them wounded. Our loss was two killed and seven wounded, including Lieut. Jouett.

Four regiments of rebel infantry and three gunboats, have been sent from Columbus, Ky., to New Orleans, where a battle was being fought and the city threatened with demolition by our forces. The inhabitants were fleeing from the city. [Doubtful.]

☞ The news from England creates no special excitement in Washington, the indignation of the British press having been anticipated. A dispatch says the general belief there, is that war with Great Britain will be avoided. The President is known to oppose any warlike policy towards any foreign power at this time. The unanimous expression of public feeling, from Maine to Maryland and Missouri, is that the Government ought to maintain a conciliatory but firm position with regard to the seizure of Mason and Slidell. The prisoners are to be retained, even at the expense of another war.

☞ "Oysters by steam" are the last luxury. An enterprising genius has hit upon a plan by which they are cooked by steam, in the shell, retaining all their juices and puffing up like doughnuts in the operation. How they eat, afterwards, may be imagined, but cannot be described. They go down the throat like oysters first fattened and then spiritualized, and the taste lingers on the palate like the memory of the first kiss given us by a pretty little girl with brown curls when we were seventeen. The sublime of luxury in oysters is now attained, says the New York Atlas.

☞ Including carriers, there are one hundred and twenty persons connected with the Boston Post Office.

CONGRESS.

In the Senate, Monday, various petitions relating to the slavery question were presented. A motion to expel Senator Bright of Indiana was referred to the Judiciary Committee. Notice was given of a French spoliation bill. A resolution asking the Secretary of State if any persons had been arrested in a loyal state, and if so, by what authority, was discussed at some length, and finally referred to the Judiciary Committee. A committee was appointed to inquire into the escape of the Sumter from Martinique.

In the House, a bill was introduced granting land to certain States, for the foundation of agricultural colleges; also providing for the relief of our men now prisoners in the hands of the enemy; also to establish a branch mint in Nevada Territory. A resolution expressing the opinion that the President ought to maintain the position he has assumed, on the Mason and Slidell affair, was referred to the committee on Foreign Affairs. The bill authorizing the raising of a volunteer force for the better defence of Kentucky was passed.

☞ Mrs. Marks, after giving her testimony before the Grand Jury of Monmouth County, N. J., in relation to the murder of Sigismund Fellner by Radetski, was discharged, there being no evidence of any connivance on her part with the murderer. The detectives traced Radetski to St. Louis, from which place he has probably made his way to the dominions of Jeff. Davis. Mrs. Marks testified that she and her sister were perfectly well aware that Fellner was a married man when they came out together on the Bavaria. Her sister's suicide, she swore, was caused entirely by mortification at the exposure of her shame. Mrs. Marks introduced Radetski to Fellner, and the latter was made away with by the former for the sake of his money.

☞ The Methodist Clergyman in Ware, Mass., was recently unable to collect the amount of his salary, and sued for the balance due him. The defence claimed that under the Methodist system nothing was due him, as he was sent by the conference, not called by the society, and therefore all payments were voluntary and not the result of a legal agreement, and if the trustees did not collect the full amount of the salary, there was no legal manner of collecting the balance. The court decided in favor of the trustees and against the clergyman.

☞ The Worcester Transcript says a citizen of Salem, well known for his inventive genius, has concocted a preparation which, when ignited, becomes an unquenchable flame of fire and brimstone. He proposes to put it up in glass bottles, make an ascension in a balloon, float over the camps of the rebels, toss over the bottles, which, upon breaking, will explode, and set the camp on fire, and blow up ammunition wagons—making them as Sodom and Gomorrah.

☞ The capacity of some of the European churches is immense. Ten of them will accommodate over twenty thousand worshippers each; and three over thirty thousand, viz.: St. Peter's, at Rome, 54,000; the Milan Cathedral, 37,000; and St. Paul's, at Rome, 32,000. The largest Protestant church in the world is St. Paul's, at London, which will accommodate 25,000 persons at one time.

☞ The reader may remember that we doubted the truth of the story that 28,000 soldiers, half free negroes, were reviewed on a certain day, near New Orleans. It now appears by the Message of the Governor of Louisiana that she has raised only 25,000 soldiers, of whom only 3000 are in the State! Of course the review could not have been of above 2800, probably not quite that.

From the statements of all the rebel governors, lately made, their whole armies are about 360,000.

☞ Lieut. Maury evidently regards himself as settled for life. The Richmond Examiner publishes a correspondence between him and the Grand Duke Constantine, Grand Admiral of the Russian Navy, in which the Duke invites Maury to enter the Russian service, and Maury replies that he cannot until Southern independence is established.

MAKING TEA.—Water for making tea should be used the moment it boils. The reason assigned is that, if it is boiled for some time, all the gas that is in it escapes with the steam, and it will not make tea of the best flavor. Clear, pure, soft water is best.

☞ A New Orleans correspondent of the Charleston Courier, writing in reference to the seizure of Slidell and Mason, says:—The British Consul here immediately justified the act, and went to the trouble of supplying English legal authority to appear in a leader of one of our city journals.

An inveterate joker has observed that in the theatre of war back seats are desirable. We may add that members of the press have occupied front places among the deadheads, and have left behind them many women in tears, as the tragedy has progressed.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— On Friday last Reuben G. Durgin, a carpenter on the Washington Corporation, Manchester, was employed in the basement of mill No. 3, in putting on a new gear, when a loose frock which he had on was caught in the back by a pump shaft, that runs through the gear box, and he was thrown violently around, it is computed about a hundred times, before he could be extricated. Each time he revolved his feet hit a beam, and were horribly mangled. His head was also fearfully bruised; and these injuries, with those he received internally, proved fatal in about twelve hours. Deceased had a wife and five children.

—— A Manchester correspondent of the Boston Journal states that it has been found that the annual expense of the fire department in that city, since the introduction of the steam fire engine, is more than $4000 less than under the old system. The saving of this item alone, during the two years and six months which have elapsed, is more than enough to pay for the three engines now in use there.

—— The Amoskeag Manufacturing Company of Manchester, have just finished one of the largest class of their steam fire engines, which is to be sent to Russia. It throws a horizontal stream more than three hundred feet.

—— The Manchester Mirror says, the town of Hancock "either has few justices of the peace, or it is a strong Secession place. John L. Putney went there to recruit for the Eighth Regiment, and got Jesse Wilson, and wished to have him take the oath of allegiance. Application was made to Richard Emerson and David Patten, both of whom refused to administer the oath. He was sent to others called justices, but who, when spoken to about it, said they were not. He had to go to Greenfield to get the recruit sworn in."

JOHN BULL AND BROTHER JONATHAN. Messrs. Editors:—It is devoutly to be hoped that our Cabinet, and especially Secretary Seward, will use the utmost gentleness with John Bull, let him bellow as much as he will, and demand ever so much hay and grain. To speak the truth plainly, we are in a condition, just now, where we cannot well afford to let him push us with his horns. Having gratified ourselves so much as to take the whole rebel embassy prisoners, it can do no great harm, after a suitable amount of palaver, to send the rebels down to Norfolk or elsewhere, and let Johnny adopt them as his calves, if he sees fit, with quantum sufficit of apologies and explanations. It is not at all certain, however, that we need to give them up.

It is surmised in some quarters that the British government only uses this case as a pretext, intending to break the blockade and have war. It may be so; but it looks more like an attempt to heal the wounded honor of the British navy, which has been festering forty years, ever since Hull, Bainbridge, Perry, McDonough and others took the Bull by the horns, and the Wasp and Hornet stung him in the nostrils.

It is a good time now for us to heal it all up, by a graceful acknowledgement that we did not do exactly right in taking the rebels out of the ship:—[aside—because we ought to have taken the ship,]—but as what is done cannot be undone, and especially as one war at a time is enough, therefore we will let Mr. Slidell slide, and let Mr. Mason go to his own place, as Judas did.

To throw these rebel ambassadors into the bargain, or into the sea, would be a cheap purchase of England's neutrality,—such as it is. And it seems to me that a reference of this trouble, with whatever complaints we have against Great Britain, growing out of this war,—to some third power, would bring us in sight of some settled policy among European powers, and everybody's honor would be safe.

It is well known that one rebel, Faulkner, has gone home to exchange himself with Congressman Ely; and without any improper concessions, or dishonorable expedients, we hope this great trouble may be blown away—and the United States address itself to the business of crushing the rebellion of the slave power.

Should it turn out, however, that the British people really wish for war, and their government declare it against us,—they would get more than they bargained for, in such a contest as they have never yet seen.

We hope for peace—but if war comes, our Yankees, Irish, Dutch, and all our people, would turn into a nation of soldiers, and every sailor, black and white, would belong to a man-of-war or a privateer. We could raise such an army as the world has never seen. PAX.

☞ Hon. Schuyler Colfax, of Indiana, writing from Washington, under date of the 5th inst., says:

"In justice to Gen. McClellan, the Commander-in-Chief, whom I met on Monday morning, and had an interesting conversation with, I must state that he repeated to me with emphasis a former declaration, that the war would be short, though it probably might be desperate, and that he saw the way clearly through to success in conquering the rebellion."

An attempt is being made in New York, Ohio, and elsewhere, by Breckinridge men, to form a coalition with the Democrats elected on Union tickets by Republican votes. Should that conspiracy succeed, a party will be formed in favor of some disgraceful compromise with treason.—Portland Adv.

The attempt may be successful or otherwise; but in either case, its effect will be to prolong the war, make it more bitter, more costly, and more destructive to slavery.

☞ John Hogan, the last postmaster of St. Louis, was arrested on Saturday, charged with the embezzlement of several thousand dollars during his term of office. He states in a card that his arrest was caused by a disagreement between him and the auditing officer of the General Post Office, which might have been prevented by a more prompt examination of his accounts.

☞ The loss by the Charleston fire is estimated at from five to seven millions of dollars. 576 buildings were destroyed, including five churches. The rebel Congress has appropriated $250,000 for the relief of the sufferers.

☞ The Bank Committee, representing the banks of New York, Philadelphia and Boston, held a meeting at the Bank of Commerce, New York, on Monday, and, contrary to the public expectation, decided not to suspend specie payments.

LOST,

☞ Rev. Mr. Fletcher's second lecture, on Monday evening last, was all that the most fastidious could desire, and was largely attended,—many parties indeed, being compelled to go away, the Hanover Street Chapel being too densely packed to admit more. The third lecture, to be delivered on Monday evening next, will be of peculiar interest, as the lecturer will devote much of it to an account of Garibaldi, "the Washington of Italy," as well as to the Waldenses,—those heroic christians of the Alps, whom Mr. Fletcher visited in their mountain homes.

☞ "Chase's Great Museum of Art," now on exhibition at the Temple, is one of the most pleasing shows of the kind. It is brilliantly lighted and richly colored; the scenery mostly stands still, while the figures are in motion, the clouds pass, the waves rise, men and beasts travel, trains of cars shoot across the scene, vessels and boats pass and repass,—all as natural as life.

School children would like to see it this afternoon, and probably will, by hundreds.

☞ "Navorum (I) Fabricator," of Kittery, writes to the Gloucester, Mass., Telegraph, as follows:—

"This navy-yard is on an island of some sixty-five acres, which is connected with the shore on the Kittery side of the Piscataqua by a bridge of two hundred paces in length. It is for this reason, perhaps, that it is called the Kittery navy-yard. By some it is called the Portsmouth yard, possibly because it is within the U. S. collection district of that name."

It will be extremely gratifying to Portsmouth readers to learn just why the change in the name of the Portsmouth Navy Yard is so strenuously urged by some individuals, who are exerting "all their Maine strength" to effect that result. The above furnishes the best explanation that we have yet seen, and our Kittery friends should "praise the bridge that carries"—not them over to the Portsmouth Navy Yard, but the Portsmouth Navy Yard over to them.

☞ The U. S. sloop-of-war Portsmouth sailed from the lower harbor on Tuesday morning.

☞ Lieut. Philip H. W. Fontane, formerly attached to the Portsmouth Navy Yard, is at present in command of the Marine Corps at the fort on Ship Island.

BOSTON NOTIONS.—In the church on Arlington street, just dedicated by Rev. Dr. Gannett's society, the chime of bells in the spire is played upon by means of electricity, so that the performer may cause them all to sound while seated at a keyboard similar to that of an organ. The new Methodist church on Tremont street has a peculiar improvement,—a stream of Cochituate water to blow the organ.—The organist has only to turn a stop-cock which lets on the water, and the bellows are put in motion, and the instrument adequately supplied with wind.

☞ Adelina Patti, according to late advices from London, has been lying very ill there with diptheria, and it seems highly probable that if she has recovered without personal debilitation, the injury to her throat will be such as to make it imprudent for her to sing for a considerable period.—What a calamity to the musical world it would be if that marvelously sweet organ should prove to be permanently injured, and if her prospects, which have never been excelled by those of any singer at the same age, should be thus suddenly blighted!

Some enterprising fellow has got out a "Skater's Manual." This must be a capital thing in its way. Imagine five thousand fellows on the skating-pond in the Central Park, each with "Manual" in hand, regulating their falls by rule, and getting up and trying it again! We have had nothing like such a scene, since the time when General Eb. Pierce sat on his horse at Big Bethel, in the midst of the enemy's fire, and consulted his "Tactics," to find out "what the devil am I to do next?—oh, retreat!"—New York Atlas.

☞ Young McGill of New York, who threw his mother out of a window, causing her death, has been pronounced insane.—His brother attributes his insanity to disappointment in love—a young lady whom he desired to marry having rejected him.

The term "or any other man,"—says the Boston Gazette—originated with Sampson, who told the gay and festive Delilah, "If I be shaved, then my strength will go from me, and I shall become weak, and be like 'any other man.'"

☞ A Washington dispatch to the Boston Herald says the reported rise in saltpetre is premature. Government has enough of this article to blow up the Universe.

"STANDING" ARMIES.—The armies of the Potomac, North and South.

☞ Mrs. Gov. Morgan, attending Gongli's lecture at Albany, occupied a prominent seat and knit all the evening on her soldier's sock. At the next lecture all the women brought their knitting work.

Give to grief a little time and it softens to a regret, and grows beautiful at last, and we cherish it as we do some old dim picture of the dead.

☞ Two lawyers of New Hampshire agreed some time ago, that smoking tobacco made men lazy. An eminent Doctor in the same State was called into consultation on a man with paralysis. He asked the family doctor if the man used tobacco. Answer, "I don't know." Asking the patient, he whined out, "Yes, a little." It turned out that he smoked sixteen cigars a day; and hence the paralysis.

THE BAREFOOTED PRINTER BOY.—Some thirty years ago a barefooted boy floated down the Susquehanna on an humble raft, and arrived at Harrisburg. He came from the North, and belonged in a large family; all his worldly goods were tied up in a pocket handkerchief. He sought and obtained employment in a printing office as an apprentice. From an apprentice to a journeyman, from a journeyman to a reporter, from a reporter to an editor, the printer boy worked his way, against obstacles the suffering poor only know. The young aspirant became printer to the State, and by frugal management was enabled to accomplish the object nearest his heart—the establishment of his mother in a home above want. His brothers were his next care, and in a few years they too, with his sisters, were independent in the world; the once barefooted printer boy was in possession of affluence, surrounded by a young and affectionate family. He rose in honor and office, until the barefooted printer boy was elected a United States senator. This man is Simon Cameron, the present Secretary of War.

☞ See a woman, in another column, picking Sambucci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction ly

FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably supersede all other Hair-Brushes, whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it pronounce it a complete success. It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot by any possibility get out of order; is compact, elegant, durable, and will save twice its own price within three months, by economising Preparations for the Hair.

THE FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH is guaranteed to effect a Saving of One-half in the use of all hair-washes, oils, &c., as compared with any and every other means of applying them. As some of these articles cost from one to two dollars per bottle, this is a matter of no small moment.

To recapitulate, in brief, the merits of the PATENT FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH:—

It dresses the hair without soiling the fingers; it effects a saving of one-half in the use of hair preparations; it does away with the greasy hair-oil bottles; it is a handsomer article than the common hair brush; it regulates the quantity of fluid used, to a drop; it is perfectly tight, and cannot spill over on the trunk or on the toilet; it carries enough of any preparation to last for a voyage or a long journey; its price is moderate, and it saves its own cost in three months; and finally, no sensible person who uses the PATENT FOUNTAIN BRUSH will ever use any other.

HEBREW ORPHAN ASYLUM.—The New York City Council has passed an ordinance appropriating $30,000 to the Hebrew Benevolent Society, to aid in the establishment of an Orphan Asylum for the care of destitute orphans of Jewish parentage.

SEVERE, BUT JUST.—"Ah! I am very sorry for this rebellion; it prevents my going South," said an Englishman the other day, dining at a club in Philadelphia by invitation. "They tell me," he continued, "that the American gentleman is only to be found at the South. How is that, pray?—Can you explain it?" "I can't," replied the host; "it is no more to be explained than the statement so often made that there are gentlemen in England, but none of them ever come to this country!"

Commodore Wilkes has fairly put old Sam Houston's nose out of joint, and taken the wind out of his sails. No longer will old Sam be thought of as the "hero of San Jacinto," but when that phrase is used, the mind instead of traveling back to the Texan war of '35, will stop short with Wilkes, on board the U. S. frigate of that name.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Also, procures Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or establishing the validity of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE OFFSPRING OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove by reference to other offices of the kind are the charges for professional service to moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

HOUSE FURNISHING ESTABLISHMENT,

No. 46 Market Street, Portsmouth.

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,

Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster, or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake nearly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz.:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking over.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the back and hot in plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves,.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE STOVE for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

Reference is made to Messrs. J. Trundy, J. M Mathes, N. K. Walker, C. C. Jackson, C H. Mendum, James F. Shores, Geo. Whitehouse, Joseph E. Leavitt, Clement, John Harrett, J Hinchas Nichols, Jas. P. Pollard, Raymond, Robert F. Gerrish, Kittery; Nath'l F. Berry, Gosport, and many others who are using the Stove.

This stove was thoroughly tested before being brought into the market, and we know that all that is said of it will be found true on trial.

☞ We have also a very beautiful new pattern COOK STOVE, called the

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for Family Use; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, and employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE,
PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,
OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,
For Physicians' Use,
FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.
SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its Medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys; and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey; recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its fine, peculiar flavor and antiseptic properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 19, 1861.

☞ It is quite manifest that the Trent, if brought into New York, would have been adjudged a lawful prize. A learned writer in the London Times takes this view,—and says:

"I confess that it strikes me very strongly that the quality of the injury materially affects the nature of the amends which we are entitled to require. If the Trent would probably have been legally condemned in case a regular course had been pursued by the captain of the San Jacinto,—in form it is true she sustained an injury, but in substance it is certain she had a fortunate escape."

He concludes that England has a right to demand an apology, but is "not entitled to push her demand to the extreme point of requiring the restitution of the commissioners." He closes by saying:

"Such a demand would most certainly be repelled. And England, before she can appeal to the arbitrament of arms, must have a quarrel good not only in form, but in substance."

The London Times tells the operatives of Manchester that a war with this country will set all the Cotton Mills humming on full time. To this the Boston Post replies:

On the contrary such a war will bring starvation to their doors. We have been their best customers; we have furnished them with bread, and we have bought their goods. The first hostile gun fired, and the doors of Commerce will be slammed in the face of insolent Britannia. Not a bushel of grain—not a yard of cloth—shall cross the ocean. England is mighty; but let her beware how she goads a desperate people into retaliative conflict.

☞ Capital is timid,—and the stock market is as sensitive as the slave market. The news from England of course made a little panic in the stocks on Monday. But the money article of the Boston Post for Tuesday says:

The feeling in State street is better this morning. There is a general appreciation of the plain fact that war can scarcely occur unless the governments of the United States and Great Britain are fit subjects for Bedlam. Stocks better.

☞ As a post office has been established at Port Royal, S. C., letters for the New England regiments at that place and vicinity should not be addressed to the care of any U. S. official at New York, but should be directed to the persons for whom intended, giving the letter of the company and the number of the regiment, at "Port Royal, S. C." If more is added, it will only serve as an impediment to the prompt transmission of the letters.

U. S. STEAMER CONNECTICUT.

Messrs. Editors:—Having made the tour of the Gulf and the Atlantic seaboard from Galveston to New York, I send you the following items. Off Galveston, Nov. 29th, we met the frigate Santee, and the pilot boat Dart as tender, she carrying a twenty pounder pivot gun amidships.

On Nov. 7th a boat expedition, consisting of two launches carrying howitzers under command of Lieut. Jouett, left the Santee at moonset, 11.30 P. M., and pulled five miles towards Galveston, with the intention of capturing the steamer General Rusk.—On passing up the bay they were hailed by the schooner Royal Yacht, on coast guard duty, but were allowed to pass as they were supposed to be rebel boats.

They then kept along until abreast of the fort, when they observed the rebels passing to and fro with torches. Supposing that they were discovered and having wind and tide against them, they again stood out and approached the schooner. The gunner in charge of the first launch pulled the lock string, but the piece missed fire. The gun was reprimed and fired, the shell entering below the water mark and lodging in the schooner's hold. It quickly exploded, causing consternation amongst the rebel crew. The gunner and one man gallantly leaped aboard from the bow of the boat, while the launch by the force of their spring rebounded and left them "alone in their glory."—Five of the rebels retreated into the forecastle, followed by the gunner who held them at bay and compelled them to deliver up their arms.

During the interval (but a moment transpiring) the officers and men of both launches were aboard. They met with a manful resistance, but the rebels were soon subdued and surrendered. At this time the forts opened fire upon the schooner, and a steamer was seen firing up, which caused the prisoners to be hurried into the boats, lest she might bear down upon them.

The schooner was now rapidly filling by reason of the hole which the shot had made, and it was thus rendered impossible to tow her out. The mattresses, bedding and other combustible articles were fired, and she was soon in flames, lighting up the sombre darkness of night and throwing a lurid light upon the surrounding waters, rendering the retreating boats painfully but distinctly visible to the astonished Galvestonians. The loss of the rebel crew was two killed and several wounded: the number that jumped overboard is unknown. Thirteen were taken prisoners, among them the celebrated Capt. Chubb of Boston negro stealing notoriety. His phizograph would be a valuable addition to the rogues' gallery. He was owner and captain of the schooner. Our loss was two killed and two wounded.

This capture reflects much credit on the officers and men, as well for their expertness as bravery; but in a special manner does William Carter, the gunner, deserve notice, not only in words, but in that substantial manner which is manifested by promotion. Why is not the Navy open to promotion? J. P. C.

THE REBELLION.

Our army in Kentucky is within a short distance of Bowling Green. They have repaired the Green river bridge, and will move forward as soon as Gen. Buell can brigade and otherwise dispose of the large number of regiments now arriving. When this is done he will take command and push forward to Nashville.

Orders were received on Monday, for all the Federal forces at Tipton, Mo., to hold themselves in readiness to march. At the same time Gen. Pope, at the head of nearly all the troops in winter quarters at Otterville, marched westward towards Warrensburg, as is generally supposed to cut off Price, whom our scouts reported making forced marches to reach Gens. Rains and Stein, now entrenched at Lexington.

A portion of the town of Platte City, Mo., including the court house and post office, was destroyed by fire Monday night, by the rebels. The county records were saved.—Many arrests have been made.

A private letter from Beaufort says that a stone fleet sailed from Savannah for Charleston, where they will be sunk in the channels. Tybee Island is occupied by one thousand men, who are to throw up batteries for use against Fort Palaski, if necessary. The steamer Baltic, with 1000 troops, had left Port Royal for Fernandina, Fla., accompanied by the Bienville and another gunboat.

The Charleston Courier has a report from Beaufort stating that the Yankees advanced their position to the rear of Port Royal Ferry on Tuesday, and crossed the ferry under cover of their artillery to the main land, where they destroyed several Confederate rifle pits.

THE CRY FOR BREAD IN FRANCE.—The London Times says that France will be compelled to spend forty millions sterling, or, in round numbers, two hundred millions of dollars to make up the deficiencies in the domestic bread crops of this year, and that both "Canada and the United States will be importing largely into France."

This circumstance is a strong bond, or guaranty, that France will not burn her fingers by any aggression on us, from whom, and through whom, she must get her daily bread.

It is also a bitter ingredient in the cup of blockade which New Orleans has most foolishly taken to her lips. A large portion of this grain should have passed down the Mississippi.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, Tuesday, a bill for the increase of the number of cadets at West Point was reported. A resolution was passed, inquiring of the Sec. of State, by what law passports are required of passengers from New York to San Francisco. Mr. Sumner introduced his French Spoliation bill. The bill providing for allotments to volunteers was reported back from the Military Committee with a substitute, which passed.

In the House Mr. Eliot's resolution with respect to the emancipation of the slaves of rebels, was referred to the Judiciary Committee. The chairman of the Investigating Committee reported resolutions with reference to various claims. Bills were reported making appropriations for pensions, for diplomatic expenses, and for damages to the owners of the British ship Perthshire, for her detention in Mobile last June, for a supposed breach of the blockade; the last bill was passed. Bills were reported, retiring certain naval officers; authorizing the Sec. of the Navy to construct twenty iron-clad steamers; and providing for a system of allotment of pay for our volunteers.

MR. VAN WYCK'S INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE have made their report, which reveals some stupendous extortions in the purchase and chartering of vessels. In regard to the purchase of arms, the States, and in some instances, even cities have been in competition with the general government, and those having them for sale have been making enormous profits. The purchase of arms is now confided to a bureau in the War Department, by recommendation of this committee; had it been do e earlier, millions of money would have been saved and supplies of arms would have been available at points where they have been much needed. The price paid for arms has in some cases been inexcusably exorbitant. Similar abuses have been discovered in contracts for other supplies, especially in the Department of the West; they are partly accounted for by the fact that private contracts have been made without previous advertisement for proposals, so that there was no competition. This course is contrary to law, except in extreme cases.

The New York Herald says that England cannot afford to go to war with us, for the conflict, sooner or later, would involve the loss of her West India Islands, of Canada and the adjoining Provinces, and last and most fatal of all, the loss of Ireland, her right arm in war, her granary in peace. England cannot go to war with us, for six hundred millions worth of American stock is owned by British subjects, which, in the event of hostilities, would be confiscated; and we now call upon the companies not to take it off their hands upon any terms.—Let its forfeiture be held over England as a weapon in terrorem. British subjects have two or three hundred millions of dollars invested in shipping and other property in the United States. All this property, together with the stocks, would be seized, amounting to nine hundred millions of dollars in all. Will England incur this tremendous loss for a mere abstraction?

The Rebels of Kentucky have organized a "Provisional Government" and left Gov. Magoffin "out in the cold." Whereat Magoffin is exceedingly wroth, swears terribly at the Secessionists, vows he has been made the victim of "misplaced confidence" and threatens to leave them in disgust. Poor Magoffin! the Unionists despise him—the Traitors snub him.

A sergeant of a Minnesota regiment was reported dead; and his friends were gathered to hear the minister preach his obituary, when he quietly took his seat in the congregation. The minister selected a different theme.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Salmon Falls Company has declared a dividend of 4 per cent. Its profits are said to be double the dividend.

—— The barn of Alden Clifford of Romney, containing about sixty tons of hay, a lot of grain and three oxen, was burned on Thursday night. On Friday night a barn belonging to Mr. Jabez Hall of Wentworth was burned, with two horses, a cow, some hay, grain, etc. Both fires are believed to be the work of incendiaries.

—— Stephen B. Sherwin, Esq., a prominent citizen of Rindge, died very suddenly last Saturday evening. He was presiding at a meeting in the Town Hall, for the presentation of a sword to the captain of the Rindge company, just enlisted, and had made a short introductory speech. While Rev. Dr. Burnham was making the presentation speech, Mr. Sherwin sank down in his chair and expired instantly without a struggle. He was one of the most influential men of the town, and held many offices of honor and trust.

—— On Tuesday, Dec. 10th, Mr. J. G. Vilkins of Antrim, tapped a sugar maple and obtained that day, from that tree, over a pailful of sap, and nearly as much the next day, which was afterwards made into maple honey. The oldest inhabitant on hearing of it, exclaimed—"Did you ever:—in December, too!"

—— A correspondent of the Manchester Mirror states that about two months ago the barn of Wm. More, Esq., of Wentworth, was burned by an incendiary. Ninety bushels of corn, together with other kinds of grain, were destroyed. A night or two previous, corn was stolen from the barn, and on the night of the fire Mr. M. and a boy about 14 years of age, together with two neighbors named Hall, undertook to watch the premises. The Messrs. Hall were in the barn when fire was set to the back side of it. Papers have been found about the premises, containing threats against Mr. More and the boy. Since the fire, Mr. More has discovered stumps, &c., on fire near his house, and the boy has been shot at twice. At one time a thick set man, with dark, bushy whiskers, approached with a gun in his hand, and when very near him raised the gun and fired; he then made at the boy with a knife, and flourished it over his head; the boy was cut in the hand, as he threw it up to avoid a blow; his clothes were scorched by the powder. Mr. More is a respectable citizen, and the boy is his nephew.

—— The law term of the Supreme Judicial District comprising the counties of Rockingham, Strafford and Carroll, is in session this week at Dover.

☞ The Round Hill Water-Cure Hotel, and Motorpathic Institute, at Northampton, Mass., although heretofore one of the largest institutions in the country, has been undergoing thorough and extended repairs, and has been enlarged by the erection of a fine four story building in modern style. In all the local advantages which render attractive an institution for invalids, and a summer retreat for others seeking relaxation and pleasure, Round Hill possesses many advantages over most watering places. It is surrounded on two sides by forty acres of forest park, which affords a most refreshing shade during the warm months, and protection from the north-west winds in winter. The water is supplied from living mountain springs, and is noted for its softness and purity. The carriage drives in the vicinity present a charming variety of romantic mountain scenery. There is every facility for bathing, and patients entering the Institution may expect the most careful and skillful treatment.

☞ Among the many caterers for public amusements who have favored us with a visit in months and years gone by, none has been more successful in pleasing our citizens than Mr. O. S. Chase, the gentleman who has now on exhibition at the Temple, one of the most beautiful Dioramas we have ever seen, representing true to nature the country village; the great naval battle between the United States and Macedonian; the icy regions of the North Pole, and a splendid view of the city of Venice, all animated by moving figures; also a magnificent scenic piece entitled the Golden Lake and Island of Beauty. The whole is enlivened with singing by the eminent vocalist, Mr. H. W. Canterbury. Do not fail to see them before they leave; they give another grand exhibition this evening.

☞ On Monday night last, the twelve-oared whale-boat "Zouave," owned by Mr. Samuel W. French, was taken from her moorings at the head of Union wharf, by some malicious person, and sunk near Drake's foundry, being filled with stones.—She was not found until Tuesday afternoon, and then the rudder and eight of the oars were missing. The boat was also considerably injured, and, doubtless, the poor wretch who committed the witless act chuckles at his "success." Mr. French advertises a reward of $25 for the conviction of the person who committed the act.

THE INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE have recently had their attention called to the case of a Pennsylvanian, who contracted to furnish the trans-Potomac camps with fire-wood, at $4 a cord. It is said he procures the whole supply from trees already felled by government, which he pays fifty cents a cord for cutting. It is then transported to the camps by government wagons. The inventor of this little plan thus clears, if the above statement be correct, $3.50 a cord.

☞ Capt. Edward C. Nichols, of ship Bald Eagle, died at Hong Kong, Sept. 28. His funeral, on the 28th, was attended by nearly all the British and American residents, and the flags of the shipping were displayed at half-mast, in respect to his memory.

☞ Commercial letters of the highest character from London state that England proposes to ask an explanation of the Trent affair, and perhaps ask an apology for an irregular proceeding, but no mention is made of a demand for the surrender of Mason and Slidell.

☞ A Washingthn dispatch says the proclamation of Gen. Phelps, at Ship Island, is condemned by all classes of politicians.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

WEBSTER ON MILITARY TERMS.—Although few would be willing to admit it in their own case, yet we feel assured there is, among almost every class of persons, too great and perhaps persistent a neglect of the claims which our own language has upon them for investigation and study. The war is having at least one good effect, which is, perhaps, not quite so insignificant as it may seem to the unthinking. It is compelling people to consult "Webster." Technical military terms are constantly occurring in newspapers, public addresses and in conversation. Of the exact meaning of these terms, military men, as well as civilians, are oftenprofoundly ignorant. They will be found accurately defined by WEBSTER.

THE KNICKERBOCKER for January is published, and has been enlarged sixteen pages. The old tea-colored cover has also been restored, much to the gratification of the old magazine's old friends. The "Revelations of Wall Street" are continued, and a sketch of their author, Richard B. Kimball, is the opening article of the number. The table of contents is varied and interesting. The publisher announces that he will send the Knickerbocker gratis to any regiment in active service, on application by its Chaplain or Colonel; and will send a copy to any soldier in the ranks at half price. Terms, $3 a year in advance; the Knickerbocker and the Continental Monthly, for one year, at $4.

☞ That long established and excellent journal The Albion, has just reduced its subscription price from six dollars a year to three dollars, abandoning at the same time its old, and now antiquated, plan of issuing every year an engraving for gratuitous distribution to its subscribers. We presume that this change will lead to large accessions to its subscription lists. The Albion is one of the most agreeable, as well as the most trustworthy, newspapers, although as the representative of British ideas and British interests, its opinions are, of course, sometimes such as we cannot coincide with.

☞ Messrs. Comstock & Cassady, of the Albany Atlas & Argus,—one of the oldest Democratic papers in the Union,—have transferred the publication of their weekly edition to New York City, where it will hereafter be issued under the name of the New York Argus. The prospectus announces that the object is to establish "a paper which shall be conducted with talent and prudence, with correct appreciation of the true principles of our Government and fidelity to them—in all respects a first-class newspaper."

It is beautifully printed, and we are pleased to welcome it to our exchange list. Its terms are;—single copy, $2; 21 copies to one address $20.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY for January presents a most inviting table of contents for the beginning of the new year. Articles by Agassiz, Hawthorne, Lowell and Dr. Windship, the celebrated athlete, render this number peculiarly valuable. The Bird-of-freedom Sonnet is full of Lowell's sharp wit. In addition to their former contributors, the publishers have succeeded in securing a series of contributions from Louis Agassiz, the eminent naturalist, which commence with the January number and will be continued in every number throughout the year.—They will be upon The Study of Natural History and kindred topics.

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE,—published monthly by W. H. Bidwell, New York; each number containing 144 pages, double columns. Price, $5. The articles are selected with discrimination from the best foreign reviews and magazines; and each number has a finely-engraved portrait of some prominent individual of the day.

THE CONTINENTAL MONTHLY for January is published. We would suggest to our readers that they purchase it, and see how completely it fulfils the promises of the publisher. It is edited by Charles G. Leland, Esq., one of the finest scholars in the country.

MEXICO.—Our diplomatic relations with Mexico, growing out of the complications arising from the European expedition to that country, are regarded as in a more critical condition than even our relations with England.

LATER FOREIGN NEWS.—One day's later foreign news has been received. The leading French journals begin to diverge from their late professed sympathy with the British government. They think the latter has been too hasty, and that the excitement in England is without adequate foundation, and in a large measure due to Manchester influences. The bluster of some of the London journals continues, and the war policy is flippantly chalked out. The recall of Mr. Adams is rumored—without the least foundation, of course.

At a banquet given to Mr. Bright at Rochdale, a letter was read from Mr. Cobden, in which he urged suspension of judgment until it is known whether the American government authorized the act, and if so, upon what ground they justify it.

J. H. HEAD'S.

THE STATESMAN FOR 1862.

AS the season approaches in which, more than at any other, people make their selections of newspaper reading, we ask attention to the desirable features which the Statesman presents to its New Hampshire subscribers.

It is the aim of its publishers to make this a temperate, reliable Republican newspaper; moral and candid in tone, good natured in spirit, and considerate in its intercourse with cotemporaries. It has every issue a large amount of well-collected news, agricultural and moral reading—as much certainly as any other journal in the State—and it is an especial aim of the publishers to omit the publication of nothing which especially concerns the people of New Hampshire to know.

Its political character is well established. It will continue to give its support to the administration of Abraham Lincoln, in whatever measures the President and his constitutional advisers may deem best for the general welfare of the nation.

It will advocate the general principles of the Republican party of New Hampshire, but will give vigorous support to the policy marked out in the call and circular of the State Committee. It will labor in the united efforts of all loyal men in the State to give New Hampshire's quota of support to the Union, and bear her portion of the burthens of the war.

It will endeavor to be a paper from the perusal of which its readers may arise with positive advantage. It will endeavor to reach the reason rather than the passions of men, and aim to impart cheerful thoughts to those firesides where it is received.

Reading of a sectarian character is excluded from the Statesman, but it is the purpose of its proprietors to keep its readers advised of occurrences of interest amongst the several religious denominations of New Hampshire.

It will continue to embrace a considerable portion of agricultural reading.

While the war for the Union continues, a large part of this paper will be occupied with the narration of military and naval occurrences. We shall publish all that is important and reliable, carefully avoiding all of opposite character.

It will continue those distinctive features which have met general approval, with such improvements as may commend themselves. It has inaugurated some novel experiments which have found favor with its cotemporaries, and others will be introduced as its resources permit.

The closing year has been one fraught with misfortune to newspaper interests. The circulation of the Statesman has, however, met with a gratifying increase, and was never so large as now. Although our pecuniary receipts, in consequence of the decline of advertising, have been smaller than before, we have endeavored to maintain the standard of excellence previously attained.

We hope to make the Statesman a highly desirable paper for New Hampshire people, and for sons of the State residing elsewhere.

Subscriptions may commence at any time. Specimen copies sent on application.

Newspapers which give the above one insertion, shall have an equal amount of advertising in the Statesman.

American Women.

America is justly proud of its beautiful women; but how many die annually, or prematurely lose their health and youth for want of a remedy suitable to their peculiar ailments. That remedy is found in SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS. We know hundreds of cases where they have been used with the greatest success.—In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed,—moderating excesses and removing obstructions, whether from cold or any other cause. Suffer no more anxiety or low spirits, but try them. For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the Agent.

One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 60 pills, by return mail. my26dawdm

Sold by W. R. PRESTON and all druggists.

MAD DOG.

This is to forbid any dealers in intoxicating liquors from selling the same to any Women or Minor. By adhering to the above you will oblige one who has suffered, not only himself but his family, severely, for years. Now why will you persist in this course?

ONE OF THE SUFFERERS.

Volunteers for the War

Should take a bottle of "THE HAMMOND LINIMENT." It is soothing to apply it when tired, to keep your feet from blistering. Cures Cuts, Bruises and Lameness. The Fifth Regiment of Massachusetts has ordered it. Sold by PRESTON and THACHER.

HOUSE-KEEPERS, TAKE NOTICE!

Please Call at No. 12 Market St.,

And examine the PATENT

UNIVERSAL CLOTHES-WRINGER,

THE GREATEST LABOR-SAVING MACHINE NOW IN THE MARKET!

Will more than pay for itself in the Wear of Clothing.

FOUR REASONS

Why no one should be without one of them:

1st—It will wring four times as fast as can be done by hand; much drier, and with one-fourth the labor; and wrings anything from a silk glove to a heavy Blanket.

2d.—Is simple, strong, and durable, and will not get out of repair.

3d.—Any servant will use it with safety to the machine, and with great saving of wear to the Clothes.

4th.—It is readily and firmly secured, to tubs of any thickness, and can be easily detached and set aside.

No House should be without one.

THE PATENT

FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably supersede all other Hair-Brushes, whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it pronounce it a complete success. It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot by any possibility get out of order, is compact, elegant, durable, and will save twice its own price within three months, by economizing Preparations for the Hair.

THE FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH is guaranteed to effect a Saving of One-half in the use of all hair washes, oils, &c., as compared with any and every other means of applying them. As some of these articles cost from one to two dollars per bottle, this is a matter of no small moment.

To recapitulate, in brief, the merits of the PATENT FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH:—

It dresses the hair without soiling the fingers; it effects a saving of one-half in the use of hair preparations; it does away with the greasy hair-oil bottles; it is a handsomer article than the common hair brush; it regulates the quantity of fluid used, to a drop; it is perfectly tight, and cannot spill over on the trunk or on the toilet; it carries enough of any preparation to last for a voyage or a long journey; its price is moderate, and it saves its own cost in three months; and finally, no sensible person who uses the PATENT FOUNTAIN BRUSH will ever use any other.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1857.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching Patents. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse" CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

HOUSE FURNISHING ESTABLISHMENT,

No. 46 Market Street, Portsmouth.

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,

Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster, or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking: giving an oven nearly 3ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and the jackets are provided for the back and hot plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves,.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE STOVE for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

Reference is made to Messrs. J. Trundy, J. M Mathes, N. K. Walker, C. C. Jackson, C H Mendum, James F. Shores, Geo. Whitehouse, Joseph E. Cate, Nathaniel Dennett, John Harrett, Phineas Nichols, Jas. Pollard, Raymond, Robert F. Gerrish, Kittery; Nath'l F. Berry, Gosport, and many others who are using the Stove.

This stove was thoroughly tested before being brought into the market, and we know that all that is said of it will be found true on trial.

THE GREATEST INVENTION OF THE AGE!

MAGEE'S

PATENT COOKING STOVE

For Wood or Coal,

Operating on the same principle as the celebrated

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE.

Jones & Bolles,

This beautiful COOK STOVE is now offered to the public with entire confidence in its being the BEST OPERATING, MOST DURABLE and ECONOMICAL Stove ever invented, requiring one-third less Fuel than any other Stove in the market, to do the same amount of cooking; and the fire may be kept in it the entire season, without going out. The public are invited to call and examine this Stove, which is all that is necessary to convince any person that it has no superior, and cannot be beat. And we predict for it that popularity and immense sale which has attended the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE since its introduction into this market.

"Every Stove is warranted to give ENTIRE SATISFACTION in every particular."

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES

We offer to the country trade and consumers a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as importers, is not an insufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE. Consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Those who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

GEN. HALLECK is described by a gentleman who recently saw him, as "appearing to have nothing to do except smoke.—He puffs continually, is entirely accessible, works prodigiously without fuss and red tape, and knows everything that is going on. He has a rich field for the exercise of genius. If he can bring order out of the chaos of the Western Department, he will prove himself not only a great General, but no mean statesman."

A member of the House from Pennsylvania states that immediately after the appointment of Gen. Halleck to the Department of Missouri, Gen. Fremont wrote to him saying that this was the wisest and best appointment the President had made.

HOW TO LEGALIZE ILLEGAL VOTING. We have had some experience in this city of queer counting of votes, be it this year and last, but they have a short way of dealing with such things in New York.—When the official canvassers were counting the city votes there last week, it was discovered that in the 1st district of the 9th Ward eleven more were cast than there were names recorded on the poll books.—Whereupon eleven of the ballots were drawn from the box indiscriminately, by a canvasser, which operation was pronounced to be satisfactory by the Board, and the return was thus rendered legal.—Bost. Trans.

CHARLESTON, S. C., we are told, has suffered more from fires than any other city in the United States. In 1778, there were 250 houses burned; in 1796, a third of the city was destroyed, valued at two and a half millions; in 1838 was the "great fire," which caused a loss of five millions; and now is the greater fire that takes 576 buildings, including five churches, public halls, hotels, &c., involving a loss of from five to seven millions. As much of this property was, probably, insured in Northern offices, the prospect of a recovery of the insurance is not very good.

A lady who, though in the autumn of life, had not lost all dreams of its spring, said to Douglas Jerrold: "I cannot imagine what makes my hair turn so gray; I sometimes fancy it is the essence of rosemary, with which my maid brushes it. What do you think?" "I should rather be afraid, madam," replied the distinguished dramatist, dryly, "that it is the essence of time."

The Skowhegan (Me.) Clarion says it is not true that Capt. Tessier, of the Bermuda, engaged in running the blockade, is a citizen of that place. He is a Frenchman,—his wife is a native of South Carolina,—and his family has spent one or two seasons at Skowhegan; that is the whole story of his citizenship.

Several batteries of the light and highly serviceable "Napoleon" cannon made on the imperial model, have been received in Washington and are in readiness for use. Eight horses can drag one of these guns through the deepest mud into which the "sacred soil" can be trodden.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1861.

WASHINGTON FASHIONS.—A Washington letter says, "Mrs. Lincoln's morning reception, on Saturday, was well attended.—On Tuesday evening the first drawing-room (miss-called a levee) will be held at the Executive mansion, and cards of invitation to several official dinner parties have been issued. Yet but few of the leading Republicans appear to be willing to take the places of the Southern Queens of Fashion, who have for years given tone to metropolitan society. Could a few drawing-rooms be occasionally thrown open, it would have a beneficial effect in consolidating Union sentiment, and not fail to exercise a salutary effect on our Diplopatic Corps.

Washington has been the seat of a slave-holding aristocracy, male and female, through which, under the false name of democracy, and the false pretence of "extending the area of freedom," the country has been ruled. All this must cease now, —for that old order of things can never come back again. There will doubtless be corruption there; but not that corruption.

☞ Two members of Congress—Conway of Kansas and Fouke of Illinois—being unable to agree upon the question of the Belmont fight, whether it was a defeat or a victory, propose to settle the matter by blowing out each other's brains. We are sorry that there is to be any rush waste, for the present Congress has no surplus of brains to spare; but if those fools are patriotic, instead of shooting at each other, why do they not challenge two of the rebels to single combat? They might put their lives, which the fighting of a duel indicates they deem worthless, to some good use.

☞ The report of Gen. Barnard, Chief Engineer of the army, which has just been submitted to Congress, shows that the defences around Washington consist of forty-eight works, mounting three hundred guns; that the whole defensive perimeter occupied is about thirty-five miles, exceeding by several miles the famous field-works of Torres Vedas, the most extensive fortifications of this kind known in modern times. Sec. Cameron has also submitted a report to Congress, in favor of the appropriation of $4,710,000 for putting our coast defenses in order, from the lakes round to San Francisco, a large portion of which is to be devoted to the defenses of New York harbor.

☞ Uncle Toby would suggest that our generals, one and all, had better not issue any more proclamations! If they, and our navy officers also, will treat the contrabands as Ben Butler did, viz., let them come and make them useful, it will be well. Use them for laborers, sailors, or soldiers, just as you need them, or as you would any other refugees,—but make no bluster about the matter.

Our officers, sailors and soldiers, go out to fight the enemy, not with paper shot, but with iron and lead. But they make a poor figure on paper with their proclamations.—Let us have no more of them. Sherman and Phelps both overshot the mark.

PEDESTRIANISM IN ENGLAND.—Nearly ten thousand persons assembled on the race ground at Haskney Wick, England, on the 26th ult., to witness the foot race between Deerfoot, the American Indian, and Samuel Barker, of London, for the ten miles Champion Cup and £50. The fleet Indian won easily, completing the whole distance under 54 minutes, and finishing as fresh as when he started.

☞ On the 18th ult., a building of seven stories in height, in High street, Edinburgh, suddenly fell, burying nearly the whole of the inmates in the ruins. The house was several centuries old. The whole gave way at once, falling inwards. 22 bodies have been taken out dead, and about 12 injured. The immense stack of building was densely populated, and it is estimated that not less than 100 people must have dwelt in it.

☞ Russell & Co., the owners of the factory where the Charleston fire commenced, say it was set on fire, and was the result of carelessness on the part of a number of country negroes, who had been quartered in a shed adjoining the establishment, in allowing their camp fires to get the better of them.

☞ A letter from an officer of the Gulf blockading squadron, states that a naval lieutenant named Baker, who forgot his duty to his flag early in the rebellion, has returned to his allegiance, and has joined the Gulf squadron. He is thoroughly convinced that he made a great mistake in joining his fortunes with that of the rebels.

MAINE.—When the cavalry troops, now nearly ready, are mustered into service Maine will have in the field one thousand more than her quota. The Pine Tree State has acted handsomely from the first. The high character of her troops for moral stamina and courage, is generally admitted.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, Wednesday, a bill was introduced, providing for the collection of a direct tax in insurrectionary districts. A resolution was adopted, instructing the Military Committee to inquire whether legislation is necessary for the correction of evils in the management of our hospitals. Mr. Sumner's resolution, that the army is not to be employed for the return of fugitive slaves, was agreed to.

In the House a bill giving to volunteers who have served three months a right of homestead and $30, in lieu of bounty lands, and $100 and the right of homestead to those who have served six months, was discussed at some length, and finally assigned to the first Monday in February. A bill was passed, appropriating one million dollars, in addition to other sums for the same purpose, for gunboats upon the Western waters; also, authorizing the Secretary of War to pay off the men and officers in the Western Department, including Gen. Fremont's forces. A resolution was adopted, instructing the committee on contract abuses to inquire into the expediency of abolishing or regulating sutlerships.

BOAT LOST.—On Sunday morning, two Newburyport pilots—Capt. William T. Colby and Capt. Jacob B. Chase, with two boatmen— were rowing near the Salisbury beach, when they were caught in the surf and the boat turned bottom up. They righted their boat and succeeded in landing opposite the Relay House, which they visited to dry themselves, leaving the boat high on the beach. Soon after, a strong gust of wind crossed the beach, and upon seeking the boat afterwards they found she had blown into the sea. The oars were lying on the shore, and from the marks on the sand it appeared she went some fifteen feet at a time without touching the earth, showing the force of the wind at the time. The boat, which was worth some fifty or sixty dollars, has not since been heard of.

HORSE-CHESTNUTS are used in Switzerland to fatten sheep for mutton; the flavor of which is said to be highly improved by them. They are there crushed in mills similar to our cider mills, and fed in measured proportions, otherwise sheep, in their greediness, will injure themselves. In an economical point of view, the horsechestnut in this country must in time become an article of importance for the purpose of increasing our forage resources, from the fact that cattle are as fond of them and can be fatted by them as well as sheep can.—Scientific American.

☞ The post office committee of the House have unanimously decided to introduce a bill to abolish the franking privilege. The committee also concluded to grant no further privileges in the case of soldiers' letters other than now given, that of sending their letters forward without prepayment.

☞ A letter from the McLean (Ohio) Regiment, says:

To-day the Colonel ordered an inspection of some hard-bread, or army crackers, to be made, which resulted in condemning forty-six barrels out of fifty. The crackers are stamped "1810," and the boys say they have seen several marked "B. C."

Kendall Gibbs, Esq., of Berwick, Me., has invented a very nice contrivance for fastening cattle to stanchions, for which he has applied for a patent. It consists of a rope, with a loop at one end and a knob at the other, connected by a swivel with a ring around the stanchion. The whole arrangement is very simple, and does away with all danger of cattle getting choked, and is to be sold for a price which will bring it within the reach of all. It is also adjustable to cattle of different ages, making it large enough for a large ox, or small enough for a yearling.—Saco Democrat.

For the Chronicle.

Messrs. Editors:—Much talk has been made, and many ways have been devised, by individuals and the Government, as to what can be done with the slaves, should they be emancipated.

I answer for myself only. They should be emancipated by our Government, according to the custom and laws of nations, in all the States that have revolted; and should be so proclaimed by our President.

Should there be any hesitancy on the part of the President of the expediency of this course for the want of a suitable place to locate them, allow me to suggest the best thing that has occurred to me. As all property belonging to rebels is, or ought to be, confiscated, it should be with States as with individuals.

Let a proclamation be sent forth by our chief officers who are making inroads into those slave States authorized by the President, on the sea coast as well as our land army, that the lands of all those States above named are to be sold to loyal subjects now living under our Government;—(this includes the blacks, who have never rebelled,)—on such terms, and in lots as will best accommodate the purchasers, say from five to ten years credit, so as to give ample time for those purchasers to pay for them in cotton or rice as may best meet the wishes of the purchasers, paying a certain portion or per centage yearly. Let the purchasers consist of the slave population as freely and on as liberal terms as the white population; let the lands be sold in small lots so as to prevent speculation, first offering the blacks the privelege of selecting one half of the land.

In this way, it seems to me, we should treat the rebels justly, shorten the war, prevent a sacrifice of life, and obtain funds sufficient to pay the expense of the rebel war out of their own doings, sustain the Constitution, and purge the land from its national curse.

A. B. C.

THE REBELLION.

A gentleman, from Williamsport late Tuesday night, reports that Jackson's rebel brigade has been largely increased, it is supposed to 9000, and that they were endeavoring to cross the Potomac, probably to make a dash upon Williamsport and secure the stores and arms there. Measures were being taken to defeat their object.

Gen. Buell, at Louisville, 18th, telegraphed to Gen. McClellan that Zollicoffer was either retreating across the Cumberland river, or preparing to do so. Three rebel regiments (3000 men) with a battery of six guns, attacked our pickets at Munfordville, on Wednesday. Our force consisted of about 350 men, and our loss was Lieut. Saxe and eight men killed and ten wounded. The rebel loss was 32 killed, including the Colonel of the Texas Rangers, and about 50 wounded. The rebels retreated ingloriously. Considering the disproportion of numbers, this proves the most brilliant Federal victory yet achieved.

Gen. James H. Lane has been tendered the position of Brigadier General by the President. He will accept it, and his command will embrace all the troops in Kansas.

The Marylanders are deserting from the rebel forces along the Lower Potomac. A boat load of them was fired on after leaving the Virginia shore for our side, Wednesday night, by the rebel batteries, but the men escaped.

A Southern dispatch says Gen. Humphrey Marshall has some 4000 or 5000 men under his command, and swears that he is going to dine in Lexington, Ky., on Christmas day.

Gov. Curtin of Pennsylvania, is about to issue a proclamation calling upon the inhabitants to form military organizations for State defence. He has had all the State arms collected, which are being repaired.

A Union refugee from Arkansas says all persons between the ages of 16 and 45 have been ordered to join the army. Those refusing were being arrested and imprisoned. Ben McCulloch had been summoned to Richmond to answer for needlessly burning the property of Southern men, and for refusing to reinforce Price when the latter was pursued by the Federal troops. McCulloch's forces were in winter quarters in Benton co., Ark. Six regiments of Indians were in his camp.

A letter from Port Royal states that the gunboat R. B. Forbes has been disabled, and will probably be towed to a Northern port for repairs. A hole, nine inches in diameter, was made in the side of the steamer, by the breaking of the shafting which holds the propeller.

Floyd's rebel army has been ordered to Bowling Green, Ky. Their removal so far west, says the Richmond Dispatch, leaves a very large portion of Virginia exposed to the enemy. The effect upon the temper of the people in the exposed counties will be "very untoward."

There is little news from Port Royal. The Federal troops fully occupied the town of Beaufort. Large quantities of cotton continue to be gathered and brought to the coast.

The British ship Cheshire, from Liverpool, attempting to run the blockade at Savannah, was captured by the gunboat Augusta, and sent to New York in charge of a prize crew. She had a cargo of coffee, salt and army blankets.

The steamship Constitution arrived at Boston, Wednesday night, and will at once commence taking on board supplies for Gen. Butler's expedition. It is understood that she will convey the Twelfth Maine regiment and Col. French's regiment, both of which are now at Camp Chase, Lowell, as a reinforcement of the troops which she has already landed at Ship Island.

☞ The English messenger to Lord Lyons, and the bearer of Mr. Adams' dispatches to our Government reached Washington Wednesday, at midnight. The Times' dispatch says at a Cabinet meeting the whole matter of the Trent was discussed, though informally. The sentiment prevalent is understood to have been, no quarrel with England must be permitted to interfere with putting down the rebellion. The demands of England, whatever they may be, will be met in a spirit of conciliation.

☞ A Washington dispatch says the ships of war Constellation at Portsmouth and the Macedonian, when they shall have been refitted, are under orders to cruise in foreign seas for the protection of our commerce. Steamer Wyoming on the Pacific coast goes to China waters for the same purpose.

☞ The Portland Advertiser asserts that "a number of young gentlemen and ladies got pretty well saturated with water" by breaking through the ice while skating in that city on Wednesday. Thin skins, eh?

☞ Secretary Chase denies positively any intention on the part of the Government to forbid the export of specie.

☞ Silver is selling in Richmond at 25, and gold at 35 per cent premium.

Local.

☞ Col. Wm. S. Hadley & Son have purchased the Rockingham House in this city; and Maj. Coburn retires in their favor on the 1st of January, from the position he has so satisfactorily occupied as landlord of that popular hotel. Col. Hadley is widely known as one of the most successful caterers for the public; and his son has had ample business experience in New York. "The Rockingham" will not lose its high repute, under their charge.

☞ The dealers in dry goods in this city have agreed to close their places of business at seven o'clock each evening during the present winter, except on Saturday evenings. This liberal course on the part of the proprietors may prove of decided advantage to the many clerks employed, while it will not, probably, prove to the injury of the proprietors themselves.

A RARE EXHIBITION.—One of the best exhibitions we have visited for a long time is "Chase's Great Museum of Art," now open every evening at the Temple. This exhibition has been visited by a large number of our citizens, who pronounce it one of the best ever seen in Portsmouth. The reputation with which it comes among us, and the approval it meets with from our own people, should secure for it a still more flattering reception.

☞ We are indebted to Mr. A. G. Furber of this city—now rusticating in the mountain and lake region of New Hampshire—for a noble specimen of pickerel, received in good order per express, on Thursday morning. Capt. H. says we've "got something for a leader now'—an editorial leader, he means. And friend Furber must look out, or the first thing he knows, he'll "follow your leader," and be in,—if he hooks to such fish as that of ours. It is (was) two feet long, and weighed about four and a half pounds.

☞ The Ballot can't understand the difference between political economy and party politics—don't see the odds 'twixt independent action and neutral inaction—and won't comprehend the distinction which may exist, between the personality of editors and the character of a newspaper.

We only add now, what everybody but the Ballot knew before—that we did not take any Gazette subscribers, except when requested to do so by themselves—and that we have heard no word of complaint from any one of the scores and hundreds of them who are flocking to our list. Those who didn't like our paper, didn't come—and we don't want any such. So our friend can't bark up both sides of that tree.

☞ We have received a copy of Mrs. Dall's new book, entitled Woman's Rights under the Law,—from Mr. J. H. Head, who has the book for sale. We have already given it a favorable notice.

☞ A large sale of a farm and farm stock, &c., takes place to-day. See Auction column.

☞ See advertisement of rare Statuary, &c., in Auction column.

☞ We have received a letter from Mr. William W. Black, on board the U. S. frigate Santee, giving an account of the capture of the rebel schooner Royal Yacht by boats from the Santee. We have already published a letter from another correspondent giving an account of the capture. Mr. Black says that the expedition consisted o the Santee's 1st Launch, mounting a 12 pound Howitzer, manned by about 18 men, each armed with a cutlass and revolver, and commanded by Lieut. James E. Jouett, assisted by Wm. W. Carter, Gunner; the 2d Launch, also mounting a 12-pound Howitzer, manned by about 16 men fully armed and commanded by Lieut. J. G. Mitchell, assisted by Charles W. Adams, master's mate, of this city; and the 3d Cutter with 12 men well armed, in charge of Henry G. Lambert master's mate, also of this city. The Cutter was intended to serve as a guide when the Launches should be returning to the ship, or to give a signal in case of the approach of the enemy.

OLD GARDENS. — All gardens — especially old ones—should have a dressing of lime once every five or six years. If, before the lime is applied, they were dug (twenty inches deep, and the subsoil thrown on top, the effect would be surprising. It would be doubly as productive. Ashes and salt, every three or four years, are also excellent. Many persons enrich their gardens heavily, year after year, with barn-yard manure, and then they wonder that their crops are annually growing less.—If they would follow our system, occasionally liming, ashing and salting, as we have often recommended— of course only applying one of these agents in any one year, the ground would soon be brought to its original fertility.

Digging deeply the gardens into in the fall, allowing the ground to lie in lumps, for the action of the frost through the winter, will also be found to have an excellent effect.

A French and English alliance against us, could it be brought about, might revive certain Crimean memories in the breast of Russia which would bring us an ally who has always been our friend in deed as well as word.

PHOTOGRAPHS AND PHOTOGRAPH ALBUMS.—The acquisition of card photographs of friends and of distinguished individuals is now all the rage throughout Europe and this country, and certainly nothing in the line of fine arts could be more attractive or of more permanent value. Messrs J. E. Tilton of Boston—who have been distinguished for the elegance of their publications—have paid great attention to this new branch of publication. They now manufacture by machinery about one hundred styles of the albums, and publish some thousands of subjects of card photographs including distinguished military, literary, theatrical. Dealers and others purchasing for the holidays, would do well to get their list, which they send free, or call at their store, 161 Washington street, Boston.

How much expression can be given and exchanged by a grasp of the hand or a glance of the eye!—an intercourse with those we regard bearing silent yet powerful evidence of that unspeakable love which exists in the depths of our nature, most eloquent when the tongue is silent. A warm pressure of the hand can be understood by all.

GOOD MEN.—It is necessary to bear ever in mind that to be great is not always to be good. A good man is always great, for there is a beautiful nobility in goodness;—but a great man is not always a good man. You need go no further than the annals of history to learn this self-evident truth.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

We will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notices may be ordered for the Chronicle; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Our terms for Subscription, Advertising and Job Work, except where accounts are open, are invariably and exclusively, cash in advance of doing the work.

American Women.

America is justly proud of its beautiful women; but how many die annually, or prematurely lose their health and youth for want of a remedy suitable to their peculiar ailments. That remedy is found in SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS. We know hundreds of cases where they have been used with the greatest success.—In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Low spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed,—moderating excesses and removing obstructions, whether from cold or any other cause. Suffer no more anxiety or low spirits from fear. For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the Agent.

One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 Pills, by return mail. my28daw3m

Sold by W. R. PRESTON and all druggists.

MAD DOG.

This is to forbid any dealers in intoxicating liquors from selling the same to any Woman or Minor. By adhering to the above you will oblige one who has suffered, not only himself but his family, severely, for years. Now why will you persist in this course?

ONE OF THE SUFFERERS.

Volunteers for the War

Should take a bottle of "THE HAMMOND LINIMENT." It is soothing to apply it when tired, to keep your feet from blistering. Cures Cuts, Bruises and Lameness. The Fifth Regiment of Massachusetts has ordered it. Sold by PRESTON and THACHER.

CHRISTMAS PRESENTS

A welcome, Old Christmas, a welcome once more!
Though a twelvemonth 'tis now since we met,
Thy kindly old face looks as fresh as before,
Not a wrinkle of age is there yet.

A welcome, old Christmas, a welcome once more—
Though thy head be all frosty and chill,
Thy heart is yet warm with its good kindly store
Of affections and fondnesses still.

So says the Poet,

And to give the public an opportunity to welcome CHRISTMAS, in an appropriate manner, we offer for sale, AT EXTREMELY LOW PRICES,

Will more than pay for itself in the Wear of Clothing.
FOUR REASONS
Why no one should be without one of them:
1st.—It will wring four times as fast as can be done by hand; much drier, and with one-fourth the labor; and wrings anything from a silk glove to a heavy Blanket.
2d.—Is simple, strong, and durable, and will not get out of repair.
3d.—Any servant will use it with safety to the machine, and with great saving of wear to the Clothes.
4th.—It is readily and firmly secured, to tubs of any thickness, and can be easily detached and set aside.
No House should be without one.

THE PATENT
FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably supersede all other Hair-Brushes, whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it pronounce it a complete success. It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot by any possibility get out of order, is compact, elegant, durable, and will save twice its own price within three months, by economising Preparations for the Hair.

THE FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH is guaranteed to effect a Saving of One-half in the use of all hair-washes, oils, &c., as compared with any and every other means of applying them. As some of these articles cost from one to two dollars per bottle, this is a matter of no small moment.

To recapitulate, in brief, the merits of the PATENT FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH:—

It dresses the hair without soiling the fingers; it effects a saving of one-half in the use of hair preparations; it does away with the greasy hair-oil bottle; it is a handsomer article than the common hair brush; it regulates the quantity of fluid used, to a drop; it is perfectly tight, and cannot spill over on the trunk or on the toilet; it carries enough of any preparation to last for a voyage or a long journey; its price is moderate, and it saves its own cost in three months; and finally, no sensible person who uses the PATENT FOUNTAIN BRUSH will ever use any other.

SAMBUCI WINE.
The Celebrated SAMBUCI WINE, direct from the Vineyard, for sale by
L. LAIGHTON.

Morning Chronicle.

In a serenade speech at Washington on Saturday evening, Capt. Wilkes said that should another emergency, similar to the Mason and Slidell affair, arise, he should do exactly the same thing again.

The total number of arms bought in Europe, since the beginning of the war, is about 200,000. Many of them are poor in quality, and all quite inferior to American-made guns.

The Maine Cavalry Regiment, Col. John Goddard, will go to Portland by railroad and from thence by transport to Annapolis. They will leave as early as the 25th.

The "two millions worth of cotton" taken from Beaufort district will just about pay the expenses of the naval expedition thither.

They are burning corn for fuel in Logan county, Illinois, and corn for 7c. per bushel is cheaper than coal at 20c.

There have been 11,364 miles of submarine telegraphic cable laid, of which only about 2000 miles are in actual operation.

WORCESTER'S
ILLUSTRATED
ROYAL QUARTO DICTIONARY,
The Standard.

This massive volume contains ONE THOUSAND EIGHT HUNDRED AND FIFTY-FOUR Pages. It is illustrated by more than ONE THOUSAND SUPERB WOOD CUTS. FIVE THOUSAND words are accurately SYNONYMIZED; the Tables of PROPER NAMES Pronounced are very full and concise.

☞ It is the BEST DEFINING and PRONOUNCING DICTIONARY of the English Language, and contains many thousand more words and meanings than are to be found in any other similar work.

☞ It is the standard recognized by our eminent authors. It is the standard authority for the Official Records and Documents and Public Printing of the United States.

☞ Every family should possess a copy, for it is a Library of itself. It is the only American Dictionary which is a safe guide. It is the only desirable Dictionary of the language.

From Hon. Geo. P. Marsh, LL. D., Author of "Lectures on the English Language."

The work of Dr. Worcester is unquestionably MUCH SUPERIOR to any other general Dictionary of the language, in EVERY ONE of these particulars, and it is therefore entitled to rank FIRST among the existing helps to a complete knowledge of English philology.

From William Cullen Bryant and Washington Irving.

The new authentic orthoepics, the conciseness and COMPLETENESS OF THE DEFINITIONS, the nicety with which the different shades of meaning in synonyms are distinguished, and the CONSCIENTIOUS ACCURACY of the work in all its departments, give it, in my judgment, the highest claims to public favor.

I concur with the opinion of Mr. Bryant.—Washington Irving.

From Prof. Oliver Wendell Holmes, Boston.

It is, indeed, a MONUMENTAL WORK, and one of which our city and country may be proud as long as we have a city, a country, and a language.

From Charles Dickens, England.

It is A MOST REMARKABLE WORK, of which America will be justly proud, and for which all who study the English Language will long have reason to respect your name, and to be grateful to you.

From the Rev. W. Whewell, D. D., Master of Trinity College, Cambridge, England, Author of "History of the Inductive Sciences."

I have repeatedly consulted the Dictionary, since it has been in my possession, and have seen reason to think it MORE COMPLETE AND EXACT than any of its predecessors.

From Rev. Joseph Bosworth, D. D., F. R. S., Professor of Anglo-Saxon in Oxford University, England.

The whole work is the most comprehensive and useful that I have yet seen. It is THE MOST COMPLETE AND PRACTICAL, THE VERY BEST, as well as the cheapest English Dictionary that I know.

From C. C. Felton, LL. D., President of Harvard College.

I find it not only rich beyond example in its vocabulary, but carefully elaborated in all the details, and THOROUGHLY TRUSTWORTHY as a guide to the most correct and elegant usage of the language.

From Geo. B. Emerson, LL. D., Member of Mass. Board of Education.

I wish it to be known that I consider Dr. Worcester's new Dictionary the best and the MOST UNEXCEPTIONABLE DICTIONARY of the English Language with which I am acquainted.

From Hon. Charles Sumner.

I know no one who has done so much as you for all departments, and given to our language a Dictionary SO COMPLETE AND MANY-SIDED. It ought to be in every library, academy and school.

The issue of a few months will be sufficient to establish Worcester's Dictionary as the acknowledged standard of reference among the scholars of England and America.—London Literary Gaz., Feb. 11, 1861.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as these will be the BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other Agency of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

HOUSE FURNISHING ESTABLISHMENT,

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,

Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster, (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz.:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot-closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and 3 jackets are provided for the back and both sides. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves,.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

Reference is made to Messrs. J. Trundy, J. M. Mathes, N. K. Walker, C. C. Jackson, C. H. Mendum, James F. Shores, Geo. Whitehouse, Joseph E. Weeks, Geo. W. Davis, Greenland; John Smart, Stratham; H. L. Pollard, Raymond, Robert F. Gerrish, Kittery; Nath'l F. Berry, Gosport; and many others who are using the Stove.

This stove was thoroughly tested before being brought into the market, and we know that all that is said of it will be found true on trial.

☞ We have also a very beautiful new pattern COOK STOVE, called the

Model Range;

Of which very many are being sold. It works well and comes cheap, and is well suited for a small family.

THE GREATEST INVENTION OF THE AGE!

For Wood or Coal,

Operating on the same principle as the celebrated

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE.

This beautiful COOK STOVE is now offered to the public with entire confidence in its being the BEST OPERATING, MOST DURABLE and ECONOMICAL Stove ever invented, requiring one-third less Fuel than any other Stove in the market, to do the same amount of cooking; and the fire may be kept in it the entire season, without going out. The public are invited to call and examine this Stove, which is all that is necessary to convince any person that it has no superior, and cannot be beat. And we predict for it that popularity and immense sale which has attended the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE since its introduction into this market.

"Every Stove is warranted to give ENTIRE SATISFACTION in every particular."

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1861.

CHRISTIAN COURTESY.—We are very glad to see in the Congregational Journal, so kind and friendly a paragraph as the following, which is the close of an editorial article on Rev. N. S. Folsom's "return to Unitarianism."

"Though it may be difficult for strangers to see how a man of learning, piety and candor should be influenced by such flimsy reasoning as this to change the most essential points in his system of religious faith, yet those who are acquainted with Mr. Folsom, will give him the credit, we think, of sincerity. We have no doubt that each of the three changes he has made in his creed was the result of sober, honest conviction, and cost him a severe struggle; and we fear he is travelling the highway of changes, which will land him in a negation of all that is essential in the Gospel system. We are truly pained to learn that he has so soon left us, and that he is now going, we know not where. He will have, we trust, the prayers of all his former Christian acquaintances, that he will be guided back to truth and held fast in its embrace by the Spirit of Him who said, "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free."

Fifty or sixty years ago, Congregationalism, in this part of the country, was sufficiently broad and flexible, to embrace within its fold, Calvinists, Arminians, and Universalists,—Athanasians, Arians, and Humanitarians. Since that time some of the points have been sharpened, and some of the best and kindest men have been impalled upon the horns of theological dilemmas, on doctrines which no mortal can comprehend, and where nobody but a blockhead will be dogmatic.

We presume however, there are yet some congregations in New England, that will not bind their preacher to the creed of Arius or Athanasius, but will join with him in the Apostles' creed, as common ground for all.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, Thursday, a petition from citizens of Ohio, that John C. Fremont be appointed Lieut. General, was presented. A resolution was offered, declaring that the war was begun by the rebels without provocation, and for the purpose of destroying the government. The resolution to adjourn to Jan. 6 was brought up but not disposed of.

In the House, the bill making an appropriation for the construction of twenty ironclad gunboats was passed; also a bill to promote the efficiency of the dead letter office, and for the abolition of the franking privilege. The bill abolishing the franking privilege provides that those now having that right shall be empowered to send public documents without prepaying, the rate of postage for such matter to be 2 cents per pound. The dead letter bill provides that all letters coming to that office shall be returned to the writers, treble postage to be paid on money letters, and double on all others; 25 additional clerks to be appointed, at a salary of $800 each. The estimated addition to the revenue by this bill is $13,000; by that abolishing the franking privilege, $1,000,000.

COAST DEFENCES.—The Secretary of War has submitted to Congress the estimates of the Engineer Department of the amounts required for fortifications now existing or in course of construction, and also for temporary and field fortifications and engineer operations in the field, &c., for the second half of the fiscal year and all of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1863. The whole sum of money needed is $4,710,000.—Among the items are $150,000 at the narrows of the Penobscot river, Fort Knox; $150,000 at Portland harbor; $75,000 for Fort Warren, and $100,000 for Fort Winthrop, Boston; and $150,000 at New Bedford.

☞ The Navy Department urgently invites our New England fishermen to enlist, and offers the greatest inducements to that end. They can ship at any rendezvous for the war; and only for the war; there is little or no probability of their being sent on foreign stations; there is plenty of active work to be done at home, and be done immediately. Several expeditions are now nearly ready to sail for the southern coast —where there is sure to be fighting. It is the men who are wanted. The fishermen of New England, who have received the bounty of Government for sixty-two years, are now invited by the Secretary to come forward and fulfil the expectations which induced that bounty. The ships, and steamboats, and bomb-vessels are ready.

☞ The correspondent of the New York Times telegraphs from Washington, —"The extraordinary Proclamation of Gen. Phelps at Ship Island excited the amazement and indignation of the President.—Its revolutionary and fanatical spirit, and total disregad for the policy of the Administration, render his instant removal imperative. The only excuse offered for Gen. Phelps is, that he is crazy."

☞ The Salisbury (woolen) Mills have declared a dividend (semi-annual) of ten per cent., payable Jan. 1. This will do for war times.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Pope succeeded on Wednesday in cutting off a part of Price's forces, in Clinton and Henry counties, Mo., and dispersed them completely, capturing their baggage, arms and ammunition. There was no fighting done; the rebels gave no opportunity for that. Gen. Pope sent out a reconnoitering party, which went within 15 miles of Osceola, and brought back 300 prisoners, captured in small squads. A train of 70 wagons with clothing and supplies for Price were also captured. The country from Rose Hill to Grand river is clear of rebels. Gen. Price has but 8000 men at Osceola.

Gen. Hallock has a roll of about 400 names of wealthy Missouri secessionists, with various sums set against them, which sums the gentlemen in question will be called on to pay, for the support of fugitives from the southwest. Sixty of them were to be phlebotomised Friday to the extent of from $100 to $400 each.

On Thursday morning a rebel battery of three guns, flanked by about two hundred infantry, shelled the encampment of Geary's Pa. Regiment at Point of Rocks. Our forces opened fire with two guns, the first shot disabling one of the rebel guns. Our battery then advanced with a continuous fire. The rebels were driven from their position in full retreat, fourteen killed and many wounded.

A Union refugee from Richmond, who escaped on claim of being a British subject, says he belonged to a Union club, but their rendezvous being discovered, the members were forced to scatter. Twenty-two hundred rebel soldiers were sick at Richmond.

The rebels have sunk hulks near Norfolk, rendering approach by water impossible. An attempt was made on Monday last to launch the Merrimac, but she stuck on the ways and could not be moved up or down.

A Frankfort, Ky., dispatch says advices from Somerset state that at daylight, Gen. Schoepf with all his force marched out to attack the rebels. Zollicoffer is in position at Fishing Creek, with 6000 men and some artillery. Gen. Schoepf was confident of whipping him, with some hope of catching most of his men.

The Tribune's dispatch says Lord Lyons called upon Sec. Seward, Thursday. The communication he made is yet a secret. No Cabinet meeting has been held on the subject. Mr. Adams' dispatches, while stating in detail the feelings of the British government and people, express no knowledge of the nature of the instructions sent to Lord Lyons.

Several Englishmen now in our army, among them Col. Havelock and Capt. Stuart, have signified their intention to resign, should further complications ensue.

Steamer Atlantic has arrived at New York from Port Royal, with 120,000 lbs. of cotton, gathered by negroes under the direction of government agents. Gen. Stevens' brigade, 4000 men, now occupies Beaufort, Lady Island, St. Helena and Bay Point. Gen. Viele's expedition has been abandoned. Gen. Sherman has issued orders for all reporters to leave Port Royal immediately. The number of troops at Port Royal is 20,000. 400,000 lbs. of cotton have been secured, and will be shipped by the next steamer.

The government has intelligence from Manassas that more troops have arrived within a few days from the South.

We are indebted to Mr. Wm. H. Brewster for a copy of the Traveller Extra of Friday evening, containing the following account of another decisive victory in Missouri:—A second portion of Gen. Pope's forces surprised another camp of rebels at Warrensburg, on Wednesday. A skirmish ensued, when the rebels, finding themselves surrounded, surrendered. 1300 prisoners were taken; 1000 stand of arms, 65 wagons, 1000 horses, large quantities of tents, baggage and supplies.

The Memphis Avalanche says Galveston, Texas has been evacuated by the rebels.

Claib. Jackson has issued a proclamation calling on the people of Missouri to furnish Jeff. Thompson 20,000 men, and to augment Price's force to 60,000.

☞ Since the beard and moustache followed in the wake of lager and meerschaum, and became Americanized, the number of barber shops in Philadelphia has fallen from over 200 to about 80. There are not more than one-sixth as many shaving brushes manufactured, and the importation of razors has declined in a corresponding ratio.

☞ Public feeling is Washington continues tranquil. It is rumored in New York that Secretary Chase had received a dispatch from Washington, saying that no doupt of an amicable settlement of the Trent difficulty was entertained by the government.

☞ We have received from A. Williams & Co., agents for Harper & Brothers' publications, a copy of the first number of the new Continental Monthly. For sale in this city by J. H. Foster.

Four-story shirt collars are now all the go in New York. The Home Journal man says he saw one the other day, with a steeple to it.

Recollections of Old Acquaintance.

BY UNCLE TOBY.

MY OLD SCHOOL-MASTERS.—[Continued.]—MARK DENNETT.—Another teacher at the Gravelly Ridge School House, to whom the writer went but a short time, was Mark Dennett, a son of one of the builders. He taught there for many years,—and though educated on the spot, and always living among his pupils and their parents, he enjoyed much of that honor among his own people, which prophets rarely receive, and must be set down in our chronicles as a thorough and successful teacher; not pretending to anything he did not know or could not do, but in a patient and faithful manner administering instruction in a school whose interest and numbers increased year by year, till the old school house could no longer contain them.

The District from which Master Dennett's large school was gathered, was not exactly limited by metes and bounds; but he had scholars from Noble's Island, from the Plains and Great Swamp, Beechwoods and Newington. From all these points but the last named, the boys might have reached the more central schools of Portsmouth, with much less travel. But they, with farmer-like manners, customs and tastes, felt more at home in the Ridge School, and perhaps fancied that they were, on the whole, better fitted for their business there, than anywhere else.

The sports of such boys were of course athletic; some might call them rough; but they were generally good-natured. Once our wood-pile failed; the winter was broken and uneven, and the travelling was bad; and somebody, whose business it was to haul the wood to the school house, had forgotten or neglected to do it. The great boys had split up the hard knots, and the little urchins had scraped up the chips at noon time, and by one o'clock we had only a great bed of coals left. The teacher said nothing; but when he came in from his dinner, he brought a sharp axe, and one of the boys brought another. With these tools, two of the largest boys, men in size and strength, were silently sent off to the alder swamp, which then filled the lowland, now the fine meadow of Benjamin Hodgdon. The lessons were gone through with in a summary manner, the girls dismissed, and the boys were told they might go on the ice in the swamp and get wood. Every one went; and by sundown we had a pile of alder brush before the door, as high as the school house,—and merry fires it made for a week, before the close of which we had fuel more substantial. The idea of stopping the school for want of fuel found no place there, nor yet the idea that we should have no fire, while the alder swamp lasted. No better fun could have been offered, than the chance to get another lot of alders on our shoulders.

When the school, in its annual increase, was altogether too much crowded, then the town of Portsmouth, by their committee, entered the old school-house, demolished the old chimney, and, instead of it and the closet, placed the teacher's stand in the western end, by a window looking out on the highway; on the eastern end they added a new piece as large as the old house; under which new part, as the floor was elevated and the ground fell off, they made a cellar for wood. New windows were added, the walls and ceiling plastered, a stove introduced; new books, new teachers and new fashions prevailed.

Mr. Dennett lived to the age of three-score and ten, and has been dead only a few years. His choice of useful books for his school was very judicious. Webster's Spelling Book for the youngsters, and the "Arts and Sciences," a book compiled and published by Charles Peirce, for the elder scholars, were the standard class-books. In Arithmetic, Merrill was the only author.—We have not seen a copy of the "Arts and Sciences" these thirty years; but we remember it as a very interesting schoolbook, containing a great amount and variety of information.

It may not be amiss for us to say, before leaving the Gravelly Ridge School, that the old school house was not built by the town of Portsmouth, but by Jeremy Dennett and John Shannon of Portsmouth, and Richard Pickering and Benjamin Miller of Newington, on land given by Deacon Eliot and Jonathan Warner, Esq., of Portsmouth.

A JEWEL OF A BOOK.—A splendid book for the coming holidays, compiled by J. H. Head, of Portsmouth, N. H., author of Home Pastimes, will be published next week by Crosby & Nichols. It is entitled "Jewels from the Quarries of the Mind," and contains selections from the most attractive authors known to English literature. It will appear in an exquisite dress, designed by the author, who has few equals as a decorative artist. From specimen sheets that we have seen, we judge it will prove the leading book of the season.—Boston Traveller.

NOTICE.

The Annual Meeting of the NEW HAMPSHIRE STATE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY, for the choice of officers and the transaction of other business, will be held at SMYTH'S HALL, in MANCHESTER, on WEDNESDAY, the 29th day of December, 1861, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon. AARON YOUNG, Secretary.

Portsmouth, Dec. 2, 1861.

TO NEW SUBSCRIBERS.

To all who shall pay $4 for the Daily Chronicle, or $1 for the Weekly, for the year 1862, we will furnish the paper without charge to Jan. 1.

CARDS AND BILL HEADINGS are indispensable to the business man, and we would remind all in want of such work, that the Chronicle Office is the place to get it done.

Local.

SUNDAY SERVICES.—The Christian Society (which has been occupying the Hanover street Chapel) having purchased the Church on Court street, recently occupied by the Brodhead M. E. Society, will occupy that Church for the first time to-morrow. The Pastor, Rev. I. F. Waterhouse, will occupy the pulpit, morning and afternoon.

Rev. Charles Noyes, of Brighton, Mass., will preach at the Unitarian Church to-morrow.

Mrs. Frances Young will speak for the Spiritualists, at Mercantile Hall, to-morrow afternoon and evening. 1t

☞ The Hanover street Chapel having proved too small to accommodate the large number who are desirous to hear Rev. Mr. Fletcher's course of lectures, the third lecture, on Monday evening next, will be delivered in the North Church. The lecture will be upon the wonders of the Alpine region, the gallantry of the King of Sardinia, and the heroism of Garibaldi;—while a full and graphic account of the Waldenses, the admiration of every age, will be given. There will be appropriate music, and those who have not attended the lectures already given, will do well to attend the two yet to be delivered. To those who have attended them, such a suggestion is unnecessary.

☞ The weather for December has been delightful. Wednesday, the 18th, was the shortest day of the year—9 hours 4 minutes; and here it is almost Christmas, and no real winter yet. It will soon come, though. A peculiarity of the month has been some of the most gorgeous sun risings and sun-settings known in these parts.—Usually, in December, if the sun does not go down beneath dismal clouds, he disappears with no accompanying splendor.—But this month we have had several sunsets that would rival those of Italy.

THE CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS are at hand, as any one will perceive by the advertisements in the columns of the Chronicle.—The fur dealers, the booksellers, the jewelers, fancy goods traders, and others, are preparing to offer the usual assortment of articles this season. War or no war, Christmas must be remembered, nor can New Year's be forgotten. The stores remind young and old that the holidays— happy season—are at hand.

It is worth the while for all who love the beautiful, to look about town and see the pretty things. Our advertising columns are a good Directory. Among others, don't fail to admire the rich new show-case, well filled, at John Sise's.

☞ It will be seen that Mr. Henry S. Bodge has taken the store recently occupied by his brother—and advertises to close out the stock of watches, jewelry, &c., at very low prices. Mr. Bodge has spent several years in an extensive jewelry establishment in New York, and after large business experience, returns home and solicits the patronage of his fellow citizens. Don't fail to read his advertisement, among the rest of the holiday announcements.

☞ The following is a correct list of the officers of the sloop-of-war Constellation, now lying at the Portsmouth Navy Yard:

Commander—H. K. Thatcher.
1st Lieutenant and executive officer—W. W. Low.
2d Lieutenant—R. R. Wallace.
Surgeon—J. S. Messersmith.
Paymaster—H. H. Pangborn.
Lieut. commanding Marines—R. O. N. Ford.
Assistant Surgeon—S. J. Clark.
Acting Masters—E. B. Mallett, A. W. Kempton, A. Allen.
Acting Midshipmen—C. F. Blake, S. Backus.
Captain's Clerk—E. B. Hinkley.
Paymaster's Clerk—S. W. Kay.
Master's Mates—F. M. Ryder, Geo. H. Drew, M. H. Wilson, B. J. Craig.
Boatswain—J. B. F. Langton.
Gunner—J. R. Granger.
Carpenter—H. R. Philbrick.
Sailmaker—Samuel Tatem.

☞ Among the improvements going on in our city, we notice John J. Pickering, Esq. is erecting a large and elegant mansion, on Middle street, opposite Summer—one of the most eligible situations in town, as the house bids fair to be one of the finest. Mr. James Moses is the builder.

An addition is also being made to the grocery store of Mr. Henry F. Gerrish, on Market Square, which will fill the space between the Pearse Block and Piscataqua Bank.

☞ Mr. Adams, general agent for Mr. J. H. Bufford, lithographic artist, of Boston, has met with good success in this city, in disposing of the splendid portrait of Gen. Scott, as well as small photographs,—and will remain here a part of next week. He will soon be prepared to furnish a picture of Gen. McClellan, to match that of Gen. Scott, which is now being executed by Mr. Fabronius, Mr. Bufford's special artist.

THE NEW-HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE and Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, published Thursday, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room. Price 3 cents. Only $1 per year, in advance.

CANDIA BRANCH.

From the Manchester N. H. Journal of Agriculture.

At last the long-wished for day has dawned, and the Branch is a fact accomplished. The first spade was put into the ground on the 21st of August, 1861, and on the 10th of December the cars passed over the route from Portsmouth to Manchester. We are now twelve miles nearer tide-water than by rail to Boston; and the old Granite State, we hope, will soon begin to feel the thrill of industry and enterprise at the ends of her iron fingers. Ships, laden with all the heavy freight needed for our vast manufactures, will unload at the wharf into the cars, and, to all intents and purposes, Manchester is a seaport. All hail, Portsmouth!

The Candia Branch starts from the depot at Manchester, follows the course of the Lawrence road, although by an independent track, about three-quarters of a mile and then takes a course north—seventy-one degrees east—to the northerly shore of the Massabesic, running to the very door of Offut's Massabesic House; then crosses the southerly part of Clark's mill-pond, in Auburn, by solid abutments and two bridges; thence stretches away to near the Murray mill-pond into Candia, and crosses the Pine Hill road about fifty rods south of the new road. The maximum grade is 74 feet to the mile.

The length of the Branch, from the departure at the foot of Elm street to the depot at Candia, is 11 miles, less 200 rods. From Manchester to Portsmouth, 40 miles. The road can hardly fail to be a paying one. The most sanguine were disappointed that it was completed so soon.

It is fortunate for Manchester, that the managers of the Concord road, and especially Mr. Gilmore, took a favorable view of the matter. Their well known energy has pushed it to a successful issue, and we have no doubt it was a wise move for them as well as a good one for us.

MARRIAGES.

In Dover, Mr. GEORGE T. WADSWORTH, of Chelsea, Mass., to Miss MARY E. ELLISSON, of Newmarket.

CHRISTMAS PRESENTS

A welcome, Old Christmas, a welcome once more!
Though a twelvemonth 'tis now since we met,
Thy kindly old face looks as fresh as before,
Not a wrinkle of age is there yet.
A welcome, old Christmas, a welcome once more—
Though thy head be all frosty and chill,
Thy heart is yet warm with its good kindly store
Of affections and fondnesses still.

So says the Poet,

UNIVERSAL CLOTHES-WRINGER,

THE GREATEST LABOR-SAVING MACHINE NOW IN THE MARKET!

Will more than pay for itself in the Wear of Clothing.

FOUR REASONS

Why no one should be without one of them:

1st.—It will wring four times as fast as can be done by hand; much drier, and with one-fourth the labor: and wrings anything from a silk glove to a heavy Blanket.

2d.—Is simple, strong, and durable, and will not get out of repair.

3d.—Any servant will use it with safety to the machine, and with great saving of wear to the Clothes.

4th.—It is readily and firmly secured, to tubs of any thickness, and can be easily detached and set aside.

No House should be without one.

THE PATENT

FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably supersede all other Hair-Brushes, whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it pronounce it a complete success. It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot by any possibility get out of order, is compact, elegant, durable, and will save twice its own price within three months, by economizing Preparations for the Hair.

THE FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH is guaranteed to effect a Saving of One-half in the use of all hair-washes, oils, &c., as compared with any and every other means of applying them. As some of these articles cost from one to two dollars per bottle, this is a matter of no small moment.

To recapitulate, in brief, the merits of the PATENT FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH:—

It dresses the hair without soiling the fingers; it effects a saving of one-half in the use of hair preparations; it does away with the greasy hair-oil bottles; it is a handsomer article than the common hair-brush; it regulates the quantity of fluid used, to a drop; it is perfectly tight, and cannot spill over on the trunk or on the toilet; it carries enough of any preparation to last for a voyage or a long journey; its price is moderate, and it saves its own cost in three months; and finally, no sensible person who uses the PATENT FOUNTAIN BRUSH will ever use any other.

We see no reason why all the Banks in our State do not stand very strong.

ALARMING ACCIDENT TO COL. MARSTON.—A letter received just as we are going to press, dated Camp Beaufort, Lower Potomac, Dec. 16th, says:

Quite an unfortunate accident occurred here to-day, about noon. We heard the report of a pistol, and the Camp was alarmed, when it was found that Col. Marston was shot. It caused some excitement. A boy, in the rear of his tent, was cleaning a pistol, when it went off, shooting Col. Marston,—the ball striking him in the hip, passing through his body, coming out near the navel. It was thought it would prove fatal, but to-night it is thought if inflammation does not set in too much he may get over it.

The 2d N. H. Regiment is still at Camp Beaufort Bodd's Ferry, opposite the rebel batteries on the Potomac. The camp is located in a pleasant forest, and the soldiers have constructed huts of various kinds for shelter from the inclement weather. The regiment is prepared to remain in its present location, or move wherever and when ever needed.

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

An International Exhibition of Works of Industry and Art, is to be held in London in 1862, to be opened on the first day of May,—the building for which will be erected on a site adjoining the gardens of the Royal Horticultural Society, and in the immediate neighborhood of the ground occupied in 1851, on the occasion of the first International Exhibition.

American citizens desiring to exhibit any work of industry, or invention, produced since 1850 will at once apply to either of the Agents or Commissioners (or to the Executive Committee at Washington), for the "approval" or "sanction" required by Her Majesty's Commissioners.

All applications must be made before the first of January, 1862, for those contributions intended to be sent by the vessel furnished by the Government. Applications for permit to exhibit articles which are to be sent by other conveyance, may be made to the Agents, up to, and including, 10th March, 1862.

Persons desiring to exhibit must, at the time of such application, forward such a description of their articles as will enable the Executive Committee to prepare therefrom the Catalogue of Contributions from the United States. The name, occupation, and residence of the Exhibitor must be stated, with the date of the invention or production.

Articles approved, if intended to be forwarded to London by the American Commissioners (in case a vessel is placed at their disposal by the Government), must be delivered, free of charges, to the Atlantic Dock Stores, Brooklyn; or, to Mr. Joseph E. Holmes, Agent for the American Commissioners (61 Canal Street), in New York, on or before the 10th day of January, 1862. No charge will be made for storage in New York.

Among the Assistants or Agents of the Commissioners to examine articles proposed to be exhibited, and approve them, to the Executive Committee, are Frederick Smyth, Esq., Manchester, N. H.; Marshal P. Wilder, Esq., Boston, Mass.

Application can also be made to Hon. WILLIAM SIMES, Mayor of Portsmouth, who has been requested to act as Assistant Agent, and will give such aid as is in his power to those who wish to forward articles for exhibition. A copy of the regulations of the Fair may be seen on application to him.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, Thursday evening, Dec. 19, a Committee, consisting of the Mayor and two Aldermen, was appointed, to go to Concord to confer with the Governor, and urge upon him the necessity of immediately erecting suitable fortifications for the protection of our harbor.

The new frigate building at Philadelphia is a ship of 3500 tons—to carry the heaviest metal, and is to be plated with iron four inches in thickness. She will be the most formidable ship in our navy.

The 15 gunboats are completed in the Western waters for the expedition down the Mississippi.—The bows and bulwarks are three feet in thickness of solid oak timber, bolted together, and sheathed with iron plates, 2½ inches thick—they are pierced for 18 guns of the heaviest metal, 4 on a side, 3 in the stern, and 2 in the bows. The bow guns are 84 pounders. Together they carry 200 columbiads and rifled cannon.

RAILROAD DIVIDENDS.—The Boston and Worcester and the Boston and Providence Railroads have both declared semi-annual dividends of four per cent., and the Boston and Maine three per cent. Whether any dividend will be declared by the Eastern Railroad, has not yet been determined.

STATUARY, ETC.—Jefferson Hall will be a place of attraction next Monday and Tuesday. The works of art to be offered for sale are a rare collection, and will be worthy the attention of the public.

GET THE BEST!

WORCESTER'S
ILLUSTRATED
ROYAL QUARTO DICTIONARY,
The Standard.

This massive volume contains ONE THOUSAND EIGHT HUNDRED AND FIFTY-FOUR pages. It is illustrated by more than ONE THOUSAND ENGRAVED WOOD CUTS; FIVE THOUSAND words are accurately SYNONYMIZED; the Tables of PROPER NAMES Pronounced are very full and accurate.

☞ It is the BEST DEFINING and PRONOUNCING DICTIONARY of the English Language, and contains many thousand more words and meanings than are to be found in any other similar work.

☞ It is the standard recognized by our eminent authors. It is the standard authority for the Official Records and Documents and Public Printing of the United States.

☞ Every family should possess a copy, for it is a Library of itself. It is the only American Dictionary which is a safe guide. It is the only desirable Dictionary of the language.

From HON. GEO. P. MARSH, LL. D., Author of "Lectures on the English Language."

The work at Dr. Worcester is unquestionably MUCH SUPERIOR to any other general Dictionary of the language, in EVERY ONE of these particulars, and it is therefore entitled to rank FIRST among the existing helps to a complete knowledge of English philology.

From WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT and WASHINGTON IRVING.

The new authentic etymologies, the conciseness and COMPLETENESS OF THE DEFINITIONS, the nicety with which the different shades of meaning in synonyms are distinguished, and the CONSCIENTIOUS CURE AND WORTH of the work in all its departments, give it, in my judgment, the highest claims to public favor.

I concur with the opinion of Mr. Bryant.—Washington Irving.

From PROF. OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES, Boston.

It is indeed, a MONUMENTAL WORK, and one of which our city and country may be proud as long as we have a city, a country, and a language.

From CHARLES DICKENS, England.

IT IS A MOST REMARKABLE WORK, of which America will be justly proud, and for which all who study the English language will long have reason to respect your name, and to be grateful to you.

From the REV. W. WHEWELL, D. D., Master of Trinity College, Cambridge, England, Author of "History of the Inductive Sciences."

I have repeatedly consulted the Dictionary, since it has been in my possession, and have seen reason to think it MORE COMPLETE AND EXACT than any of its predecessors.

From REV. JOSEPH ROGERS, D. D., F. R. S., Professor of Anglo-Saxon in Oxford University, England.

The whole work is the most comprehensive and useful that I have yet seen. It is THE MOST COMPLETE AND PRACTICAL, THE VERY BEST, as well as the cheapest English Dictionary that I know.

I find it not only rich beyond example in its vocabulary, but carefully elaborated in all the details, and THOROUGHLY TRUSTWORTHY as a guide to the most correct and elegant usage of the language.

From GEO. B. EMERSON, LL. D., Member of Mass. Board of Education.

I wish it to be known that I consider Dr. Worcester's new Dictionary the best and the MOST UNEXCEPTIONABLE DICTIONARY of the English Language with which I am acquainted.

From HON. CHARLES SUMNER.

I know no one who has done so much as you for all departments and given to our language a Dictionary SO COMPLETE AND MANY-SIDED. It ought to be in every library, academy and school.

The lapse of a few months will be sufficient to establish Worcester's Dictionary as the acknowledged standard of reference among the scholars of England and America.—London Literary Gaz., Feb. 11, 1861.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)

73 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Reports, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

HOUSE FURNISHING ESTABLISHMENT,

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,

Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately as a roaster, or by the removal of a simple plate in connection with the larger oven, for baking: giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz.:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking over.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and the jackets are provided for the back and both sides with plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

Reference is made to Messrs. J. Trundy, J. M. Mathes, N. K. Walker, C. C. Jackson, C. H. Mendum, James F. Shores, Geo. Whitehouse, Joseph E. Weeks, Geo. W. Davis, Greenland; John Smart, Stratham; H. L. Pollard, Raymond, Robert F. Gerrish, Kittery; Nath'l F. Berry, Gosport, and many others who are using the Stove.

This stove was thoroughly tested before being brought into the market, and we know that all that is said of it will be found true on trial.

☞ We have also a very beautiful new pattern COOK STOVE, called the

Model Range;

Of which very many are being sold. It works well and comes cheap, and is well suited for a small family.

MAGEE'S

For Wood or Coal,

Operating on the same principle as the celebrated

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE.

Jones & Bolles, No. 61 MARKET ST., Portsmouth.

This beautiful COOK STOVE is now offered to the public with entire confidence in its being the BEST OPERATING, MOST DURABLE and ECONOMICAL Stove ever invented, requiring one-third less Fuel than any other Stove in the market, to do the same amount of cooking; and the fire may be kept in it the entire season, without going out. The public are invited to call and examine this Stove, which is all that is necessary to convince any person that it has no superior, and cannot be beat. And we predict for it that popularity and immense sale which has attended the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE since its introduction into this market.

"Every Stove is warranted to give ENTIRE SATISFACTION in every particular."

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 23, 1861.

James Redpath has formally renounced and repudiated his Abolition "arming the slaves" views, and announces his retirement as a political editor until such time as he shall have "attained a clearer and more human and Christian view of the duties of the freeman to the enslaved." He expresses regret for the mischievous articles he has written.—Boston Post.

We should infer from the above, that Redpath had ceased to be an abolitionist,—but when we come to read his own statement in the Pine and Palm, "we don't see it." He condemns "the murderous policy of inciting the slaves to insurrection,"—and alludes to other errors as "dangerous and abborrent to the higher insight," but don't say what they were,—nor does he mention "arming the slaves" at all.

So far as we know the views of abolitionists,—from Jefferson and Franklin, Jay and Grimke, in this country, Wilberforce and Clarkson in England, and Lafayette in France, down to the men of to-day, not one in a hundred of them would advocate slave insurrections,—though every one of them would agree with Jefferson that they are to be expected, and are indeed the proper fruits and suitable punishment of the system itself!

The worshippers and advocates of slavery, many of them, says Uncle Toby, have a very convenient looseness of language, by which, on weak minds or careless readers, they produce a confusion of ideas about slavery and its abolition.

But it is very certain that slaves may be armed for different purposes, and so the objections against one purpose of arming might not rest against another.

For example, it is said, slaves in Louisiana, South Carolina, and Virginia, are now armed by their masters, to fight against us, and to rivet their own chains,—and this, we suppose, we must pass over, as all right.

But leaving that,—one slave arms himself, and kills and robs his master and mistress: this is horrible.

Another arms himself and runs off; is pursued by somebody, but like the slave Anderson, fires on his pursuer, kills him, gets off to Canada, and is finally lionized in England. Is this case like the other? Not by a great deal. Will any brave man blame him much?

A hundred or a thousand just like him, only unarmed, get to Canada, Jamaica or Hayti,—enlist as soldiers, obey white officers, are armed and equipped. Why not?

Others still have actually run away, and being sailors on board one of our armed ships, worked a gun to help bombard Port Royal, and behaved like men. Why not? Who can find fault, but poor tools of the slave power?

Now we suppose no sane man cherishes the notion of a general arming, still less a universal arming of slaves,—but very few of our good citizens, to-day, would give a sixpence to keep slavery right side up. They would rather see it upset and stove to pieces. They might not fight it directly—but they would not cry when it got killed.

☞ Almost every movement in this war, has not only a military, but a political and social importance. But it is not always sure to accomplish exactly what the mover intended. For example, everybody knows the slave power struck the blow to demolish the government and establish the Reign of King Cotton: but the government is stronger now than before,—and Cotton is not king.

Another example. Fremont proclaimed freedom to the slaves of all rebels in his part. (the northern,) of Missouri: some people were frightened: but very few slaves were freed, and quite a number were run off south by rebel negro thieves. Shortly after this the President modified the matter, and not long after that, Fremont was removed; but not until he had followed the rebels across the State. Now, our forces having retired, the rebel tide flows in again, destroying and stealing as it rolls. Let this tide ebb and flow once or twice more across the State, and slavery there, whether in the hands of rebels or union men, will be in a condition like old wharves and buildings after a great storm. And the lovers of the rebels, who chuckled over the change, may find that their beloved institution has gone adrift, with the ruins of the wharf where it was made fast.

HOLLINS.—Jones—"So Hollins has turned up again, has he? Let's see: he's the chap that peppered our ships when they were stuck fast in Mississippi mud—and did not hit one of 'em—I wonder what sort of a peppering that is?"

Buggins—[Solemnly]—"Well, I suppose it's a sort of a-ground pepper." (Jones faints.)

Commander Hollins was in this port in 1853, in the sloop-of-war Cyane, which had just come from the fishing grounds, about which a war was waged—in the newspapers.

☞ The 4th New Hampshire Regiment has gone to Tybee Island. The balance of Gen. Wright's brigade will follow.

THE REBELLION.

There is a rumor that Gen. Caleb Cushing will be sent to Ship Island to supersede Gen. Phelps, receiving a commission as Brigadier General.

The Navy Department has received dispatches from Port Royal, including one from Commander Drayton, dated Dec. 9th. On Hutchinson's Island all the negro houses, overseers' houses and other buildings, together with all the pickel cotton, had been burned. An attempt had at the same time been made to drive off the negroes, but many escaped, although some of their number, they said, had been shot by their rebel masters in attempting to do so.

Information from Glasgow, Mo., states that our troops captured about two tons of powder, buried on Claib. Jackson's farm.

Gen. Burnside arrived at Annapolis Friday, and immediately commenced preparations for the departure of his expedition.

Since Aug. 25th, there have been 215 promotions, and 550 appointments of all kinds, in the U. S. army, in addition to 60 Brigadier Generals of volunteers, the whole number of the latter being about 110.—Among the declinations is that of Gen. Shields of California, to be a Brigadier General. The appointments of Aides-de-Camp to Gen. McClellan number 32.—Thirty-one officers have been honorably retired.

Apparently no efforts had been spared by the rebels to send Price an ample supply of clothing for the winter. All, or nearly all, of this has fallen or will fall in. to our hands. Nearly 200 heavy wagons are already in our possession, together with a large quantity of ammunition and arms. A thousand horses, tents, and camp equipage, and between 1800 and 2000 prisoners have been taken. The rebellion has received a terrible shock in Missouri.

A portion of our forces at Mound City Kansas, made a dash into Missouri Dec. 17th, burned the villages of Papinsville and Butler, the latter the county seat of Bates county, and returned with a large number of refugees, quantities of stock, &c. These towns have for a long time been the resort of a guerilla band of rebels.

An engagement between a small portion of our troops and five rebel regiments near Leesburg, Va., on Friday, resulted in the utter rout of the rebels, who fled precipitately, leaving 60 killed and 19 wounded on the field.

The Philadelphia Inquirer has a story via Fortress Monroe, of an engagement at the mouth of the Mississippi, in which Capt. Hollins' Ram, the Manassas, was disabled, abandoned, and captured by our fleet. It has been generally supposed that the Ram was at Columbus.

A great negro insurrection is reported in Mississippi, and an immense quantity of property destroyed—$150,000 on the Quitman estate alone.

The report of the Merrimac sticking on the stocks is at Norfolk probably incorrect. One item says the Merrimac was in the dry dock, that her upper works were cut down so as to bring her water line almost on a level with the water, and that she was heavily sheathed with iron. It is probable that in taking her out of the dry dock her weight was so great that she would not float, but sank and can never be raised again.

☞ In the Kentucky Legislature the House, on Friday, adopted by the usual party vote a resolution that Kentucky would assume the payment of her portion of the direct tax imposed by Congress.—The Senate adopted the resolution of the House on Federal relations, with amendments endorsing the President's action with regard to Gen. Fremont's proclamation and Secretary Cameron's report, and requesting the President to dispense with Secretary Cameron. The vote was unanimous on the amendments.

☞ The fate of Charleston may be shared before long by other Southern cities. The Montgomery, Ala., Advertiser says that no less than seven attempts were made to set fire to that city within two days, and that two of them were partially successful.

☞ It is rumored that some of the New England Representatives are in favor of investigating the shoe contracts, while others oppose it. Certain is it that many of the shoes furnished are miserable affairs.

SHIP ORIENTAL QUEEN, from New York for Queenstown, grain laden, capsized on the 16th, off Nantucket. The captain and nine men had arrived at Edgartown.—The mate and five men were lost.

☞ Capt. Hill, of bark Villafranca, reports seeing a splendid comet on his passage home from Palermo to Boston, and kept company with it until within a few days of his arrival.

☞ All the accounts received from Washington agree in declaring that the present aspect of our difficulty with England is favorable to the preservation of peace, without sacrifice of national honor.

☞ Pennsylvania coal lands are hereafter to be taxed as well on the deposit as on the surface valuation. Heretofore there has been no tax on the deposit.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Mr. Wm. Whipple of Dunbarton, about 64 years of age, while on a visit, at the house of a gentleman in Manchester on Wednesday, upon retiring, extinguished the gas light by blowing it out instead of turning it off. The gas which escaped brought on a violent inflammation of the lungs which in a few days terminated his life.

—— The corner stone of a new Episcopal church in Nashua, will be laid, with appropriate ceremonies, on Tuesday next.

—— "Perley" says, in a late letter to the Boston Journal, that Lt. Col. Frank S. Fiske, of the 2nd N. H. Regiment, has "a good look" for the single star which designates a Brigadier General.

—— The "Union" call, by the Republican State Committee, is bringing out the Democrats in full force to the caucuses, in some towns. In Laconia they succeeded in nominating Geo. W. Stevens, who is known as a strong Union man but an active, uncompromising Democrat; and Frank Chase, of Conway, has been nominated in the same way.

—— The Journal of Agriculture says the pupils of Walnut Grove School, in Lee, with their young friends in the vicinity, as aforetime, will hold their pleasant "Letter Festival" in the old school-room, on New Year's evening. And a "letter festival" is simply this: Those who participate in it, by a correspondence with their distant friends, receive messages of love and friendship in pleasant New Year's epistles. Each envelope bears the "New Year's" endorsement on the outside, and the Post Master of the place reserves the note for the "festival" evening. At the gathering, the general budget is produced and deposited before the happy expectants. Then come the distribution, and the lively snapping of seals, with whatever heart-throb and "Happy New Year" may accompany them. This general reception of letters is also accompanied by speeches, original poems, and pleasant hymns from sweet voices.

—— An item is going the rounds of the newspapers stating that "Rufus Childs, a minister at Berlin, formerly settled at Gilmanton Iron Works, has eloped with a daughter of Judge Bosworth, of Berlin, leaving his wife and three children in destitute circumstances." The fact that there is no settled minister at Berlin,—that there has been none of the name of Childs at Gilmanton Iron Works for at least five years past, and that there is no Judge Bosworth at Berlin and never has been,—seems to cast a shadow of doubt over the reliability of the above statement.

—— The First Company of the New England Cavalry Regiment went into camp at Concord on Wednesday. The original officers of the company have all been promoted. Capt. Nelson was made Major of the Regiment, and the Captaincy has consequently fallen on the shoulders of Lieut Thompson. Lieut. Cram has been promoted to the Adjutancy, and the Lieutenantcies of the company given to the 1st Sergeants, Arnold Wyman and Edward D. Phelps. The Second Company, Capt. Swett, of Andover, also went into camp on the same day.

—— Mrs. Hepzibah Adams Fairbanks, of Peterboro', on the 8th of December reached her one hundredth year, having been born in Sherburne, Mass. on the 8th of December, 1761. She celebrated the day by attending the Unitarian Church, and by greeting in the afternoon, forty-six of her seventy-seven descendents. Her descendents have been 112 persons, including one of the fifth generation. She is now in the enjoyment of good health and a peaceful old age.

—— A black fox was noticed one day last week amusing himself by an easy run over Copp's Pond, in Ossipee. This is a rare species, and would command a high price.

—— The Nashua Telegraph mentions a rumor that the 8th regiment, now in camp at Manchester, will be ordered to join Gen. Butler's division, and be dispatched at once.

—— In Dover, on Tuesday afternoon, two boys by the names of Henderson and Chase, while skating broke through the ice, and young Henderson was drowned, while Chase barely escaped. The ice was not over one-half of an inch in thickness.—Young Henderson was about twelve years old, and the youngest son of Mr. William M. Henderson.

—— The Law Term of the Supreme Judicial Court for the 1st Judicial District commenced its December session in Dover, Tuesday, the 17th inst. Chief Justice Bell and Associates Bellows, Nesmith, Sargent and Bartlett, compose the Bench. The Gazette says quite an extensive business has been done in dissolving the bonds of matrimony between anxious husbands and wives.

—— One of the pupils in the North Grammar School in Fisherville is a man 29 years of age, who is married, and has a family. One of his children attends the primary school in the same building.

—— Mr. Andrew J. Holbrook, formerly of Concord, is serving on the staff of Brig. Gen. Viele, at Port Royal, as aid-de-camp with the rank of Lieutenant. Mr. Charles H. West, also of Concord, has received the appointment of Assistant Paymaster in the Navy.

—— The people of South Hampton, in this county, are having a course of lyceum lectures this winter. The second lecture of the course was delivered last week by Albert Hale, Esq., of Newburyport. Mr. Hale's subject was "American Politics," and the sharp and humerous way in which he hunted down the politicians was highly relished by an overflowing audience.

☞ A Washington correspondent states that the Government is satisfied that the clamor for a war with England originates with, and is propagated by, sympathizers with the Southern rebellion. It knows that nothing would so gratify the rebels, would so restore their vanishing confidence, and reinvigorate them to redoubled efforts at defence, as the news that England is to be permitted to come to their rescue.

☞ The N. Y. Times advises an immediate embargo on ship timber. Late purchases for the British admiralty have almost cleared the market.

☞ The New York Weekly Caucasian, the successor to the Day Book, has been excluded from the mails.

Special Notices.

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers please remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notices may be ordered for the Chronicle; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

American Women.

America is justly proud of its beautiful women: but how many die annually, or prematurely lose their health and youth for want of a remedy suitable to their peculiar ailments. That remedy is found in SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS. We know hundreds of cases where they have been used with the greatest success.—In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Low ness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed,—moderating excesses and removing obstructions, whether from cold or any other cause. Suffer no more anxiety or low spirits, but try them. For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the Agent.

One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 Pills, by return mail. my23dawdm

References can now be given to some of the principal Physicians and numerous individuals in this vicinity, who have used the above remedy with the fullest success in various cases of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Sore Throat, Influenza Irritation of the Uvula, &c., &c. The success of this remedy has been fully tested in various parts, where the moisture of the climate induces great prevalence of Colds, &c., and a certainty of the efficacy of a remedy is required to avoid Consumption and ultimate death. This remedy, although only recently introduced in this vicinity, has met with a great demand, and every confidence is placed in its merits by those who have given it a fair and impartial trial.

Local.

☞ The North Parish having kindly granted the use of their spacious and beautiful house for the purpose, Mr. Fletcher's third lecture will be delivered in the North Church this (Monday) evening. This arrangement is at once commendable in the Wardens, and deservedly complimentary to Mr. Fletcher, and will be gratifying to the many who wish to listen to him.

We have already spoken of the theme,—the Alps, heroic Charles Albert, Victor Emmanuel and Garibaldi, and the faithful Waldensian Christians.

In addition to the eminent attractions afforded by the lecture however, there will be appropriate and excellent music, both vocal and instrumental. This latter will include two grand duets on the fine organ—opening voluntary, the overture to William Tell; and Mendellsohn's Wedding March, at the close of the lecture. Appropriate vocal pieces will also be interspersed—truly a double entertainment, and a rare treat indeed. The duets on the organ will be performed by the organists of the North and the Unitarian Churches. We hardly need advise our readers to fill the Church.

It will be seen by the advertisement that tickets will not be for sale at the door.

☞ Saturday was wintry, sure enough. The mercury was down to about 10 above zero, whereas it was above 60 on Friday—nearly 45 degrees difference in twenty-four hours—"almost a right angle," as a scientific friend of ours remarked.

☞ Auction Sale of Statuary, and Fancy Goods, at Jefferson Hall, this day and evening. The assortment is superb—perfect. See advertisement and catalogue. The goods are on exhibition, only, this morning—the sale commences this afternoon.

A Beautiful Holiday Gift.—J. H. Head, Esq., of Portsmouth, N. H., author of Parlor Pastimes, has compiled a book of poetical gems, that he entitles "Jewels from the Quarries of the Mind," which will be a leading gift-book for the approaching season of remembrances. Messrs. Crosby & Nichols publish it. In print and external embellishment it will be fully equal to the matter composing it. The designs for the work are also from the pencil of Mr. Head, whose decorative taste has long been matter of record. The print is equal to anything from the American press.—Boston Transcript.

☞ The U. S. sloop-of-war Constellation, now at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, is ready for sea, but is detained for want of seamen. Her commander is the late energetic executive officer of the Charlestown Navy Yard. She will undoubtedly go up the Mediterranean, to protect American commerce in that quarter, and in response to a request from a deputation of Boston merchants to the Secretary of the Navy.

A New York paper, usually correct in Naval matters, says that the Constellation was last on duty on the Mediterranean station in 1857-58, under the command of Capt. Charles H Bell, which statement is not correct, as the Constellation has since been two years on the African station, as the flag ship of Capt. Inman, and returned to the Portsmouth Navy Yard in September last, where she has since been refitted for sea. The same paper also states that the Macedonian, sloop-of-war, has been lying in ordinary at Boston for some time past, which is also incorrect. Since the Macedonian arrived at Boston, over three years ago, she has made a cruise upwards of two years in the Mediterranean, and returned to the Portsmouth Navy Yard, where she was refitted for sea, and has been cruising for some months in the Gulf of Mexico and in the West Indies. She arrived at St. Thomas on the 27th of November, from Laguira, and was to leave the same day for Boston, where she would probably go into dock to examine her bottom, which is supposed to have sustained some damage in touching on a reef.

☞ Chase's Museum of Art, on exhibition at the Temple, is well worthy of a visit from old and young. The patronage already extended to it authorizes the manager to remain here a few days longer, and those who have not seen it, will do well to do so at once. This evening will be represented new scenes, among which is included a grand representation of the capture of Mason and Slidell, also a splendid view of the Rat Hole Fleet.

☞ Among the papers transmitted to the Senate, Thursday, was a project of a treaty with Mexico, which provides that our government shall pay $11,000,000 to Mexico, to be applied to the satisfaction of English and French creditors, and for a grant to the United States of commercial privileges, and for the adjustment of our outstanding debts and the right of transit across Mexican territory for troops and munitions of war. It is thought the treaty will be confirmed and sent to Vera Cruz.

☞ Messrs. Shreve, Stanwood & Co., of Boston, have fully remunerated Mr. Herrmann for his jewels which were stolen from their store recently. They held themselves responsible for their safe keeping.

☞ Mr. William H. Yeaton of Stratham, has been appointed a Master's Mate in the Navy, and ordered to duty on board U. S. steamer Kearsarge, now at Portsmouth Navy Yard.

CONGRESS.

In the Senate on Friday a petition for the establishment of a system of exchange of prisoners, was presented: also one asking for the removal of Jesse D. Bright from the Senate. A bill was passed prohibiting the sale of liquor to soldiers in the District of Columbia. Mr. Trumbull of Ill. reported back from the Committee on the Judiciary, the bill to abolish the U. S. Supreme Court, who asked to be discharged from further consideration of the subject. The committee was discharged. Mr. Hale of N. H. said, with all due deference, he thought the committee had not acted up to their duty. A resolution having been introduced calling on the Sec. of War for a copy of Gen. Phelp's proclamation, Mr. Wilson said he thought there was no necessity for sending for the proclamation. Generals were appointed to use the sword and not the pen. If they did not use the sword better than they have used the pen they should be mustered out of the service. The best thing would be to make a statute, that no Gen. be allowed to make any proclamation. The resolution was laid on the table, as was also the bill to relieve the owners of the Perthshire.

In the House, the committee on Ways and Means was instructed to inquire into the expediency of establishing a branch mint. A bill appropriating $150,000 to complete the defences of Washington, was passed; also the Senate bill with reference to allotments. The committee on Military Affairs was instructed to report a bill, by which all religious societies should be included in the appointment of chaplains.—The committee on the Judiciary were instructed to report an amendment to the fugitive slave law, forbidding the return of slaves to disloyal masters; a motion to instruct the same committee to report a bill for confiscation of rebel property and the unconditional emancipation of their slaves, was tabled by a majority of two.

Foreign News.—The America, from Liverpool 7th, via Queenstown 8th, put into Halifax on Saturday.

Warlike sentiments and preparations in England are unabated. A large anti-war meeting had, however, been held in Dublin. The British government has sent a letter approving of the course of Commander Williams, mail agent on board the Trent. Paris papers assert that the British government, in answer to petitions from the manufacturing districts, said cotton ports would be open by February. The Warrior was taking in coal, preparatory for service on the North American coast. The Paris papers say that France, in the event of war between the United States and England, will remain neutral.

The Electic Magazine, issued monthly, contains 144 pages, on fine paper, with one or more beautiful portraits by Sartain. The twelve monthly numbers make three volumes of 600 pages each, with titles, indexes and embolishment. Price, $5 per year. The publisher will send Irving's Life of Washington, in one splendid volume of 821 pages, prepaid, to any one sending the names of three new subscribers, and the subscription price—$15. To each new subscriber, paying $5, he will send a beautiful and accurate portrait of Edward Everett: or the subscriber may have his choice of two parlor engravings—"The Return from Market," and "Filial Affection."

☞ The post office at Hilton Head in the three weeks of its existence has sent North, in round numbers, eighty thousand letters.

☞ Col. Neal Dow ordered a soldier in his regiment, who was found to be intoxicated, to be stripped of his uniform, put in citizens' dress, and turned out of the ranks.

☞ Thomas Francis Meagher has been appointed a Brigadier General.

Please Call at No. 12 Market St.,

And examine the PATENT

UNIVERSAL CLOTHES-WRINGER,

THE GREATEST LABOR-SAVING MACHINE NOW IN THE MARKET!

Will more than pay for itself in the Wear of Clothing.

FOUR REASONS

Why no one should be without one of them:

1st.—It will wring four times as fast as can be done by hand; much drier, and with one-fourth the labor; and wrings anything from a silk glove to a heavy Blanket.

2d.—Is simple, strong, and durable, and will not get out of repair.

3d.—Any servant will use it with safety to the machine, and with great saving of wear to the Clothes.

4th.—It is readily and firmly secured, to tubs of any thickness, and can be easily detached and set aside.

No House should be without one.

THE PATENT

FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably supersede all other Hair-Brushes, whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it pronounce it a complete success. It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot by any possibility get out of order, is compact, elegant, durable, and will save twice its own price within three months, by economizing Preparations for the Hair.

THE FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH is guaranteed to effect a Saving of One-half in the use of all hair-washes, oils, &c., as compared with any and every other means of applying them. As some of these articles cost from one to two dollars per bottle, this is a matter of no small moment.

To recapitulate, in brief, the merits of the PATENT FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH:—

It dresses the hair without soiling the fingers; it effects a saving of one-half in the use of hair preparations; it does away with the greasy hair-oil bottle; it is a handsomer article than the common hair-brush; it regulates the quantity of fluid used, to a drop; it is perfectly tight, and cannot spill over on the trunk or on the toilet; it carries enough of any preparation to last for a voyage or a long journey; its price is moderate, and it saves its own cost in three months; and finally, no sensible person who uses the PATENT FOUNTAIN BRUSH will ever use any other.

GET THE BEST!

WORCESTER'S

ILLUSTRATED

ROYAL QUARTO DICTIONARY,

The Standard.

This massive volume contains ONE THOUSAND EIGHT HUNDRED AND FIFTY-FOUR pages. It is illustrated by more than ONE THOUSAND SUPERB WOOD CUTS: FIVE THOUSAND words are accurately SYNONYMIZED; the Tables of PROPER NAMES Pronounced are very full and accurate.

☞ It is the BEST DEFINING and PRONOUNCING DICTIONARY of the English Language, and contains many thousand more words and meanings than are to be found in any other similar work.

☞ It is the standard recognized by our eminent authors. It is the standard authority for the Official Records and Documents and Public Printing of the United States.

☞ Every family should possess a copy, for it is a Library of Book. It is the only American Dictionary which is a safe guide. It is the only desirable Dictionary of the language.

From Hon. Geo. P. Marsh, LL. D., Author of "Lectures on the English Language."

The work of Dr. Worcester is unquestionably MUCH SUPERIOR to any other general Dictionary of the language, in EVERY ONE of these particulars, and it is therefore entitled to rank FIRST among the exterior helps to a complete knowledge of English philology.

From William Cullen Bryant and Washington Irving.

The new authentic etymologies, the concise phrases and COMPLETENESS OF THE DEFINITIONS, (a desiderata with which the other works of meaning in synonyms are distinguished, and the CONSCIENTIOUS ACCURACY of the work in all its departments, give, in my judgment, the highest claims to public favor.

I concur with the opinion of Mr. Bryant—Washington Irving.

From Prof. Oliver Wendell Holmes, Boston.

It is, indeed, a MONUMENTAL WORK, and one of which our city and country may be proud as long as we have a city, a country, and a language.

From Charles Dickens, England.

IT IS A MOST REMARKABLE WORK, of which America will be justly proud, and for which all who study the English language will long have reason to respect your name, and to be grateful to you.

From the Rev. W. Whewell, D. D., Master of Trinity College, Cambridge, England, Author of "History of the Inductive Sciences."

I have repeatedly consulted the Dictionary, since it has been in my possession, and have seen reason to think it MORE COMPLETE AND EXACT than any of its predecessors.

From Rev. Joseph Bosworth, D. D., F. R. S., Professor of Anglo-Saxon in Oxford University, England.

The whole work is the most comprehensive and useful that I have yet seen. It is THE MOST COMPLETE AND PRACTICAL, THE VERY BEST, as well as the cheapest English Dictionary that I know.

From C. C. Felton, LL. D., President of Harvard College.

I find it not only rich beyond example in its vocabulary, but carefully elaborated in all the details, and THOROUGHLY TRUSTWORTHY as a guide to the most correct and elegant usage of the language.

From Geo. B. Emerson, LL. D., Member of Mass. Board of Education.

I wish it to be known that I consider Dr. Worcester's new Dictionary the best and the MOST UNEXCEPTIONABLE DICTIONARY of the English Language with which I am acquainted.

From Hon. Charles Sumner.

I know no one who has done so much as you for all departments, and given to our language a Dictionary SO COMPLETE AND MANY-SIDED. It ought to be in every library, academy and school.

The issue of a few months will be sufficient to establish Worcester's Dictionary as the acknowledged standard of reference among the scholars of England and America.—London Literary Gaz., Feb. 11, 1861.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advices rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but the facilities afforded by my extensive practice for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has excellent reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, together with his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, by good question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse"

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made twelve rejected applications SEVEREN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

E. A. STEVENS'

HOUSE FURNISHING ESTABLISHMENT,

No. 46 Market Street, Portsmouth.

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,

Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; an arrangement that it can be used separately for a roaster, or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking: giving an oven nearly 3ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz.:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and simply heated, than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and ⅜ inch sockets are provided for the back and boiler plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a lifetime, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be VERY STORE for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

Reference is made to Messrs. J. Trundy, J. M. Mathes, N. K. Walker, C. C. Jackson, C. H. Mendum, James F. Shores, Geo. Whitehouse, Joseph E. THE GREATEST INVENTION OF THE AGE!

MAGEE'S

For Wood or Coal,

Operating on the same principle as the celebrated

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE.

Jones & Bolles,

This beautiful COOK STOVE is now offered to the public with entire confidence in its being the BEST OPERATING, MOST DURABLE and ECONOMICAL Stove ever invented, requiring one-third less Fuel than any other Stove in the market, to do the same amount of cooking; and the fire may be kept in it the entire season, without going out. The public are invited to call and examine this Stove, which is all that is necessary to convince any person that it has no superior, and cannot be beat. And we predict for it that popularity and immense sale which has attended the Magee Parlor Stove since its introduction into this market.

"Every Stove is warranted to give ENTIRE SATISFACTION in every particular."

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS in importing, is a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in bar or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

QUESTIONS.—By way of illustration the Great Teacher puts the following questions, Luke 14, 31, 32.

What king, going to make war against another king, sitteth not down first, and consulteth whether he be able with ten thousand to meet him that cometh against him with twenty thousand?

Or else, while the other is yet a great way off, he sendeth an ambassage, and desireth conditions of peace.

Without being in the least degree an alarmist, we would suggest a little attention to these questions, in our present condition, as we measure our little navy by the large one of Great Britain.

We have been particularly struck with the fact that those members of Congress, and those newspapers, which are most favorable to the rebels, are at this time making the most bluster about not giving up the rebel ambassadors to Great Britain's alleged demand.

There is no call for bluster now,—but for a conciliatory tone and careful management in the correspondence,—yielding just so much as may be needful and wise but no more,—and above all, consenting to, or making an offer, to refer all points in dispute to some friendly power.

EMANCIPATION IN SAN DOMINGO was not the result of an insurrection, but a "military necessity," imposed on the French government.

It was preceded, but not followed, by outrages on the whites.

As soon as peace allowed, the emancipated slaves were found to be quiet, industrious and easily managed laborers, even under their old masters.

Their organization was the work of one of their own number, and resulted in an unheard-of prosperity.

The subsequent extermination of the whites was a retaliation for the brutal outrages of Leclerc, Rochambeau, and the other generals of the First Consul, and in no sense a legitimate result of emancipation.

Has the story no lesson for us? Shall we wait until insurrection and despair force us to free the slaves, when perhaps it will be too late to control and organize them; or shall we now seize the golden moment to do an act of tardy justice, and at the same time end this costly and thus far inglorious war? Shall we be added to the long list who have hugged their ruin to their arms, and gone down to death inseparable from the vile mischief that poisoned the sources of life?—Exchange.

"Of nations slowly wise and meanly just,"

☞ Thursday night the office of the St. Croix Herald at St. Stephen, N. B., was broken into and a large quantity of type, &c., destroyed. Loss about $500.—The editor's opposition to secession was probably the cause of this outrage.

☞ A letter from on board the steam frigate Niagara, dated Dec. 3, says the frigate Santee has destroyed a fortification that was nearly completed at Bolivar Point, and which was intended to drive our ships from Galveston.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 24, 1861.

☞ There is much talk in papers and elsewhere, about freeing and arming slaves; and Congress must settle it somehow, tho' there are many difficulties in the way, and some serious objections against the general arming of newly emancipated slaves. But we cannot see why the free negroes and mulattoes, of whom we have in the United States more than 400,000, should not, if they are wanted, furnish their proportion of soldiers and sailors. Half of these, or 200,000, are in the free States, 75,000 are in Maryland, 20,000 in Delaware, and 10,000 in Washington. Virginia has 60,000 and North Carolina 30,000. Congress may think on these things. It should be borne in mind by every person who writes or reads on the subject, that the emancipation of a slave is one thing, and the arming him quite another thing.

Of the good policy of emancipation, in many instances, we have no doubt: but a general arming of slaves by the United States we suppose to be quite impolitic, and indeed almost impossible. We have no idea that it will be attempted.

The dangers and evils of emancipation have always been overrated by those who either loved the slave power, or were dreadfully afraid of it.

The latest bugbear of this kind, is the notion that slaves emancipated in this war would overflow into free States, and some imaginary calamity would ensue. Mr. DeBow, in his statistics, gives the best answer to this folly,—when he shows that Maryland with half a million people in the whole, has 75,000 free negroes, while Pennsylvania with nearly two and a half millions of people, has only about 54,000 free blacks.

If any one will look at the map of the United States, and asks himself, why don't the free negroes of Maryland flow over into Pennsylvania, and overflow it?—he will see but one answer, viz. that they do not wish to go. And then, if he knows any thing of the negro character, he will consider that the black man is not migratory, but beyond most other men chooses to stay in the place where he was born and bred.

☞ In answer to some inquiries about negro sailors in the United States Navy, we state the fact that there used to be more or less of such sailors in the crew of any large ship of war: and they were commonly good sailors. They were found there from the time when our navy was begun, and remained till about five and twenty years ago, when there was a true complaint made, that some officers from the South, had slaves on board our national ships, as servants, and that the masters drew their pay! This complaint raised a small storm in Congress, which was finally calmed by a compromise, so arranged that no negroes should be in our navy! This was a piece of meanness, to thrust out the free sailors, because the bondman's master could not draw pay for his slaves: but so it was.

This matter reminds us of one case, which occurred while some officers had their slaves in our ships as servants. A commodore, who, while here on our Navy Yard was generally hated for his tyranny, had a very fine man servant, whom he carried out with him to the West Indies, in a public ship. While in a Spanish port, he was offered and refused very high prices for his elegant slave; but at length a higher offer was accepted, and the negro was sold.

On his return home, a negro woman, the boy's mother, inquiring for her son, was told by this honorable officer, her master, the temptation was too great! he must sell him!

Would it not be a pity, to have the war break up such a beautiful institution?

Gen. Pope.—Gen. John Pope, whose recent brilliant exploits in Missouri are the theme of universal praise, is a man about 40 years of age, a native of Kentucky, and a graduate of West Point in 1842, was appointed to the army as a Brevet Second Lieutenant of Topographical Engineers. He was engaged in Mexico, and was brevetted a First Lieutenant for gallant conduct in several conflicts at Monterey. In Feb., 1847, he was brevetted Captain for gallant and meritorious conduct in the battle of Buena Vista. On the 1st of July, 1856, he took the actual rank of Captain in the Corps of Topographical Engineers, and on the 17th of May, 1861, was made a Brigadier General of Volunteers.

☞ The Times' Washington dispatch says that notes on the subject of the Trent affair have passed between Mr. Seward and Lord Lyons, but not on the merits of the controversy. Lord Lyons requested to know if our Government is ready to consider the dispatches fowarded by his Government, Mr Seward replied that he was not ready, but would notify Lord Lyons of his readiness.

☞ Gen. Butler, in answer to a serenade, said he had no speech to make until he had had a fight.

NEW HAMPSHIRE 2D REGIMENT.

Camp Beaufort, Charles Co., Md., Dec. 18th, 1861.

Messrs. Editors:—We are still in the state of Maryland, and for aught I can see or hear we shall remain all winter. It is still warm enough for us to work in our shirt sleeves; but as we must soon have colder weather, we have been for the past month making preparations to meet it.—We have about 75 log houses built, and every tent has a log fire-place, which makes us pretty comfortable and gives to our camp rather a strange look, especially to a stranger. We have had one slight fall of snow, which gave to things a home like appearance, but it soon disappeared under the warm rays of the sun.

I am sorry to inform you that Col. Marston has again been wounded. On Monday, as Lieut. Col. Fiske's waiter was cleaning a revolver (in a small tent in the rear of Col. Marston's) it was accidentally discharged. The ball passed through the sides of the two tents, struck Col. Marston just above his thigh and came out in front, slightly fracturing his hip-bone. The wound is not considered dangerous, and he is better this morning.

Last Friday was our monthly inspection, and we have the name of passing the best inspection of any regiment in the Division, which is considered something of an honor, as there has been considerable rivalry between some of the regiments in this respect. A few weeks since our hospital department was inspected by the medical examiner of the army, and pronounced No. 1, which speaks well for Dr. Merrows and those connected with him.

Saturday we received a visit from a party of ladies and gentlemen from Washington. Among the number were Hon. John P. Hale, Hon. E. H. Rollins and Hon. Daniel Clark, of New Hampshire. They came down the Potomac in a small steamer, and as they passed the rebel batteries, the rebels fired a few guns. As the shot did not strike any where near them, I presume it was intended as a military salute.

For a few days past we have had the pleasure of the company of a Portsmouth man, Mr. John H. Broughton, and I assure you the boys of Company K were glad to see him. It had been some time since we had seen any one directly from old Portsmouth.

The rebels still continue to fire on vessels coming up and going down the Potomac, but with very little effect. Last week three of our gun boats shelled the woods at Freestone Point, where there was supposed to be a rebel encampment; after firing the woods they went on shore and destroyed several buildings which were full of provisions, and then run up river. A deserter from the rebel army reports that they have plenty to eat but that they are very poorly clothed. He says a number are waiting to improve the first chance to cross the river. Let them come: we have plenty to eat and to wear, and don't have to take our pay in Confederate State Bonds. C. E. P.

Foreign News.—We have six days' later news from Europe by the America at Halifax, and the Arago and another steamer off Cape Race. The British Government has expressed its approval of the conduct of Com'r Williams on board the Trent. The supply of breadstuffs in England is reported to be ample. No charters are taken for American vessels in England. The Warrior is taking in a supply of coal; and four battalions of infantry, with cavalry and artillery in proportion, are ordered to hold themselves ready to embark for Canada. All the workmen at the Tower of London are busy packing up arms for transportation. But even in the midst of all this turmoil, England keeps an eye upon France, and speculates anxiously on the part the Emperor is likely to take in the quarrel, while the journals think that France is not in a position to undertake war at present. Irish sympathy is with us; a mass meeting has been held in Dublin, where resolutions expressive of sympathy with us were passed. The English press ridicule the idea of submitting the question to arbitration. French journals say that France will continue neutral; she has no intention of weakening us. News from other countries is comparatively unimportant.

General Scott has very unexpectedly returned home in the Arago, which passed Cape Race on Saturday. It is reported that he had a long interview with Prince Napoleon previous to leaving Paris, and brings a message of good will from the Emperor. Further than this, it is not known what has induced his sudden return from Europe.

The climate is our worst enemy at Port Royal. Of Gen. Sherman's 15,000 men, in one month 5000 have been on the sick list.—Boston Post.

Mrs. Capt. Ricketts, who has just returned from Richmond, (where she has been taking care of her wounded husband, now recovered,) says there are 9000 sick rebel soldiers in the hospitals and houses at Richmond.

By the way, if white regiments are sickly in South Carolina, may it not be a military necessity to enlist some black ones?

THE REBELLION.

The rebels along the line, on Saturday by a preconcerted movement, destroyed about 100 miles of the North Missouri Railroad. Commencing eight miles south of Hudson, they burned the bridges, woodpiles, water-tanks and ties, tore up the rails for miles, bent them, and destroyed the telegraph line. This was continued to Warrenton, where the work of destruction ceased. The prisoners taken by Gen. Pope are represented as a motley crew, ranging from 16 to 70 years of age. Many of the arms captured are federal muskets, and some of the prisoners wore federal uniforms taken at Lexington. Several federal wagons were also re-captured. Among the prisoners was the notorious Col. Magoffin, who about two weeks ago was released on his parole of honor, he representing that his wife was seriously ill, and begging permission to see her before she died.

Another steamer from Port Royal, 18th, arrived at New York on Sunday. On the morning of the 18th, heavy firing was heard in the direction of Tybee Island, and the steamer Marion proceeded there with reinforcements. No further particulars.—Seven of the stone fleet were towed to Charleston on that day, and nine others followed under sail. The hulks were towed to a point about one mile outside the bar, where six gunboats were ready to place them in position.

A bright light was seen from Fortress Monroe in the direction of Norfolk, on Saturday, which it was thought was occasioned by a conflagration there. It is rumored that the rebels are planning an expedition from Norfolk to re-capture Hatteras. 1100 men are said to be busy at Norfolk, finishing guns, under the superintendence of an English man. It is asserted that a majority of the people there pray for a speedy Union advance, and as soon as the old flag is unfolded opposite Fortress Monroe, we will receive such assistance as will drive the enemy before us.

It is reported that Fort Pickens has opened fire three times on Fort McRae, since the 22d ult., but the effect is not known.—On the 30th an incessant shower of shells were thrown into the Fort from Fort Pickens.

A dispatch to the N. Y. Herald from Point of Rocks, Md., Sunday evening, says all is right on the Upper Potomac. Jackson retired to Leesburg with his entire force, having failed in everything—even to procure his salt. The rebel battery opposite Col. Geary's camp has also retired to Leesburg.

Levi Mann, a colored man, recently arrived from Fort Pickens, and for some time a prisoner in the interior of Alabama, informs the N. Y. Herald that there are upwards of 8000 runaway negroes in that State, hiding in the woods. They have vague ideas of the war.

One company of the 7th regiment U. S. regulars, from New Mexico, Lieut. Ryan commanding, arrived at Sackett's Harbor, for garrison duty at Madison Barracks, Saturday.

Gen. Halleck, in Missouri, has issued an order saying any one caught burning bridges, destroying railroads or telegraphs, will be immediately shot.

Five members of the Kentucky House of Representatives have been expelled for aiding the rebellion. The rebels have torn up the railroad track from Green river to Bowling Green. Gen. Schoepf remains near Munfordsville, and no immediate engagement is expected.

☞ The Tribune's Washington dispatch says Lord Lyon made his first official communication to Secretary Seward on the Trent affair, on Saturday. The general impression was that the British Government do not present an ultimatum, but leave room for negotiation.

The latest sensational dispatch, however, (to the Philadelphia Bulletin,) says Lord Lyons will not present his dispatch of the Trent affair until Admiral Milne acts upon his instructions to proceed to Boston harbor.

☞ A great amount of sickness among our volunteers at Port Royal has been caused by over working, especially in the water. Yet only about 1000 negroes have been employed in work,—though there are 12,000 on the islands, from which every white rebel has run away. As many of these as we need, could be had, if our government would encourage them by food, clothing and pay,—with freedom! We are surely bound by no paper ties even, to regard the property of South Carolina rebels, in better men than themselves. They have cut the cord that bound us.

And it is certain we ought not to throw away the lives of our 2000 New Hampshire men there, merely because we are afraid to free a few negroes and make them useful to us and to themselves.

Of what are we afraid? that we shall enrage or impoverish their masters? They cannot be more enraged than now—and that they should be impoverished is all right.

Naval Cannon.—It is said the British Navy has 12,000 cannon; the French, 8,500; the American, 2,500.

Special Notices.

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper thereto."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business in the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notices may be ordered for the Chronicle; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

American Women.

America is justly proud of its beautiful women; but how many die annually, or prematurely lose their health and youth for want of a remedy suitable to their peculiar ailments. That remedy is found in SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS. We know hundreds of cases where they have been used with the greatest success.—In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed,—moderating excesses and removing obstructions, whether from cold or any other cause. Suffer no more anxiety or low spirits, but try them, for full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the Agent.

One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 Pills, by return mail. my28dnw8m

CHRISTMAS SERVICES.—Rev. Dr. A. P. Peabody will preach at the Unitarian Church on Christmas morning.

☞ Judge Doe, of this city, who has been quite sick of late, has sufficiently recovered to be able to be present at the Supreme Judicial Court at Dover last week, though he has not yet resumed his judicial labors.

POLICE COURT.—Friday, Dec. 20.—Joseph Akerman, charged with being a common drunkard, was sentenced to the House of Correction for thirty days, and to pay costs, amounting to $3.98.

Saturday, Dec. 21.—Edward Fitzgerald and Charles Willey, for being drunk, were each fined $1 and costs.

Monday, Dec. 23.—James McDavett, for being drunk and disturbing the public peace, was fined $3, and costs, taxed at $3.36.

☞ The grand Firemen's, Military and Civic Ball to be given at Irving Hall this evening, under the auspices of the Atlantic Associate Ex 6's, will afford a capital opportunity for those who enjoy a social dance to gratify themselves. The names of the gentlemen who have been entrusted with the arrangements, are alone a guarantee that nothing will be wanting to render it the most brilliant and successful affair of the season.

☞ Our friend Mr. John Rogers, of the Kittery Nurseries,—(not he of the "nine small children," or ten, if you say so, reader,—we have not made up our mind on that point,—but a direct lineal descendant from him,) has recently erected on his beautiful grounds another green house, this being the third. All Portsmouth people, and many residing not so near, are well aware that he is remarkably successful in the cultivation of beautiful and rare plants; but it may not so generally be known that he is prepared at all times to furnish cut flowers to order.

☞ The sale of elegant statuary, vases, Bohemian glass, French China, etc., to take place at Jefferson Hall, was adjourned on Monday afternoon, on account of the storm, and will take place this afternoon and evening, at two and seven o'clock. This affords a rare opportunity for the purchase of beautiful and valuable articles.

☞ Chase's Museum of Art at the Temple, this evening. Don't fail to see it before it leaves the city.

A CARD.—The members of PISCATAQUA ENGINE Co. No. 4, having received from Mr. JAMES H. HEAD, as a Christmas present, a beautiful and valuable engraving of Beethoven, would hereby return to him their most sincere thanks, and assure him that the friendship which prompted the gift will not soon be forgotten or lightly regarded.

HALL B. RAND, Foreman,
In behalf of the Company.

☞ It is reported that Capt. Thomas O. Barri, of the U. S. Army, is to be Colonel of the 2d regiment of Gen. Butler's division, now at Camp Chase, Lowell, Mass. It is said this regiment will embark on board the steamer Constitution, at Boston, on Wednesday.

☞ The extensive drug store belonging to Hegeman & Co., 161 Broadway, New York, was destroyed by fire on Sunday. Their loss is $40,000; fully insured. The building belonged to the widow of Geo. Long, and was fully insured for $20,000.

CAT MANIA.—A cat mania is a singular thing; yet it existed in Mrs. Griggs, of Southampton Row, London, who died on the 16th of January, 1792. Her executors found in her house eighty-six living and twenty-eight dead cats! Their owner, who died worth $150,000, left her black servant $750 per annum for the maintenance of surviving cats and himself. Pope records an instance of a Duchess of R——, who bequeathed considerable legacies and annuities to her cats. In the Mercure Galante there may be found a record of a famous lawsuit, relating to a cat of Madame de Puis, a celebrated performer on the harp. This lady's will, in favor of her cat, made a great noise at the time. It settled a large pension upon her, and that so many visits should be paid her every week. In the suit carried on to set the will aside, MM. Wenzier and Vautier, celebrated lawyers, were engaged to sustain it, while M. de Ferriers, equally famous, was retained in the opposite interest. But if, of the gentler sex, there are those "who cradle the blind offspring of their Selimas, and adorn the pensive mother's neck with coral beads," some also among the remarkable of our sterner race have shown an extraordinary fondness for these luxurious quadrupeds. Mohammed, for instance, had a cat to which he was so much attached that he preferred cutting off the sleeve of his garment to disturbing her repose, when she had fallen asleep upon it. Petrarch was so fond of his cat, that he had it embalmed after death, and placed in a niche in his apartment. Dr. Johnson had a feline favorite, and when it was ill, declining his usual food, but greedily seizing an oyster when it was offered, he was accustomed to bring home for her daily some of these tempting molluscs. Mr. Peter King, who died at Islington in 1806, had two tom-cats, that used to sit up at table with him at his meals, and, as he was a great admirer of fine clothes richly laced, he thought his cats might like them too. The grimalkins were accordingly measured, and wore rich liveries until death.—Cassell's Popular Natural History.

☞ Brig. Gen. Schoepff was, some years ago, a porter in a New York hotel. By industry and integrity he rose from that humble position to his present eminence.

THE PATENT
FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably supersede all other Hair-Brushes, whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it pronounce it a complete success. It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot by any possibility get out of order, is compact, elegant, durable, and will save twice its own price within three months, by economising Preparations for the Hair.

THE FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH is guaranteed to effect a Saving of One-half in the use of all hair-washes, oils, &c., as compared with any and every other means of applying them. As some of these articles cost from one to two dollars per bottle, this is a matter of no small moment.

To recapitulate, in brief, the merits of the PATENT FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH:—

It dresses the hair without soiling the fingers; it effects a saving of one-half in the use of hair preparations; it does away with the greasy hair-oil bottles; it is a handsomer article than the common hair-brush; it regulates the quantity of fluid used, to a drop; it is perfectly tight, and cannot spill over on the trunk or on the toilet; it carries enough of any preparation to last for a voyage or a long journey; its price is moderate, and it saves its own cost in three months; and finally, no sensible person who uses the PATENT FOUNTAIN BRUSH will ever use any other.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ From various sources we learn that the affairs of the confederates are not rose colored just now. The blockade of their ports has produced the severest effects.—Many staple articles of living are so scarce that they command ruinous prices. Salt is extremely dear; tea costs four dollars per pound, butter seventy-five cents, cotton thread is twenty-five cents a spool, and sewing silk cannot be had. So pressing are the wants of the people in Virginia for articles of prime necessity that the news from England respecting the capture of Mason and Slidell was received with spasmodic joy.

A SENSIBLE POPULAR AUTHOR.—Chares Dickens, having been named as a candidate for Parliament, writes thus to the London Daily News, from Newcastle on-Tyne:

Being here for a day or two, I have observed in your paper of yesterday, an account of a meeting of Finsbury electors, in which it was discussed whether I should be invited to become a candidate for that borough. It may save some trouble if you will kindly allow me to confirm a sensible gentleman, who doubted at that meeting whether I was quite the sort of a man for Finsbury. I am not at all the sort of a man, for I believe nothing would induce me to offer myself as a Parliamentary representative of that place, or of any other under the sun.

☞ For nearly six months, no vessel from a foreign port has entered New Orleans. That city, in this cold weather, is perspiring inside of a bottle with the cork in—and sealed hermetically.

☞ The London Times costs thirty-five dollars a year to subscribers. The Daily Chronicle but four dollars,—the Gazette only $1 per year.

GET THE BEST!
WORCESTER'S
ILLUSTRATED
ROYAL QUARTO DICTIONARY,
The Standard.

This massive volume contains ONE THOUSAND EIGHT HUNDRED AND FIFTY-FOUR pages. It is illustrated by more than ONE THOUSAND SUPERB WOOD CUTS, and TWENTY THOUSAND words are accurately SYNONYMIZED; the Tables of PROPER NAMES pronounced are very full and accurate.

☞ It is the BEST DEFINING and PRONOUNCING DICTIONARY of the English language, and contains many thousand more words and meanings than are to be found in any other similar work.

☞ It is the standard recognized by our eminent authors. It is the standard authority for the Official Records and Documents and Public Printing of the United States.

☞ Every family should possess a copy, for it is a library of itself. It is the only American Dictionary which is a safe guide. It is the only desirable Dictionary of the language.

From HON. GEO. P. MARSH, LL. D., Author of "Lectures on the English Language."

The work of Dr. Worcester is unquestionably MUCH SUPERIOR to any other general Dictionary of the language, IN EVERY ONE of these particulars, and it is therefore entitled to rank FIRST among the existing helps to a complete knowledge of English philology.

From WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT and WASHINGTON IRVING.

The new authentic etymologies, the concisenessand COMPLETENESS OF THE DEFINITIONS, the nicety with which the different shades of meaning in synonyms are distinguished, and the CONSCIENTIOUS ACCURACY of the work in all its departments, give it, in my judgment, the highest claims to public favor.

I concur with the opinion of Mr. Bryant.—Washington Irving.

From PROF. OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES, Boston.

It is, indeed, a MONUMENTAL WORK, and one of which our city and country may be proud as long as we have a city, a country, and a language.

From CHARLES DICKENS, England.

It is A MOST REMARKABLE WORK, of which America will be justly proud, and for which all who study the English language will long have reason to respect your name, and to be grateful to you

From the REV. W. WHEWELL, D. D., Master of Trinity College, Cambridge, England, Author of "History of the Inductive Sciences."

I have repeatedly consulted the Dictionary, since it has been in my possession, and have seen reason to pronounce it MORE COMPLETE AND EXACT than any of its predecessors.

From REV. JOSEPH BOSWORTH, D. D., F. R. S., Professor of Anglo-Saxon in Oxford University, England.

The whole work is the most comprehensive and useful that I have yet seen. It is THE MOST COMPLETE AND PRACTICAL, THE VERY BEST, as well as the cheapest English Dictionary that I know.

I find it not only rich beyond example in its vocabulary, but carefully elaborated in all the details, and THOROUGHLY TRUSTWORTHY as a guide to the most correct and elegant usage of the language.

From GEO. B. EMERSON, LL. D., Member of Mass. Board of Education.

I wish it to be known that I consider Dr. Worcester's new Dictionary the best and the MOST UNEXCEPTIONABLE DICTIONARY of the English Language with which I am acquainted.

From HON. CHARLES SUMNER.

I know no one who has done so much as you for all departments, and given to our language a Dictionary SO COMPLETE AND MANY-SIDED. It ought to be in every library, academy and school.

The large of a few months will be sufficient to establish Worcester's Dictionary as the acknowledged standard of reference among the scholars of England and America.—London Literary Gaz., Feb. 11, 1861.

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,
FOR WOOD OR COAL.
MADE BY
THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,
Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster, or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and its jackets are provided for the back and hot plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be VERY STORE for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

Reference is made to Messrs. J. Trundy, J. M Mathes, N. K. Walker, C. C. Jackson, C. H. Mendum, James F. Shores, Geo. Whitehouse, Joseph E. W Davis, Greenland; John Smart, Strafford; L. Pollard, Raymond; Robert F. Goodwin, Kittery; Nath'l F. Berry, Gosport, and many others who are using the Stove.

This stove was thoroughly tested before being brought into the market, and we know that all that is said of it will be found true on trial.

☞ We have also a very beautiful new pattern COOK STOVE, called the

Medal Range;

Of which very many are being sold. It works well and comes cheap, and is well suited for a small family.

1861. MAGEE'S PATENT COOKING STOVE. 1861.

THE GREATEST INVENTION OF THE AGE!

For Wood or Coal,
Operating on the same principle as the celebrated
MAGEE PARLOR STOVE.

This beautiful COOK STOVE is now offered to the public with entire confidence in its being the BEST OPERATING, MOST DURABLE and ECONOMICAL Stove ever invented, requiring one-third less Fuel than any other Stove in the market, to do the same amount of cooking; and the fire may be kept in it the entire season, without going out. The public are invited to call and examine this Stove, which is all that is necessary to convince any person that it has no superior, and cannot be beat. And we predict for it that popularity and immense sale which has attended the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE since its introduction into this market.

"Every Stove is warranted to give ENTIRE SATISFACTION in every particular."

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES
FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

☞ A call upon the patriotism of the fishermen, and reference to the bounty so long paid them, is found just now in nearly all the papers. We wish that coupled with it could be given the number of fishermen already enlisted in the navy. The Gloucester, Mass., Telegraph says, from that town alone some five or six hundred hardy fishermen have joined the navy—and two or three hundred have entered the land service — and many more will do so when they get the bounty now due.

☞ On the authority of a reliable correspondent, the New York Tribune says the agents of Col. Colt are actively engaged in England in aiding the manufacture of revolvers for the Southern rebels.

☞ Recent accounts from California mention a severe snow storm in the mountains, which completely blocked up the roads, and stopped all travel east of Strawberry Valley. Between Strawberry and Lake Vallies, the snow in some places was fifteen deep.

☞ A boy 14 years of age committed suicide in Cincinnati last week, from profound grief at the troubles of his distracted country.

☞ The Alleghanians and Swiss Bell Ringers have gone to Baltimore and Washington, where they will perform until the holidays.

☞ The Gas Works in the town of Exeter went into operation last Saturday evening, when the streets, and many of the houses, were lighted with gas for the first time.

☞ On Tuesday night, the entire lead on the roof of the High School House in Lowell, about five hundred pounds, was stripped off and carried away.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 25, 1861.

GEN. SCOTT'S NOBLE LETTER.

We publish, as the best leader we can offer, the valuable and timely letter of Gen. Scott, which produced a good effect in European circles, as is indicated by the dispatches of the Jura. It is a straight-forward document, showing that the brain of Gen. Scott is still active, and that he wields a vigorous pen. The calm spirit in which the old veteran goes over the grounds of the difficulty, are in marked contrast with the vapid ebullitions of feeling displayed by various members of the English press and others in treating this question.

His advice to our own Cabinet at home will of course be of the same tenor. He has been a peace maker or preserver, more than once;—we trust he may be so now.

MY DEAR SIR:—You were right in doubting the declaration imputed to me, to wit: that the Cabinet at Washington had given orders to seize Messrs. Mason and Slidell, even under a neutral flag, for I was not even aware that the Government had that point under consideration. At the time of my leaving New York it was not known that the San Jacinto had returned to the American seas; and it was generally supposed those persons had escaped to Cuba for the purpose of reembarking in the Nashville, in pursuit of which vessel the James Adger and other cruisers had been despatched. I think I can satisfy you, in a few words, that you have no serious occasion to feel concerned about our relations with England if, as her rulers profess, she has no disposition to encourage the dissensions in America. In the first place, it is almost superfluous to say to you, that every instinct of prudence as well as of good neighborhood prompts our Government to regard no honorable sacrifice too great for the preservation of the friendship of Great Britain. This must be obvious to all the world. At no period of our history has her friendship been of more importance to our people; at no period has our Government been in a condition to make greater concessions to preserve it.—The two nations are united by interest and sympathies, commercial, social, political, and religious, almost as the two arms to one body, and no one is so ignorant as not to know that what harms one must harm the other in a corresponding degree. I am persuaded that the British Government can entertain no doubt upon the point; but if it does, I feel that I can take it upon myself to say that the President of the United States, when made aware of its existence, will lose no opportunity of dispelling it.—* * * Whether the captives from the Trent were contraband of war or not, is a question which the two Governments can have no serious difficulty in agreeing upon. If Mr. Seward cannot satisfy Earl Russell that they were, I have no doubt Earl Russell will be able to satisfy Mr. Seward that they were not. If they were, as all authorities concur in admitting, agents of the rebellion, it will be difficult to satisfy impartial minds that they were any less contraband than a file of rebel soldiers or a battery of hostile cannon.

But even should there be a difference of opinion upon this point, it is very clear that our Government had sufficient grounds for presuming itself in the right, to escape the suspicion of having wantonly violated the relations of amity which the two countries profess a desire to preserve and cultivate. The pretense that we ought to have taken the Trent into port, and had her condemned by a prize court, in order to justify our seizure of four of her passengers, furnishes a very narrow basis on which to fix a serious controversy between two great nations.—Stated in other words, an offense would have been less if it had been greater. The wrong done to the British flag would have been mitigated if, instead of seizing the four rebels, we had seized the ship, detained all her passengers for weeks, and confiscated her cargo. I am not surprised that Capt. Wilkes took a different view of his duty, and of what was due to the friendly relations which subsisted between the two Governments. The renowned common sense of the English people, I believe, will approve of his effort to make the discharge of a very unpleasant duty, as little vexatious as possible to all innocent parties.

If under these circumstances England should deem it her duty in the interest of civilization to insist upon the restoration of the men taken from under the protection of her flag, it will be from a conviction, without doubt, that the law of nations in regard to the rights of neutrals, which she has taken the leading part in establishing, requires revision, and with a suitable disposition on her part to establish those rights upon a just, humane and philosophic basis. Indeed, I am happy to see an intimation in one of the leading metropolitan journals which goes far to justify this inference.

* * * If England, as we are encouraged to hope, is disposed to do her part in stripping war of half its horrors by accepting the policy long and persistently urged upon her by our Government, and commended by every principle of justice and humanity, she will find no ground, in the visit of the Trent, for controversy with our Government.

I am sure the President and people of the United States would be but too happy to let these men go free, unnatural and unpardonable as their offenses have been, if by it they could emancipate the commerce of the world. Greatly as it would be to our disadvantage at the present crisis, to surrender any of those maritime privileges of belligerents which are sanctioned by the laws of nations, I feel that I take no responsibility in saying that the U. States will be faithful to her traditional policy upon this subject, and to the spirit of her political institutions. On the other hand, should England be unprepared to make a corresponding sacrifice—should she feel that she could not yet afford to surrender the advantages which the maritime code gives to a dominant naval power—of course she will not put herself in a false position by asking us to do it. In either case, therefore, I do not see how the friendly relations of the two Governments are in any immediate danger of being disturbed. That the over prompt recognition, as belligerents, of a body of men, however large—so long as they constituted a manifest minority of the nation, wounded the feelings of my countrymen deeply, I will not affect to deny, nor that that act, with some of its logical consequences which have already occurred, has planted in the breasts of many the suspicion that their kindred in England wish them evil rather than good; but the statesmen to whom the political interests of these two great peoples are confided, act upon higher responsibilities and with better lights, and you may rest assured that an event so mutually disastrous as a war between England and America, cannot occur without some other and graver provocation than has yet been given by either nation.

Paris, Dec. 4. WINFIELD SCOTT.

CHRISTMAS.—Time, at least, is true and faithful. The seasons have lavished their bounties and read their lessons, though both are slighted. The summer flowers twinkle and drink the light, although our hurrying feet trample them to death. The winter winds sigh of the grave, and the birds in the green and budding branches sing of the new life, although our ears are closed against their music. Christmas is a regular thing. We may heap cold ashes of dignity and pressing business upon its glowing memories; we may strike down in our hearts the shape of Love and Joy, as they rise from the mist of Long Ago; we ask, What's the use? and say, It don't pay, and the little children with gravity and decision, tell that Santa Claus is all nonsense, and that they are too large to be thinking about toys and sugar plums; we may, in fact, refuse to give the occasion any countenance whatever, and yet the day will be, and it will be —Christmas. It will be a bad day for us as a nation, and as individuals, when the approach of this blessed holiday finds our hearts cold and our hands idle.

REV. HENRY WILDER FOOTE was inducted as minister and religious teacher of the King's Chapel Society, Boston, on Sunday morning.

Rev. James Walker invoked the divine blessing. Mr. Emerson, senior warden, read the vote of the Society extended to Mr. Foote, asking him to be their pastor and minister and religious instructor, according to the doctrines found in the Scriptures as interpreted by the Society—the pastoral connection to be continued until dissolved by a two-thirds vote of the Wardens and Vestry for the time being, and two-thirds of the proprietors.

Mr. Foote gave his public assent to the contract. The resolution adopted was then signed by the Wardens. Mr. Emerson then presented the Pastor elect with a copy of the Bible as the standard of faith and authority for his guidance.

Rev. Dr. Walker welcomed the young pastor to the work of the ministry, and gave what in Congregational usage would be called the Right Hand of Fellowship, the Prayer of Ordination, the Charge to the Minister, and the Address to the Society.

Mr Foote preached an admirable sermon from the text in Proverbs, 11th chapter, 30th verse—"He that winneth souls is wise."

☞ The Prince Consort of England, Prince Albert, died on Sunday, Dec. 15th, of gastric fever. He was the second son of Ernest, Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, and was born Aug. 26, 1819. In 1838 he went to England, to the court of Queen Victoria, and a year later the Queen announced to the privy council her intention of marriage with him. The marriage was celebrated Feb. 10, 1840. He was precluded by his position from taking an active part in politics, and consequently devoted himself to the promotion of the arts and sciences. His influence has been exercised quietly, but most beneficently, for the advancement of all arts of peace.

☞ Anna A. Downer was convicted of the murder of Mrs. Rhoda M. Wilkins of Lowell, Mass., before the Supreme Court at East Cambridge, on Friday. This was a case that has been mixed up with spiritualism, but the murder came from carnalism—not spiritualism. This is said to be the first case since the revolution, where a woman was convicted of murder in the first degree in Massachusetts.

☞ The news from San Francisco, by telegraph, is to the 19th inst. The steamer Pacific had arrived, with Oregon dates to the 12th and Victoria to the 7th, and $180,000 in gold. The recent freshets were terribly destructive to property in the valleys bordering on the rivers in Oregon.—Nearly all the flouring mills of the State and great quantities of grain were destroyed. Most of the frame warehouses in Oregon City were washed away, and the town flooded four feet deep. Only two houses were left standing in Lime City.

☞ Steamer North Star, from Aspinwall, arrived at New York Monday night, with $822,000 in California gold. A French transport ship, the Resource, bound to Callao, was wrecked 40 miles south of Valparaso. She had over 600 souls on board, only five or six of whom were saved.

☞ Of over forty overcoats thrown away by the retreating rebels at Dainsville, only two were woolen.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Exeter News Letter gives the following:—"Mr. George Cheney, of Stratham, last Wednesday took a young horse in Exeter and was leading him home, tied behind his wagon. The horse behind became frightened, it is supposed by passing a butcher's cart, reared up and fell between the wheels and body of the wagon. Mr. Cheney was thrown from his wagon, and the colt run back and was secured. The horse in the wagon after throwing the body from the forward wheels, ran to the sidewalk on which stood two women and a little girl, daughter of Mr. George Shute.—The wheels were overturned, hitting the girl, and cutting a wound in her head. Mr. Cheney and the women escaped without serious injury."

—— Rev. G. W. Bailey, Universalist minister at Lebanon, has closed his labors with the Society. The Free Press intimates that he was obliged to leave town, for want of support, for no other reason than because he refused to give to treason the sanction which silence would imply.

—— Dr. S. H. Melcher, formerly of Laconia, has received the appointment of Brigade Surgeon in the first Brigade Missouri State Militia, and Inspector for the District of St. Louis.

—— A Port Royal correspondent of the Boston Transcript says William F. Robertson, formerly master machinist at Manchester, has been appointed head mechanic there, and his first job was to put in order the different cotton gins. He is now attaching them to a steam engine which was found in the Fort there, and makes the machine that formerly made up (ginned) two bales, now make up at the rate of seven or eight bales in a day. So much for one "infernal machine" in the hands of a "greasy mechanic!"

☞ Mr. J. W. Dow, postmaster at Hampton, has furnished us with the following list of the deaths which have occurred in the 3d N. H. Regiment since it left Concord. It was sent to him from Port Royal, Dec. 14, by his brother, who is standard bearer of the regiment. It was copied from the Regimental books and the morning reports of the surgeon, to which his position as private clerk to Adjt. Hill, gives him access, and may be relied upon as correct.—The list includes their respective ages, the letter of their Company, and the place at which they were enlisted.

F. J. Bennett, Co. G, in hospital at Annapolis, Oct. 23, age 18, Lancaster.

Amasa Niles, Co. G, on steamer Atlantic, Nov. 7, age 19, Orford.

Zeri S. Sager, Co. F, in camp hospital, Nov. 22, age 22, Nashua.

Asa F. Sanborn, Co. I, in do, do, Nov. 28, age 19, Rochester.

Joseph A. Peavey, Co. G, in do, do, Nov. 30, age 19, Ossipee.

Lewis B. Jordan, Co. K, in do, do, Dec. 6, age 18, Lebanon.

John L. Haselton, Co. G, in do, do, Dec. 10, age 18, Lebanon.

In addition to the above one recruit from Keene was drowned while bathing in the river, and one member of Co. G was taken sick while home on furlough and has since died. Number of persons remaining in hospital this morning, Dec. 14, 13.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, Monday, Garrett Davis of Kentucky, elected in place of Breckinridge, appeared and took the oath. $1,500,000 were appropriated for building gunboats on the Western rivers. The House bill increasing the duties on tea, coffee and sugar was passed. A bill was introduced, punishing any military or naval officer who shall cause the seizure and surrender of a fugitive slave.

In the House, a bill for increasing the tariff on tea, coffee and sugar was passed. The Committee on Military Affairs was instructed to inquire into the necessity of fortifying the entrances to Narragansett bay. A bill amending the act to establish a judicial system, was reported and postponed to Jan. 3. The Committee on Territories was instructed to inquire into the expediency of establishing a territorial government in disloyal States. The Committee on the Judiciary was instructed to report a bill incapacitating any person engaged in the rebellion from holding office under the U. S. government. Both Houses adjourned to Thursday.

☞ Read Mr. Shores' neat invitation to visit his store—and be sure it is one of the very best places to select your presents for Christmas or New Year. We speak that we do know, and testify to what we have seen—for we received from there yesterday, one of the neatest little gifts 'you ever saw.'

☞ The Granite State Bank, at Exeter, has declared a dividend of four per cent.—The Cocheco Manufacturing Co., it is said, will pay a dividend in January. The Eastern Railroad (which is generally opposed to dead-heading) will pass its dividend expected to be paid in January.

☞ Capt. Charles E. Blunt, of the U. S. Engineer Corps, left Boston, Monday, to inspect the fortifications and harbor defences at the Eastward.

THE REBELLION.

The Missouri Republican announces authoritatively that Senator Polk of that State has joined the rebels at Memphis,—and that Johnson, the other Missouri Senator, has been with the rebels in Western Virginia since last July.

The destruction of the North Missouri Railroad by the rebels is complete, as was at first stated. Who the parties are, is not yet known; but the inhabitants along the road say no repairs can be made except where the road is guarded by federal troops.

The result of our recent victories in Missouri is 1300 prisoners, 1000 horses and mules, 1000 stand of arms, and a quantity of stores, supplies and clothing. The Col. Magoffin captured is a brother of Gov. Magoffin of Ky. Gen. Pope has received the following dispatch from Gen. Halleck:

"To Gen. John Pope:—I congratulate you and your command on the brilliant success of your expedition. I hope it will be the forerunner of still greater successes.

H. W. HALLECK, Maj. Gen. Com'g."

The Tribune's Washington dispatch says the Richmond correspondent of the Nashville Union and American learns from an authentic source that President Davis has under consideration a matter that would, in all probability, result in the resignation of Gen. Wise and all the officers of his Legion; in which event Obadiah Jennings Wise, his son, would resume his post as editor of the Richmond Enquirer, and assail the administration with all his power. This, says the writer, would be a most unfortunate circumstance at this juncture, when a single turn of the wheel may bring endless disaster to the South.

The N. Y. Times publishes a statement by Lieut. Hurd, of the 2d Maine regiment, who was wounded and taken prisoner at Bull Run, and recently released. He with Col. Corcoran and some three hundred others were confined in the Charleston jail at the time of the great conflagration, and they only escaped from the jail, which was burnt, by leaping from a window, no effort being made to save them by the Charlestonians. Col. Corcoran, Lieut. Hurd believes, escaped during the confusion, as he expressed a determination to try to reach Beaufort or the North, and has not since been heard of.

The Tribune's Washington dispatch says Lord Lyons held another conference with Secretary Seward at the State department on Monday. Persons of high authority state that the conference was friendly and satisfactory.

Thurlow Weed writes from Europe to the Albany Journal that George L. Schuyler, the agent of the U. S. Government, has obtained from the government arsenals in Austria and Saxony over one hundred thousand rifles, equal to any in the world. These arms are now on their way to America.

☞ An extensive fire is said to have occurred at Yorktown, Va., about a week since.

The Charleston Courier estimates the loss by the late fire at that city at ten millions of dollars.

☞ A rumor was prevalent in New York on Tuesday, on which speculators in stocks were operating, that Mason and Slidell were to be sent to England in the steamer to-day. The agent of the steamship company had not received any orders for their accommodation.

☞ Maj. Marston, U. S. Marine Corps, has been ordered to the Portsmouth Navy Yard, vice Col. Dulany, transferred to Charlestown, Mass. Maj. Marston was stationed at this post some years ago.

☞ Austrian papers state that fears are entertained at Vienna that war between England and America would remove the only obstacle in Europe against French ambition, and that France would begin war with Germany.

☞ A special dispatch from Washington to the New York Post, says that the Cabinet has resolved to release Mason and Slidell, and orders have gone on to ship them at once to Halifax.

☞ It is said that Ireland is ripe for a revolution, in case of war between England and the United States.

TRUTH IS MIGHTY and always prevails, tho' it may at times meet with such opposition that makes the contest a protracted one. Such an one has the Homeopathic mode of treatment met, but nobly have its champions stood up for the right, and they are now reaping their reward. Never since the discovery was first made by the immortal Hahneman, has it numbered so many friends as it does at this time. Improvements and new discoveries in the method of treatment, as well as the simplifying the preparation of the medicine, which is done by DOCT. GIFFORD'S system of CURATIVES, have no doubt done much to popularize the practice. His SPECIFICS for the different diseases, for instance, headaches, coughs or colds, dyspepsia, billiousness, croup, catarrh, piles, etc., etc., put up in neat boxes, and sold at 25 cts. each, are doing much, by their efficiency of action, in arresting disease, to open the eyes of the public to the absurd practice that has long been considered "regular." A case of these Curatives for family use are getting to be about as common as babies in a house, and every family should have one.—a case of medicine we mean, sold by J. H. TRACHER, Agent, 13 Market Sq., and corner State and Pleasant sts., Portsmouth; M. S. BURR & Co., wholesale, Boston, Mass.; W. G. FARLOW, wholesale, Portland, Me.; or sent anywhere by

CHRISTMAS CAROL.

Earthly friends will change and falter,
Earthly hearts will vary:
He is born that cannot alter,
Of the Virgin Mary.
Born to-day,—Raise the Lay;
Born to-day,—Twine the Bay;
Jesus Christ is born to suffer.
Born for you: born for you,—Holly strew!
Jesus Christ was born to conquer,
Born to save: born to save,—Laurel wave!
Jesus Christ was born to govern,
Born a King: born a King,—Bay wreaths bring,
Jesus Christ was Born of Mary,
Born for all: well behold, Heaith and Hall,
Jesus Christ was born at Christmas, Born for all!

Feed the hungry, clothe the poor,
Chide no wanderer from the door:
Bounteous give, with thankful mind,
To the wretched of mankind.
This day throw the barrier down
Twixt the noble and the clown;
For an equal share have all
In its blessed festival,
Of each color, class, and clime—
'Tis the holy CHRISTMAS time.

☞ The Androscoggin railroad have announced that they will furnish a free pass to all editors residing in Maine; whereupon the Hallowell Gazette, while acknowledging the courtesy, makes the following comments:—

"It is a fact too palpable for question that railroads and steamboats receive quadruple benefits for all their courtesies towards the press, and in no sense should an editor be considered a "dead head," when he may find time, which may not be often, to travel over the various routes on business or for pleasure. Had it it not been for the aid extended by the press, but few railroad or steamboat lines could have been successfully inaugurated; and the favors thus rendered can never be estimated in dollars and cents."

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE

Large Premiums!

TO OUR FRIENDS.

Hitherto, we have never offered any one a premium for helping to extend the circulation of THE TRIBUNE. We have printed the cheapest newspaper, considering the outlay by which it is produced, that was ever issued in any country, selling it for little more than the cost of the white paper; have employed no agents to canvass for subscribers, and have allowed no compensation (beyond a copy of our paper) to any of the thousands of generous friends who have annually taken care that the number of copies of our several issues, circulated in their respective neighborhoods, should be at least maintained, and if possible increased. We have been sparing even of verbal thanks to these friends, but have none the less realized the fullness of our obligation for their earnest, unceiish, painstaking, persistent efforts.

We propose for the present season only—in view of the hardness of the times, and the fact that we are enabled to buy white paper somewhat cheaper than we have hitherto done, or can hope to do after the close of the War—to make some small acknowledgement—not so much a recompense as a slight testimonial—to those friends who shall see fit to exert themselves to obtain subscriptions (whether originals or renewals) to our Weekly and Semi-Weekly editions. We do not know that we could offer anything of similar value more generally acceptable and useful than a Gold Pen of the best quality and finish. We propose, therefore, to forward to each person who, during the two months ensuing, shall send us subscriptions and payments for THE TRIBUNE, as follows:

Weekly Tribune.

For $12, Eleven Copies Weekly Tribune, addressed to each subscriber, and Pens or Pens and cases to value of ... $1 00

For $10, Eleven Copies Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases to value of ... 1 00

For $20, Twenty-one Copies Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases to value of ... 3 00

For $40, Forty Copies Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases to value of ... 8 00

For $50, Fifty Copies Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases to value of ... 10 00

For $80, Eighty Copies Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases to value of ... 18 00

For $100, One Hundred Copies Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases to value of ... 25 00

$1 20 each will be required in all cases where the Paper is to be addressed to each subscriber.

Semi-Weekly Tribune.

For $11 25, Five Copies Semi-Weekly Tribune, and Pens or Pens and Cases to value of ... $2 00

For $20, Eleven Copies Semi-Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases to value of ... 4 00

For $40, Twenty Copy Semi Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases to value of ... 10 00

For $60, Thirty Copies Semi-Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases to value of ... 17 00

For $100, Fifty Copies Semi-Weekly Tribune, to one address, and Pens or Pens and Cases to value of ... 30 00

$2 25 each will be required in all cases where the Paper is to be addressed to each subscriber.

The pens will be of the manufacture of A. Morton, whose make we are using, and we know them to be the best made. They will be furnished at the manufacturer's lowest prices. To choose as to the style and quality of Pens or Pens and Cases wanted for premiums, our friends are referred to the manufacturer's prices in another column.—See "The Pen is mightier than the Sword," and be particular and specify the number and quality of the Pens or Pens and Cases preferred.

Specimen Copies of the Tribune sent when requested.

When Drafts can be obtained, it is much safer than to remit Bank Bills. The name of the Post-Office and State should be in all cases be plainly written. Payment always in advance.

NEW BUCKWHEAT,

First of the season, in 10 lb. bags, "cheap" for sale at MOULTON & BLAISDELL'S,
No. 1 MARKET SQUARE.

☞ The snow of Monday night, 6 or 8 inches, has given us fine sleighing at Christmas, whereat all the lovers of sleigh-rides rejoice.

Those who keep Christmas as a holy day in this city, can attend at the Episcopal, Unitarian, or Catholic Church, as all these will be open this morning. The Universalists held their meeting on Christmas eve.

☞ No Daily Chronicle Thursday, of course. Our Weekly is published to-day.

THE MASON AND SLIDELL AFFAIR.—A grand representation of the capture of the rebel commissioners will be given at the Temple this (Wednesday) afternoon and evening, in connection with Chase's Great Museum of Art. This exhibition is spoken of in terms of the highest praise by all who have witnessed it; and for ourselves, we say most emphatically that it is the best exhibition of the sort we have ever seen; and we do not know any better way of spending a merry Christmas, than by going to the Temple this afternoon or evening.

Children will be admitted this afternoon at the low price of five cents,—and they all ought to go. Commences at 2 o'clock. Go and see the exhibition by all means. This evening is positively the last chance to see one of the most superb entertainments ever presented to the public.

☞ Harper's Magazine for January, is just received by A. Williams & Co., and J. J. Dyer & Co., Boston: and for sale by J. H. Foster and D. R. Ambrose, Portsmouth.

THE NEW-HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE and Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, published Thursday, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room. Price 3 cents. Only $1 per year, in advance.

JOB AND CARD PRINTING of all sorts is promptly done at the Chronicle Office.

Marriage, Visiting or Business Cards Printed or ENGRAVED in the best manner.

All sorts of Cards, Papers, and other stock, furnished for Printing.

Wedding, plain, Initial, or Business ENVELOPES, on hand, furnished, or Printed to order—in any style.

CARDS AND BILL HEADINGS are indispensable to the business man, and we would remind all in want of such work, that the Chronicle Office is the place to get it done.

MARRIAGES.

THE PATENT
FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably supersede all other Hair-Brushes, whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it pronounce it a complete success. It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot by any possibility get out of order, is compact, elegant, durable, and will save twice its own price within three months, by economising Preparations for the Hair.

THE FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH is guaranteed to effect a Saving of One-half in the use of all hair-washes, oils, &c., as compared with any and every other means of applying them. As some of these articles cost from one to two dollars per bottle, this is a matter of no small moment.

To recapitulate, in brief, the merits of the PATENT FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH:—

It dresses the hair without soiling the fingers; it effects a saving of one-half in the use of hair preparations; it does away with the greasy hair-oil bottles; it is a handsomer article than the common hair-brush; it regulates the quantity of fluid used, to a drop; it is perfectly tight, and cannot spill over on the trunk or on the toilet; it carries enough of any preparation to last for a voyage or a long journey; its price is moderate, and it saves its own cost in three months; and finally, no sensible person who uses the PATENT FOUNTAIN BRUSH will ever use any other.

CHRISTMAS PRESENTS

A welcome, Old Christmas, a welcome once more!
Though a twelvemonth 'tis now since we met,
I by kindly old face looks as fresh as before,
Not a wrinkle of age is there yet.
A welcome, old Christmas, a welcome once more—
Though thy head be all frosty and chill,
Thy heart is yet warm with its good kindly store
Of affections and fondnesses still.

So says the Poet.

And examine the PATENT
UNIVERSAL CLOTHES-WRINGER,
THE GREATEST LABOR-SAVING MACHINE
NOW IN THE MARKET!

Will more than pay for itself in the Wear of Clothing.

FOUR REASONS

Why no one should be without one of them:

1st.—It will wring four times as fast as can be done by hand; much drier, and with one-fourth the labor; and wrings anything from a silk glove to a heavy Blanket.

2d.—Is simple, strong, and durable, and will not get out of repair.

3d.—Any servant will use it with safety to the machine, and with great saving of wear to the Clothes.

IMMORTELLES.

CHARITY.

Better to me the poor man's crust,
Better the blessing of the poor,
Though I turn me empty from his door;
That is no true alms which the hand can hold,
He gives nothing but worthless gold
Who gives from a sense of duty;
But he who gives a slender mite,
And gives to that which is out of sight,
That finest of the all-sustaining Beauty,
Which runs through all and doth all unite,—
The hand cannot clasp the whole of his alms;
The heart outstretches its eager palms,
For a god goes with it and makes it store
To the soul that was starving in darkness before.
—J. R. Lowell.

The Holy Supper is kept, indeed,
In what we share with another's need,
Not that which we give, but what we share,—
For the gift without the giver is bare;
Who bestows himself with his alms, feeds three,
Himself, his hungering neighbor, and me.
—J. R. Lowell.

GET THE BEST!

WORCESTER'S

ILLUSTRATED

ROYAL QUARTO DICTIONARY,

The Standard.

This massive volume contains ONE THOUSAND EIGHT HUNDRED AND FIFTY-FOUR pages, it is illustrated by more than ONE THOUSAND SUPERB WOOD CUTS: FIVE THOUSAND words are added to the ENTIRE VOCABULARY, the Tables of PROPER NAMES Pronounced are very full and accurate.

☞ It is the BEST DEFINING and PRONOUNCING DICTIONARY of the English Language, and contains several thousand more words and meanings than are to be found in any other similar work.

☞ It is the standard recognized by our eminent authors. It is the standard authority for the Official Records and Documents and Public Printing of the United States.

☞ Every family should possess a copy, for it is a Library of itself. It is the only American Dictionary which is a safe guide. It is the only desirable Dictionary of the language.

From HON. GEO. P. MARSH, LL. D., Author of "Lectures on the English Language."

The work of Dr. Worcester is unquestionably MUCH SUPERIOR to any other great Dictionary of the language, in EVERY ONE of these particulars, and it is therefore entitled to rank FIRST among the existing helps to a complete knowledge of English philology.

From WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT and WASHINGTON IRVING.

The new authentic etymologies, the conciseness and COMPLETENESS OF THE DEFINITIONS, the nicety with which the different shades of meaning in synonyms are distinguished, and the CONSCIENTIOUS ACCURACY of the work in all its departments, give it, in my judgment, the highest claims to public favor.

I concur with the opinion of Mr. Bryant.—Washington Irving.

From PROF. OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES, Boston.

It is, indeed, a MONUMENTAL WORK, and one of which our city and country may be proud as long as we have a city, a country, and a language.

From CHARLES DICKENS, England.

It is A MOST REMARKABLE WORK, of which America will be justly proud, and for which all who study the English language will long have reason to respect your name, and to be grateful to you.

From the REV. W. WHEWELL, D. D., Master of Trinity College, Cambridge, England, Author of "Elements of the Inductive Sciences."

I have repeatedly consulted the Dictionary, since it has been in my possession, and have seen reason to think it MORE COMPLETE AND EXACT than any of its predecessors.

From REV. JOSEPH BOSWORTH, D. D., F. R. S., Professor of Anglo-Saxon in Oxford University, England.

The whole work is the most comprehensive and useful that I have yet seen. It is THE MOST COMPLETE AND PRACTICAL, THE VERY BEST, as well as the cheapest English Dictionary that I know.

I find it not only rich beyond example in its vocabulary, but carefully elaborated in all the details, and THOROUGHLY TRUSTWORTHY as a guide to the most correct and elegant usage of the language.

From REV. B. EMERSON, LL. D., Master of Mass. Board of Education.

I wish it to be known that I consider Dr. Worcester's new Dictionary the best and the MOST UNEXCEPTIONABLE DICTIONARY of the English Language with which I am acquainted.

From HON. CHARLES SUMNER.

I know no one who has done so much as you for all departments, and given to our language a Dictionary SO COMPLETE AND MANY-SIDED. It ought to be in every library, academy and school.

The issue of a few months will be sufficient to establish Worcester's Dictionary as the acknowledged standard of reference among the scholars of England and America.—London Literary Gaz., Feb. 11, 1861.

HOUSE FURNISHING ESTABLISHMENT,

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,

Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster, or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking: giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz.:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking over.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and it jackets are provided for the back and bot in plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves,.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

Reference is made to Messrs. J. Trundy, J. M. Mathes, N. K. Walker, C. C. Jackson, C. H. Mendum, James F. Shores, Geo. Whitehouse, Joseph E. Weeks, Geo. W. Davis, Greenland; John Smart, Stratham; H. L. Pollard, Raymond, Robert F. Gerrish, Kittery; Nath'l F. Berry, Gosport, and many others who are using the Stove.

This stove was thoroughly tested before being brought into the market, and we know that all that is said of it will be found true on trial.

We have also a very beautiful new pattern COOK STOVE, called the

Medal Range,

Of which very many are being sold. It works well and comes cheap, and is well suited for a small family.

REMEDY.

THE HAMMOND LINIMENT — THE HAMMOND LINIMENT

—FOR—

NEURALGIA, RHEUMATISM, LUMBAGO, SCIATICA, BRUISES, SORE THROAT, CHILBLAINS, HEADACHE, SORES, WEAKNESS, PAIN IN BACK, SIDE, LIMBS & CHEST

The best evidence of its worth is the testimony of those who have been relieved and cured by its use.

"THE HAMMOND LINIMENT" has been used in our families with the very best results. We therefore recommend its use to all who may be afflicted with either of the above troublesome diseases, as we have found it to be what the proprietors claim.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention; with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1861.

THE COLORED PEOPLE ARMING.—The Montreal Gazette, Dec. 19, says:—

"We are glad to see that the colored people are moving, and that it is likely that in a few days they will complete a strong military organization. The colored company in Halifax is very efficient, and one of the best there."

On this the Boston Post remarks:—

"The colored people in Canada, for the most part, are fugitives from the slave States,—sent thither by the Northern Abolitionists, over the U. G. R. R. It says as little for the negro's gratitude as for his appreciation of the blessings of "freedom," that he should thus be showing an inclination to take up arms, as it were, to help Jeff Davis fight his benefactor!"

The negroes in Canada and Nova Scotia, (says Uncle Toby,) act very much like other human beings. Most of those in and near Halifax, never went over the underground railroad at all, but are descendants from slaves who were taken by the British vessels from the Chesapeake Bay and southern coast in 1812-14. The negro colony in Canada was formed by some of these same prize slaves, who were afterward paid for by Britain to the United States,—and settled on land granted to them by the Crown. They take up arms for the only Government that ever gave or offered them freedom!

As for the large number of fugitive negroes now in Canada,—it is not to be supposed that they are much wiser or better than an equal number of white Canadians or Englishmen. But, though they do really owe a debt of gratitude to the Abolitionists, who ran some of them off,—what do they owe the United States?

Should they be grateful for the fugitive slave bill, passed by Northern doe faces, which made it unsafe for a fugitive to halt in the so called free States?

Why should they not feel grateful to Britain, which says to the slave-hunter,—"Don't touch him!"—and which clears Anderson, who killed the hunter that pursued him?

Why should they be grateful to the Government of the United States which repels the negro from the navy, and from the ranks of the militia and the army,—and in this very war, made by the slave power, has refused the offer of black troops?—and why should they not be grateful to the Government of Great Britain, which in navy, army and now in colonial militia, enlists and pays the black man exactly like the white?

We are not well pleased to see the black English or the white, helping Jeff Davis fight us:—but we do not see how northern doe faces, slave-hunters and their allies, are the benefactors of any body,—least of all of the slave.

When we come, if we ever shall come, to fight one battle against the rebels, in which the United States' army shall strike without fear of damaging slavery,—then we may blame the negro and the Englishman if they work against us. Till then we must fight as well as we can with one hand tied behind.

Mrs. Marks, who was accused of conspiring to murder the diamond Jew Fellner, and was acquitted, is a raving lunatic, and was picked up in the streets of New York last week, destitute and incoherent.—Ex.

This closes the chapter of crime and suffering belonging to Fellner and his associates. Leaving his wife and his home, loading himself with jewels and money stolen from his family and partners, he flies across the ocean with a paramour and her sister, both of whom know he is an adulterer.—On the voyage this sister introduces Fellner to the man who robs and murders him, and flees to his own place among the rebels. The paramour is arrested for murder, and for shame and grief commits suicide,—and now the sister is an insane pauper. Verily, the way of transgressors is hard.

☞ Advices from the South show that $325,000 has been appropriated by the legislatures of different States for the relief of the Charleston sufferers. Acts of violence are becoming fearfully frequent in Richmond. The Southern journals are rejoicing over the foreign news, and are anticipating a speedy recognition. They are also much pleased at the course taken by the extreme abolition Congressmen.

The Creeks, Cherokees and Seminoles are deserting the rebel cause, and large numbers have joined Opthleyholo, who is encamped on the Big Bend of the Arkansas with 4000 Indians well armed with rifles, revolvers and knives, and naked to the waist. To oppose this force the rebels had a small force under Col. Cooper, who was clamorous for reinforcements. A battle is daily expected, as the two armies are only a few miles apart. The New Orleans Delta says the naval commander of the Federal fleet forbade the transmission of Gen. Phelps' proclamation, and threatened to fire into any boat that attempted to carry it.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A letter from Port Royal states that Col. Whipple has resumed command of the Fourth Regiment, having withdrawn his resignation. The regiment is at Tybee Island.

—— On Saturday afternoon last, Mr. Moses D. Page, while assisting in loading coal at Dover, was seriously injured by the tipping up of the cart and the discharge of the whole load upon him.

—— The editor of the Manchester Mirror has noticed that the seats in one of the public halls in that city, being designed for six persons, three ladies and three gentlemen can occupy them with as much ease as three ladies alone, and with a good deal more satisfaction to both sexes.

—— The N. H. State Agricultural Society held its annual meeting at Manchester on Wednesday. The old board of officers were re-elected, as follows:—William F. Estes, Esq., Dover, President; Aaron Young, Esq., Portsmouth, Secretary; Hon. Frederick Smyth, Manchester, Treasurer; and the following Directors:—Hon. N. S. Berry, Hebron; Hon. Walter Harriman, Manchester; John Preston, Esq., New Ipswich; Alfred Hoitt, Esq., Durham; and John S. Walker, Esq., Claremont.

GRAND MILITARY AND CIVIC LEVEE. The Governor's Horse Guards will hold their second Annual Levee at the Phenix Hotel Parlors and Phenix Hall, Concord, on Wednesday, January 8, 1862. The music will be furnished by Hall's Boston Brass and Quadrille Band. The celebration of the first anniversary of this corps was a brilliant affair, and no pains will be spared on the part of the managers to make this anniversary even more interesting than the former.

☞ The President has approved the bill for promoting the efficiency of the navy.—It provides that officers whose names have been on the register for 45 years, shall be put on the retired list, of the rank they hold when so retired. The retired officers may be assigned to shore duty, upon shore pay, and to sea duty, in cases where it appears to the President that they are still competent for it, and be restored to the active list, as a reward for gallant conduct. 200 medals of honor are to be struck, to be bestowed on petty officers, sailors, marines and landsmen, as rewards of merit.

☞ With a new year a new order of things is to be inaugurated at Barnum's Museum. The Christian Alliance is to hold religious services in the lecture room every Sunday at three o'clock. Preaching by Rev. C. G. Gass. Mr. Barnum has kindly granted the use of the room for that purpose. These services are to be inaugurated on the last night of the old year by a midnight Union prayer meeting, commencing at 11 o'clock and closing at 1. The last hour of the old year will be spent in a retrospect of the past, and the first hour of the new in prayer for God's blessing upon the Church and the nation during the year.

NOT A COMET.—Mr. Tuttle, the lecturer upon Cometary Astronomy, says that the object seen at sea by Capt. Hill, and supposed by him to be a comet, is a fixture in the skies, the nebula in Andromeda. It has the appearance of a comet, and might easily be mistaken for one, by one not acquainted with its nature and position. He makes this statement at the request of Capt. Hill.

☞ Part X. of the Rebellion Record, edited by Frank Moore, is published. It contains fine portraits of Brig. Generals Blenker and Rosecrans, and the usual diary of events, documents, narratives, &c., which are rendering this an indispensable publication to all who wish to preserve a reliable record of the unholy rebellion. Published by G. P. Putnam, 532 Broadway, New York.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate Tuesday, the committee on naval affairs were directed to inquire into the manner in which naval vessels are fitted out. Notice was given of a bill to amend the fugitive slave law. The Senate adjourned over Christmas. The House was not in session, having adjourned from Monday until Thursday.

A PRESERVABLE PARAGRAPH.—That life is the sweetest which is passed in extracting honey even from the bitterest adversities; and he is the wisest man who can most heartily confide in the rectitude of Providence, and the final supremacy of truth and right.

☞ The New Orleans papers of the 12th inst. announce the capture of nine Federal sailors on Last Island. They belonged to the frigate Santee, and were sent to the Southwest Pass, with the schooner Annie Taylor, on the 14th of November, for the purpose of procuring fresh water.—The schooner was wrecked on the 17th.

☞ It will require $300,000 and three months' labor to get the North Missouri Railroad in running order again, supposing the workmen to be undisturbed. No depredations upon private property were committed.

THE REBELLION.

By the first of January, Gen. Buell will have in his command 150,000 men, ready to move upon the rebels in Kentucky and Tennessee.

Gen. Burnside's expedition, it is said, will sail before Jan. 1st.

The cavalry which Gen. Pope sent to Lexington, have returned to his camp at Otterville. In addition to the two ferry boats and the rebel officers and privates captured, as previously reported, they killed the notorious Arkansas Robinson, and drove all the rebel bands from the country for miles on either side of the route. They report the country quit of the rebels.

Gen. Price's army became frightened lately at the report that the Federals were coming upon them, and left their camp at Osceola and beat a hasty retreat. At last accounts they were still going southward at an astonishing rate.

One thousand of the rebel prisoners taken by Gen. Pope arrived at St. Louis, Monday night.

Norfolk papers of Monday announce that 9000 federal troops had crossed Green river and were marching upon Hopkinsville, Ky, where Gen. Clark had 3500 rebels and was waiting reinforcements. Advices from Bowling Green say that 17,000 Federals crossed Green river on Friday. It was supposed that Bowling Green would be advanced upon from three sides simultaneously by 60,000 Federals, and that a decisive battle would be fought.

Sixteen vessels of the stone fleet have been sunk in Charleston channel.

Private dispatches to Richmond report that the steamer Gordon run the blockade into one of the Southern ports with a cargo of coffee, salt, and West India fruits.

A deserter from Centreville says Centreville is impregnable, and that it is to be defended by 100,000 rebels. The whole army were making preparations to go into winter quarters.

An arrival from Port Royal reports that the cause of the postponement of Gen. Viele's expedition was a disagreement between Gen. Sherman and Com. Dupont. Gen. Stevens was about to advance to seize a point on the Charleston & Savannah R. R. The troops are at work enclosing Hilton Head with earthwork extending three miles back, and from shore to shore, to mount 100 heavy guns.

Dispatches from Com. Rodgely, cruising off Texas, say Thos. S. Rodgers, of Texas, and Mr. Zachary, of New Orleans, were taken from sch. Eugenie, Dec. 9. Papers found clearly implicated them as rebel agents seeking to make their way to Mexico and thence to other parts. A rebel schooner had also been taken, having run the blockade.

Matters at Fort Pickens remain unchanged. Deserters report great distress and discontent in the rebel army. The Richmond had sailed for New York, to repair.

A New York dispatch says the gunboat Iroquois has the pirate Sumter blockaded in Cienfuegos. The gunboat Flambeau is blockading Nassau where the Isabel was.

☞ The Lewiston Herald states it as a singular fact that not more than one-third of the sixteen thousand soldiers, enlisted in Maine, have had the measles. It makes the statement upon the authority of a medical gentleman who is familiar with the facts in the case.

In excavating an old well on the farm of Mr. Jesse Nickerson, in North Chatham, Mass., recently, a bed of oyster shells was found at the depth of several feet from the surface, and among them a live oyster!—As the well was filled up some seventy-five years since, and has never since been excavated, this oyster must have reached the ripe old age of eighty years or more!—Barnstable Patriot.

☞ The American Agriculturist for January is one of the best numbers of one of the best papers of the kind. Published by Orange Judd, 41 Park Row, New York, at $1 per year.

We have, says the Boston Gazette, a paragraph before us, headed "how to tell a mad dog." It strikes us that we shouldn't stop to tell him, but should prefer to keep right on.

☞ Orders have been sent by Adjutant General Thomas, to pay every officer actually in service under Gen. Fremont, what is justly due him.

It appears that Government is doing something for the advancement of civilization among the aborigines. Among the stock of presents sent out by Gov. Nye to distribute among the Washoe Indians is a fine assortment of ladies' hoops!

☞ William Bartlett, formerly editor of the Bangor Daily Mercury, was found frozen in the snow near his house, Wednesday morning.

The Chicago Tribune accounts for Gen. Phelps' strange proclamation by saying that "he was aware how wide a range his predecessors in proclamations had travelled over, and he desired to occupy the rest of the ground."

☞ When the plough was first introduced into South Africa, one of the Caffre lords exclaimed, "See how the thing tears up the ground with its mouth! It is worth more than five wives!"

John Bull tells us that the American Bubble has burst,—in other words, the United States are no more, all gone, gone, gone,—not knit together tight enough to stand the first domestic quarrel. Folks who live in glass houses should be very careful how they throw stones. From 1066 to 1825 covers 759 years. The British Isles have indulged in thirty-one civil wars and rebellions in that period, averaging a quarrel once every twenty-three years. With her nearest neighbor, France, in the same time, she has engaged in twenty six wars, averaging one every twenty-nine years. With other foreign nations, thirty times, averaging one every twenty five years. Add all together, and it gives England the credit of engaging in a domestic or foreign war every nine years. Her wars with France have consumed 267 years out of the 759, say 35 per cent. of the time.—Boston Post.

☞ The Montreal Pilot, like most of its provincial contemporaries, is adverse to offensive personalities. That its character in this particular may suffer no unjust imputation, in a late issue it remarks:—

"We cannot descend to a contest of personalities with the vulgar blockhead—a pure specimen of the genuine penny-a-liner grafted on the hedge schoolmaster—who does the dirty work of the Yankee speculator who owns the Quebec Chronicle."

Those familiar with the amenities of Canadian journalism, will not marvel at the Christian-like forbearance of the Pilot.

☞ Native Marble, equal to any yet brought to this country from Italy, is alleged to have been discovered on the Santa Anna River, California, and a fine specimen of it has been on exhibition in San Francisco.

☞ The St. George Episcopal church in Lee, Mass., was totally destroyed by fire on Monday night, about 12 o'clock. Insured for $4000.

☞ The Toronto Globe thinks that three months will be consumed in the discussion of the Mason and Slidell affair before a final result shall be reached.

☞ Happiness grows at our own firesides, and is not to be picked in the stranger's garden.

Special Notices.

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notices may be ordered for the Chronicle; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

TRUTH IS MIGHTY and always prevails, tho' it may at times meet with such opposition that makes the contest a protracted one. Such an one has the Homeopathic mode of treatment met, but nobly have its champions stood up for the right, and they are now reaping their reward. Never since the discovery was first made by the immortal Hahnemann, has it numbered so many friends as it does at this time. Improvements and new discoveries in the method of treatment, as well as the simplifying the preparation of the medicine, which is done by DOCT. GIFFORD'S system of CURATIVES, have no doubt done much to popularize the practice. His SPECIFICS for the different diseases, for instance, headaches, coughs or colds, dyspepsia, biliousness, croup, catarrh, piles, etc., etc., put up in neat boxes, and sold at 25 cts. each, are doing much, by their efficiency of action, in arresting disease, to open the eyes of the public to the absurd practice that has long been considered "regular." A case of these Curatives for family use is getting to be about as common as babies in a house, and every family should have one.—a case of medicine we mean, sold by J. H. THACHER, Agent, 22 Market Sq., and corner State and Pleasant sts., Portsmouth; M. S. BURR & Co., wholesale, Boston, Mass.; W. C. PHILLIPS, wholesale, Portland, Me.; or sent anywhere by

American Women.

America is justly proud of its beautiful women; but how many die annually, or prematurely lose their health and youth for want of a remedy suitable to their peculiar ailments. That remedy is found in SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS. We know hundreds of cases where they have been used with the greatest success.—In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed,—moderating excesses and removing obstructions, whether from cold or any other cause. Suffer no more anxiety or low spirits, but try them. For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the Agent.

One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will procure a bottle, containing over 50 Pills, by return mail. my23daw3m

All scientific men who have examined it pronounce it a complete success. It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot by any possibility get out of order, is compact, elegant, durable, and will save twice its own price within three months, by economizing Preparations for the Hair.

THE FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH is guaranteed to effect a Saving of One-third in the use of all hair-washes, oils, &c., as compared with any and every other means of applying them. As some of these articles cost from one to two dollars per bottle, this is a matter of no small moment.

To recapitulate, in brief, the merits of the PATENT FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH:—

It dresses the hair without soiling the fingers; it effects a saving of one-half in the use of hair preparations; it does away with the greasy hair-oil bottles; it is a handsomer article than the common hair-brush; it regulates the quantity of fluid used, to a drop; it is perfect in style, and cannot spill over on the trunk or on the toilet; it carries enough of any preparation to last for a voyage or a long journey; its price is moderate, and it saves its own cost in three months; and finally, no sensible person who uses the PATENT FOUNTAIN BRUSH will ever use any other.

PATENT
FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably
SUPERSEDE ALL OTHER HAIR-BRUSHES,
Whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it, pronounce it a complete success.

It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot possibly get out of order; is compact, elegant, durable, and WILL SAVE TWICE ITS OWN Price, within three months, by economizing Preparations for the Hair.

FIRE.—On Wednesday at midnight, the small two-story brick building at the City Farm, known as the Bridewell, was burned to the ground, the brick ends of the building alone preventing the fire from extending to several wooden structures adjoining. The lower story was used as a bridewell, and the upper one as a place of confinement for several insane and imbecile paupers, and one of them, an insane Irish woman, who probably set fire to the premises, perished in the flames. Her charred remains were found in the ruins, on Thursday morning, and taken in charge by her relatives in this city. She was about 35 years old, and in her crazy spells has been very violent and troublesome. The loss is probably about $500, which was not covered by the partial insurance on the City property—the Bridewell and Ward One House, and many other buildings, not being included in the policy.

The origin of the fire is absolutely unknown; but after careful investigation, Mayor Simes informs us that he is convinced it was caused by the Murphy girl, who has been confined there eight years. One night last summer, she managed somehow, to reach the ceiling of her cell, which seemed far above all her means to climb, and tore the ceiling down; and opening a window, from the actic above, descended by other small buildings, to the ground, and ran away—but was taken back immediately.

When the fire was first discovered Superintendent Norton made every exertion to save the inmates. Six men and one woman were removed safely, but the Murphy girl was found to have escaped from her cell unaided, having again broken through the ceiling. It being supposed that she was safe and had passed out unnoticed in the excitement of the moment, those who had assembled turned their attention to extinguishing the flames. But Mr. Norton again returned to the cell, with a lantern, in order to satisfy himself that she was not still there. At that time the flames were still confined entirely to the attic, but there raged so furiously, among a large quantity of dry husks that had been stored there, that it would have been foolhardy to have attempted to enter.

It is probable, however, that she had climbed up through the ceiling, and by lowering some article of wearing apparel down through a ventilator, which was situated directly over the stove in the outer passage way, drew the fire up and communicated it to the dry husks, of which a couple of tons or so had been stored in this attic. The smoke, probably, suffocated her in a very short time; and this explains why no groans were heard. This unfortunate woman (whose case has for some time excited the deepest commiseration of the Mayor and other city officers, and especially of the wife of the Superintendent,) had often told her associates that she should like to be burned to death,—and at last has probably intentionally carried the terrible idea into execution.

In Board of Aldermen, Thursday evening, Aldermen Upham, Rider and Junkins were appointed a committee to inquire into the origin of the fire and report thereon.

☞ Rev. J. C. Fletcher's fourth lecture, which concludes the course, will be delivered on Monday evening next at the Temple. The subject is one which will ever be of the deepest and saddest interest, and the lecturer's graphic account of the beginning of that "awful night of ages" for Pompeii, must move deeply the sympathies of all who consider how terrible was the calamity by which, nearly eighteen hundred years ago, Pompeii and Herculaneum were so suddenly buried, with many of their citizens, beneath a shower of ashes and red-hot stones. Few themes are better fitted to strike the popular heart, and Mr. Fletcher, by a personal observation of the ruins that have now been excavated, has gathered many little incidents from which human nature obtains its best illustrations, and is enabled to show that then as now avarice and fidelity, obedience and selfishness, love and cupidity were the honor and the shame of man. The skeleton of the miser clutching his gold in his bony fingers,—the soldier remaining firmly at his post, and true to his country even in such a fearful hour as that,—the mother faithful unto death and extending even now her skeleton arms over the skeleton forms of her children, that she may if possible shield them from the certain ruin—present such pictures as fortunately can obtained no where else, and as we all trust may never find their parallels.

THE NEW BOOK.—We have seen the advance sheets of a superb book to be published by Crosby & Nichols, as a Christmas present, compiled by J. H. Head, Esq., of Portsmouth, N. H. It will lead the gift publications, and its matter is equally meritorious with its manner. Its external decorations are elaborate and elegant, and are from the pencil of Mr. Head, whose taste is acknowledged in matters of this kind.—They comprise representative emblems of the various departments of intellect and taste, wrought in the highest style of art, and the frontispiece—the crowning of Shakspeare—is a perfect gem. The title gives the true character of the work.—Boston Saturday Evening Gazette.

PERSONAL.—Hon. A. B. Ely arrived at Fortress Monroe, from Norfolk, on Wednesday, by a flag of truce, and after a visit to headquarters took passage for Baltimore.

Col. Berdan was seriously injured at Washington on Christmas. He was trying a breech-loading rifle, about to be adopted for one of his regiments of sharpshooters. The charge blew out the breech, making a severe contusion in his right cheek and fatally injuring his right eye.

☞ A private of the Maine 4th Regiment had been shamming lameness ever since the battle of Bull Run, and hobbling about with a cane. One evening, as Col. Berry was going round among the tents, he found the fellow in one of them, and found also that his principal disease was the blackleg. There he sat, with his cane by his side and a pack of cards in his hand, gaming a foolish, unskilled soldier out of his last cent. "Hallo," said the Colonel, "how are you getting along?" "O, first-rate, Colonel," he replied; "I've won all this fellow's money except what's on the board, and I think I'll take that," at the same time showing his hand to the Colonel. Without stopping to reply, Col Berry seized the fellows cane broke it over his head, ordered him on duty and kept him on guard through the night. He has'nt been lame since.

☞ The Paris Patrie says it is asserted that France and the great Powers have been consulted by England, and expressed an opinion that Capt. Wilkes' conduct was a violation of the rights of neutrals.

Messrs. Editors:—Please permit me through your columns to express my sincere thanks to the firemen of the city for their prompt and energetic exertions in extinguishing the fire at the City Farm on the night of the 25th. B. NORTON, Sup't.

GET THE BEST!

WORCESTER'S

ILLUSTRATED

ROYAL QUARTO DICTIONARY,

The Standard.

This massive volume contains ONE THOUSAND EIGHT HUNDRED AND FIFTY-FOUR pages. It is illustrated by more than ONE THOUSAND SUPERB WOOD CUTS; FIVE THOUSAND words are accurately SYNONYMIZED; the Tables of PROPER NAMES Pronounced are very full and accurate.

☞ It is the BEST DEFINING and PRONOUNCING DICTIONARY of the English Language, and contains many thousand more words and meanings than are to be found in any other similar work.

It is the standard, recognized by our eminent authors. It is the standard authority for the Official Records and Documents and Public Printing of the United States.

Every family should possess a copy, for it is a Library of itself. It is the only American Dictionary which is a safe guide. It is the only desirable Dictionary of the language.

From HON. GEO. P. MARSH, LL. D., Author of "Lectures on the English Language."

The work of Dr. Worcester is unquestionably MUCH SUPERIOR to any other general Dictionary of the language, in EVERY ONE of these particulars, and it is therefore entitled to rank PERHAPS, the existing helps to a complete knowledge of English philology.

From WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT and WASHINGTON IRVING.

The new authentic etymologies, the conciseness and COMPLETENESS OF THE DEFINITIONS, the clear way in which the different shades of meaning in synonyms are distinguished, and the CONSCIENTIOUS ACCURACY of the work in all its departments, give it, in my judgment, the highest claims to public favor.

I concur with the opinion of Mr. Bryant.—Washington Irving.

From PROS. OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES, Boston.

It is, indeed, a MONUMENTAL WORK, and one of which our city and country may be proud as long as we have a city, a country, and a language.

From CHARLES DICKENS, England.

IT IS A MOST REMARKABLE WORK, of which America will be justly proud, and for which all who study the English language will long have reason to respect your name, and to be grateful to you.

From the REV. W. WHEWELL, D. D., Master of Trinity College, Cambridge, England, Author of "Elements of his Inductive Sciences."

I have repeatedly consulted the Dictionary, since it has been in my possession, and have seen reason to think it MORE COMPLETE AND EXACT than any of its predecessors.

From REV. JOSEPH BOSWORTH, D. D., F. R. S., Professor of Anglo-Saxon in Oxford University, England.

The whole work is the most comprehensive and useful that I have yet seen. It is THE MOST COMPLETE AND PRACTICAL, THE VERY BEST, as well as the cheapest English Dictionary that I know.

I find it not only rich beyond example in its vocabulary, but carefully elaborated in all the details, and THOROUGHLY TRUSTWORTHY as a guide to the most correct and elegant usage of the language.

From GEO. B. EMERSON, LL. D., Member of Mass. Board of Education.

I wish it to be known that I consider Dr. Worcester's Dictionary the best and the MOST UNEXCEPTIONABLE DICTIONARY of the English Language with which I am acquainted.

From HON. CHARLES SUMNER.

I know no one who has done so much as you for all departments, and given to our language a Dictionary SO COMPLETE AND MANY-SIDED. It ought to be in every library, academy and school.

The issue of a few months will be sufficient to establish Worcester's Dictionary as the acknowledged standard of reference among the scholars of England and America.—London Literary Gaz., Feb. 11, 1861.

HOUSE FURNISHING ESTABLISHMENT,

No. 16 Market Street, Portsmouth.

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,

Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for roaster, or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long; or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension no additional boiler hole and other room is placed on the top of the stove while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and jackets are provided for the back and hot in plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be superior in its operation."

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE STOVE for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1861.

PROBABILITIES.—The following paragraph in the money article of a recent London Times may tend to open our eyes to the probabilities of war. Articles like that quoted from below, afford a far more definite indication of the feeling in England, than leading editorials written for a special purpose, or under peculiar influences.

"If it should be shown by the next two or three mails that the American Government are, as their manifestations for some months past might have led us to suspect, determined upon war, the unanimity and readiness throughout the kingdom will be such as was never before witnessed. If, on the contrary, the slightest indication should be brought of a desire to restore a good understanding, there will be eagerness on all sides to pave the way for it. Even as it is, many persons are already endeavoring to devise suggestions, in order that the granting of the indispensable reparation shall be as little disagreeable to the American Government as possible, and one idea in that respect put forth to-day in influential circles seemed to be entertained as, at all events, not totally unworthy of consideration. It was, that upon apology being given for the outrage committed by Commander Wilkes in constituting himself a judge upon the high seas, the question of the surrender of Messrs. Mason and Slidell should be referred to the adjudication of a Prize Court regularly constituted.

For the Chronicle.

Messrs. Editors:—If I may be permitted to follow the Hon. Secretary of State, in predicting future events of the war, let me say—having based my prophesies on past events, taken from the book of God,—as it was with Joshua, so it shall be with Abraham Lincoln: he shall not prosper till he puts away the accursed thing, slavery.

If God caused the army of Joshua to be defeated, while engaged in a just cause, for the concealment or theft of one garment, a gold wedge and some silver, contrary to the will of God, as proclaimed by the prophet, then what may we expect, who are engaged in a war created and continued on account of slavery,—and while President Lincoln allows the accursed thing to remain in any of the States now in rebellion against the government of the United States? What can we expect but defeat and losses of all kinds?—especially when no power but God's could have opened the way justly and legally, but by their revolt.

It seems to me that the one voice of all the free people should be listened to, when they believe that the time has come for the freedom of the slave, for which thousands of prayers have come up before the God of nations and of battles.

Having the accursed thing plainly searched out, it only waits for Abraham Lincoln and part of the Cabinet to follow the example of Joshua,—humble themselves before God, proclaim liberty to all slaves, and move the armies on, with the banner of liberty to all in bondage,—and God will assuredly give us a speedy victory.

The history recorded in the Old Testament is full of accounts relating to the wars of ancient times,—and not a single defeat in a just cause has been suffered, unless some evil was allowed to exist in the army or government designed to accomplish the good intended.

I would ask if our government means to restore slavery at the end of this war, should they be permitted to conquer and restore the States now in rebellion? If so, God save the country from the awful curse now hanging over us; otherwise, our days are numbered and our doom fixed. May God save the States, is my prayer. R. N.

☞ The Niagara from Liverpool 14th and Queenstown 15th, arrived at Halifax Thursday afternoon. Warlike preparations are still going on. The sudden departure of Gen. Scott for home is exercising the minds of the English public, as well as our own. It has been determined to inform all English ships met on the sea, of the prospect of war. The Times publishes a letter from Thurlow Weed, defending our Government from the charge of an intentional insult to England. The Times comments on the letter with its usual severity. Com'r Williams of the Trent gave, at a dinner tendered him by the Royal Yacht Club, his version of the seizure of the commissioners, and read a letter from Capt. Patey, approving his course under the circumstances. France has adopted measures to protect her commerce, if war breaks out.—Louis Napoleon is still opposed to the recognition of the Southern Confederacy; but rumors and opinions as to the probable action of the French Government are still vague and contradictory. In Prussia the movements for the establishment of a navy, still continue. Vesuvius is still in action, and earthquakes are frequent. Advices from China state that Canton has been evacuated, and Shanghae was in a state of alarm, from an advance of the rebels. Affairs in Japan were in an unsatisfactory state.

☞ The Secretary of the Navy has given public notice of the opening of recruiting offices for the navy at Portsmouth, N. H., Boston, New Bedford, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington. The travelling expenses of recruits from their residences to the rendezvous, are allowed by the Government, and an outfit valued at $31.27 furnished on board and charged for. Three months' advance to seamen, and two months' advance to landsmen is allowed.

THE REBELLION.

A large government stable at Washington was burned Thursday, killing three or four hundred horses, and letting loose many more. The fire was the result of carelessness.

The Secretary of War has directed that no more horses be bought until all now belonging to the Government are in active service. No additional cavalry regiments are to be organized.

The prize schooner Jane Campbell, of Liverpool, formerly the Hewdon, of Washington, N. C., with a cargo of salt and flannel, from Liverpool for Havana, was captured off Beaufort, and has been lying there some days.

The Charleston Mercury of the 20th reports the repulse of one of the Federal gunboats by rebel batteries at Port Royal Ferry; also, that the Federal forces who attempted to cross in flats were driven back with terrible havoc.

Two spans of a bridge across the Charlton River on the Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad were burned by the rebels Wednesday night. Trains cannot cross for some days.

Gen. Halleck has issued an order declaring the territory along the railroads to be under martial law. He orders all his subordinates to have their commands ready for service at a moment's warning, and will take no excuse for delay.

The rebel schooner Fashion was captured by the sloop-of-war Ethan Allen Nov. 25, and sent to Key West.

The Herald's dispatch says it is believed in Washington that the present position of England is attributable to dispatches which went to England in the Trent, tendering to Great Britain the protectorate of the seceded States, and offering to make them a colonial dependence.

The committee to inquire into the conduct of the war are holding daily sessions. They are trying to get at the cause of the Bull Run disaster. They intend also to institute a rigid inquiry into the Ball's Bluff disaster.

A party of rebel bridge-burners on the North Missouri R. R. were overtaken on Monday by a portion of our forces, who killed ten, and took seventeen prisoners.

Judge Arny has arrived at Washington from New Mexico. He reports a strong Union feeling in the Territory. Col. Canby has retaken Forts Craig and Stanton, and was en route for Fort Fillmore to recapture that. On his way Judge Arny passed camps of the Confederate tribes of the plains, numbering about 6000 Indians. They desired him to say when he reached Washington that they would fight for their Great Father in defence of the Union.

The rebels are agitated by a fear that Mason and Slidell will be given up. The rebel general appropriation bill, passed, appropriates about sixty millions for the army and four millions for the navy. A naturalization law passed, includes persons not born in the rebel States, but in their service during the war.

A strong Union conspiracy has been discovered in the mountains in Georgia. A large bridge on the Georgia Central R. R. had been burnt. Union men were certainly being hung clandestinely. Great difficulty is experienced by the masters in keeping the slaves quiet, and many were shot on the most trivial suspicion of disloyalty.

Fenwick Island, at Port Royal, has been occupied by our troops, extending our lines to within 35 miles of Charleston.

☞ Capt. John Whitcomb, of the revenue cutter "Morris," lying off India wharf, Boston, who was apparently in his usual health and vigor, suddenly fell on the deck of his vessel, Wednesday morning, and expired almost instantly. He was a native of Maine, and received his appointment in 1839.

The U. S. sloop of-war, Macedonian, from St. Thomas, bound to Boston, was spoken on the 11th of December in lat. 26 10, lon. 72 1-2.

Captains H. J. Sleeper, George Cables and Joshua N. Rowe, all of Rockland, Me., have received appointments as acting masters in the navy, and have entered upon service.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate Thursday, petitions were presented for the location of a national armory at Rock Island. Senator Hale spoke strongly against the surrender of Mason and Slidell, to which Mr. Sumner replied. Notice was given of an act confiscating rebel property of every description. Bills were introduced, establishing a provisional government in the seceding States, and for amending the fugitive slave law.

The House met, but adjourned without doing any business, as a quorum was not present. Both Houses adjourned to Monday.

AN INCIDENT.—Mr. Archelaus Morrill of Salisbury, last week cut up a tree which girted fifteen feet—one limb of the tree girted nine feet. He cut from this tree five cords of wood. Mr. M., who is now 80 years old, planted this tree when a boy, has watched its growth for a period of 70 years, and now in his old age, when the tree, unable to bear the heavy blasts of winter, is thrown down, he is vigorous enough to use the woodman's axe upon it.

Recollections of Old Acquaintance.

BY UNCLE TOBY.

MY OLD SCHOOLMASTERS.—Pandowdy.—From able and faithful teachers we turn aside for a moment, to make a note of one who in two days' administration wrote himself down a donkey, and becoming the butt of the scholars' ridicule, left the school in disgust.

It was towards the close of Rev. Mr. Birch's school keeping in Portsmouth, some business abroad made it needful for him to be absent one week. And as there were no vacations in our town schools in those days, he told us one Saturday that he had provided a teacher for the next week, and expected us to mind him and be good boys.

Monday morning came, and with it came the new teacher, who began his career by telling the boys how strict he was going to be, and how severely he should punish offenders. But he reckoned without his host! the boys presently began to whisper, and titter, and talk in undertones; and by the time the first class took the floor to read, loud words were spoken in various parts of the room. Who's that? asked the teacher. Somebody gave a name: the teacher asked which is he? half a dozen boys pointed out half a dozen, innocent as well as guilty.—As the poor pedagogue did not know one boy's name, he stood aghast, postponed punishment for the present, and blundered along till recess.

Out on the play-ground a Congress was called, the teacher was unanimously voted to be a fool, and as the boys did not know his name, somebody named him Paudowdy, by which beautiful appellation many of the surviving scholars remember him to this day.

Recess lasted a long time! the teacher rapped at the window as usual, in about 15 minutes, for the boys to come in; and a few went in at once: but the great majority were alike deaf to raps, threats and entreaties, for half an hour, till by and by they came in with noise, confusion, and shouts of laughter at the Dominie, who had posted himself at the door to punish the tardy, and who, though he struck at many, hit but few, and damaged nobody.

After recess, matters waxed worse and worse. Boys began to throw wads of chewed paper at each other, and then at the master. Presently some one threw an inkstand at the latter, but it went over his head against the wall, drizzling the ink in all directions. Some one gave the name of the offender,—and our unlucky pedagogue having begun to get names, went to a brother of the culprit and struck him with a Gunter's scale. The indignant scholar, who had really been orderly till then, wrested the scale from the teacher's hand, and split it over his head, driving him back to his desk.

Missiles continued to fly till noon; some hit, and some missed their mark; but the walls were well peppered. At 12, the bell was rung as usual, and the boys went out ad libitum.

Between schools, some farmer had brought a cartload of turnips into the street, and was unloading them at a house near by, when the boys came back for afternoon school. Most of the boys had each a turnip or two in his pocket when he took his seat. The small ones were good for throwing whole; the larger were cut up into pieces about as big as a piece of chalk;—and at the time when school ought to have begun, these missiles began their flight backward and forward, around the room in every direction, and as they were solid shot they were good for repeated discharges.

The master was pelted severely,—and when he went to punish any one whom he saw throwing, vollies would come upon him from behind, and on every side.

The orderly and studious boys were distressed: the humorous boys laughed outright: the rowdies were delighted. Of the exercises the writer remembers nothing except that some boys read at random, and the lessons were a farce. At recess some boys went home or left for play.

The forenoon of the second day was chiefly spent in taking a list of the scholars' names: for strange to say, Mr. Birch had no list that ever we saw. When our teacher pro tem. began the list, he was foolish enough to tell us, that, as he observed many scholars were absent in the afternoon before, he would now record the names of all present: any might stay away who pleased this afternoon, but he would report them to Mr. Birch, and doubtless they would be punished severely.

Half the boys present gave him ficticious names; and in the afternoon the school was very thin, though somewhat more orderly: at its close the Dominie told us there would be no more school till Mr. Birch came back. When that gentleman returned, Pandowdy gave him the list with the absentees marked, and Mr. Birch coolly remarked, that he had no such boys in his school.

Every thing resumed its place, in strict military order, at once. Our discipline was not damaged in the least. The teacher pro tem. was contemptible:—the boys saw through him at once, and put on the extinguisher.

Some of the same boys, since that day, have put the extinguisher on quacks in various other pursuits, as well as in teaching.

☞ It is said that by careful examination it has been ascertained beyond doubt that nine-tenths of all the sickness in camp is caused by sleeping upon the ground; and the neglect, being susceptible of improvement, causes much dissatisfaction among the soldiers.

IS NOT THE LIFE MORE THAN MEAT? A waggish counsellor is in doubt as to the answer to this inquiry, for the reason that at the present term of the Superior Court, a man convicted of manslaughter was sentenced to three years in the House of Correction; while a culprit for breaking into a house and stealing a piece of meat, was sent to the State Prison for five years!—New Bedford Mercury.

☞ An order was sent from Washington to Fort Monroe, on Tuesday, for heavy artillery to be sent to Portland.

☞ Gen. Scott arrived at New York on Thursday.

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notices may be ordered for the Chronicle; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

TRUTH IS MIGHTY and always prevails, tho' it may at times meet with such opposition that makes the contest a protracted one. Such an one has the Homeopathic mode of treatment met, but nobly have its champions stood up for the right, and they are now reaping their reward. Never since the discovery was first made by the immortal Hahneman, has it numbered so many friends as it does at this time. Improvements and new discoveries in the method of treatment, as well as the simplifying the preparation of the medicine, which is done by DOCT. GIFFORD'S system of CURATIVES, have wonderfully done much to popularize the practice. His SPECIFICS for the different diseases, for instance, headaches, coughs or colds, dyspepsia, biliousness, croup, catarrh, piles, etc. etc., put up in neat boxes, and sold at 25 cts. each, are doing much, by their efficiency of action, in arresting disease, to open the eyes of the public to the truth. Every family should have one,—a case of medicine we mean, sold by J. H. THACHER, Agent, 12 Market Sq., and corner State and Pleasant sts., Portsmouth; M. S. BURR & Co., wholesale, Boston, Mass.; W. American Women.

America is justly proud of its beautiful women: but how many die annually, or prematurely lose their health and youth for want of a remedy suitable to their peculiar ailments. That remedy is found in SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS. We know hundreds of cases where they have been used with the greatest success.—In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Hoarseness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed,—moderating excesses and removing obstructions, whether from cold or any other cause. Suffer no more anxiety or low spirits, but try them. For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the Agent.

One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 Pills, by return mail. my25daw3m

THE PATENT

FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably supersede all other Hair-Brushes, whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it pronounce it a complete success. It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot by any possibility get out of order, is compact, elegant, durable, and will save twice its own price within three months, by economising Preparations for the Hair.

THE FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH is guaranteed to effect a Saving of One-half in the use of all hair-washes, oils, &c., as compared with any and every other means of applying them. As some of these articles cost from one to two dollars per bottle, this is a matter of no small moment.

To recapitulate, in brief, the merits of the PATENT FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH:—

It dresses the hair without soiling the fingers; it effects a saving of one-half in the use of hair preparations; it does away with the greasy hair-oil bottle; it is a more convenient article than the common hair brush: it regulates the quantity of fluid used, to a drop; it is perfectly tight, and cannot spill over on the front of your dress; it carries enough of any preparation to last for a voyage or a long journey; its price is moderate, and it saves its own cost in three months; and finally, no sensible person who uses the PATENT FOUNTAIN BRUSH will ever use any other.

At a meeting of the Official Board of the Brodhead M. E. Church in Portsmouth, N. H., Dec. 8, 1861, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, Circumstances beyond our control render it necessary for our pastor, Rev. H. H. Hartwell, to resign the pastoral charge of this Church for the remainder of the current year, therefore,

1. Resolved, That we deeply sympathize with him in his affliction, consequent upon the recent attacks of heart disease which have threatened his life.

2. Resolved, That we esteem him as a kind friend, a devoted Christian, a faithful and able minister of the gospel.

3. Resolved, That the sale of the Chapel is because of no fault or inefficiency of his, but is the result of financial liabilities which neither he nor we had the means to meet.

4. Resolved, That he be paid his full claim for services rendered to this time, and honorably discharged from further obligations to us, except that of mutual prayers for each other's prosperity.

5. Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be furnished to our beloved Pastor as a slight memento of our confidence and esteem;—and also that they be published in the Chronicle and Zion's Herald.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A correspondent of the Amesbury, Mass., Villager, writes from South Hampton as follows:

"The Philomenian Association are in a prosperous condition, and are having a course of lectures this season. Mr. F. W. Hackett, of Portsmouth, opened the course by an able delineation of the character of Fenelon. Mr. Albert Hale, of Newburyport, gave a witty, pithy and entertaining discourse on 'American Politics,' on the eve of Dec. 18th. The next lecture will be on the 8th of January, by R. B. Jewell. Subject—'Whether our experiment of self-government is likely to be a successful one.'"

—— The Bedford Grenadiers, composed chiefly of the old men of the town, celebrated their 46th anniversary on Christmas day. They assembled at the Meeting House, and listened to eloquent and patriotic addresses; then sat down to a bountiful repast in the Town Hall, after which short speeches, toasts and witticisms were in order, until it was thought "high time to clear the floor for a dance."

—— A correspondent of the Amherst Cabinet, at Hilton Head Dec. 13, in speaking of the 4th regiment, says:

ceSarah H. Hodgdon v. PhineasHodgdon. Divorce decreed at June term. Decreed that wife retain the furniture taken by her, and have execn for $600 alimony.

Sam'l Durgin v. Ann Durgin. Divorce decreed.

☞ Nassau advices of Dec. 11 have been received. Steamer Isabel arrived there on the 8th, and the Gordon on the 9th, with cotton from Charleston. The steamer Gladiator had also arrived from Liverpool with firearms and ammunition. All came in flying the secession flag, and were warmly welcomed. It was rumored that the authorities would not permit the Gladiator to land her firearms.

☞ On Wednesday night,—that on which the fire and loss of life at the bridewell in this city occurred,—a fire broke out in the station house at Lewiston, Maine, being set, it is supposed, by one of the prisoners. Although every effort was made to extinguish the flames, two of the prisoners were burnt to death before those efforts were successful.

☞ The Secretary of War has ordered for Col. Berdan's brigade the Spence Magazine rifle. This gun fires eight times without charging, and can be recharged and ready for eight additional rounds in almost the same time that the ordinary musket can be loaded once.

☞ The London Times editorially reports the following story:

"During the visit of the Prince of Wales to America, Mr. Seward took advantage of an entertainment given to the Prince to tell the Duke of Newcastle that he was likely to occupy a high office, and that when he did so it would become his duty to insult England, and he should insult her accordingly."

☞ The Government has no information upon which to base a belief that more than two rebel privateers are now on the seas. One is the steamer Sumter, and the other is the schooner Sally,—and the existence of the latter is very problematical.

☞ A dispatch dated Stonington, Conn., Dec. 26, says:—"All day heavy cannonading has been heard in the direction of Gardiner's Bay. A messenger from Fisher's Island reports a mysterious light last evening in that vicinity."

☞ Seventy five thousand stand of arms arrived at New York on the Teutonia—all new and excellent. Another steamer brings one hundred casks of lead.

And examine the PATENT

UNIVERSAL CLOTHES-WRINGER,

THE GREATEST LABOR-SAVING MACHINE NOW IN THE MARKET!

Will more than pay for itself in the Wear of Clothing.

FOUR REASONS

Why no one should be without one of them:

1st.—It will wring four times as fast as can be done by hand; much drier, and with one-fourth the labor; and wrings anything from a silk glove to a heavy Blanket.

2d.—Is simple, strong, and durable, and will not get out of repair.

3d.—Any servant will use it with safety to the machine, and with great saving of wear to the Clothes.

4th.—It is readily and firmly secured, to tubs of any thickness, and can be easily detached and set aside.

No House should be without one.

GET THE BEST!

WORCESTER'S
ILLUSTRATED
ROYAL QUARTO DICTIONARY,
The Standard.

This massive volume contains ONE THOUSAND EIGHT HUNDRED AND FIFTY-FOUR pages. It is illustrated by more than ONE THOUSAND SUPERB WOOD CUTS; SEVEN THOUSAND words are accurately SYNONYMIZED; the Tables of PROPER NAMES Pronounced are very full and accurate.

☞ It is the BEST DEFINING and PRONOUNCING DICTIONARY of the English Language, and contains many thousand more words and meanings than are to be found in any other similar work.

☞ It is the standard, recognized by our eminent authors. It is the standard authority for the Official Records and Documents and Public Printing of the United States.

☞ Every family should possess a copy, for it is a Library of Itself. It is the only American Dictionary which is a safe guide. It is the only desirable Dictionary of the language.

From HON. GEO. P. MARSH, LL. D., Author of "Lectures on the English Language."

The work of Dr. Worcester is unquestionably MUCH SUPERIOR to any other general Dictionary of the language, in EVERY ONE of these particulars, and it is therefore entitled to rank FIRST among the existing helps to a complete knowledge of English philology.

From WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT and WASHINGTON IRVING.

The new authentic etymologies, the conciseness and COMPLETENESS OF THE DEFINITIONS, the nicety with which the different shades of meaning in synonyms are distinguished, and the CONSCIENTIOUS ACCURACY of the work in all its departments, give it, in my judgment, the highest claims to public favor.

I concur with the opinion of Mr. Bryant.—Washington Irving.

From PROF. OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES, Boston.

It is, indeed, a MONUMENTAL WORK, and one of which our city and country may be proud as long as we have a city, a country, and a language.

From CHARLES DICKENS, England.

It is A MOST REMAKABLE WORK, of which America will be justly proud, and for which all who study the English language will long have reason to respect your name, and to be grateful to you

From the REV. W. WHEWELL, D. D., Master of Trinity College, Cambridge, England, Author of "History of the Inductive Sciences."

I have repeatedly consulted the Dictionary, since it has been in my possession, and have seen reason to think it MORE COMPLETE AND EXACT than any of its predecessors.

From REV. JOSEPH BOSWORTH, D. D., F. R. S., Professor of Anglo-Saxon in Oxford University, England.

The whole work is the most comprehensive and useful that I have seen. It is THE MOST COMPLETE AND PRACTICAL, THE VERY BEST, as well as the cheapest English Dictionary that I know.

I find it not only rich beyond example in its vocabulary, but carefully elaborated in all the details, and THOROUGHLY TRUSTWORTHY as a guide to the most correct and elegant usage of the language.

From GEO. B. EMERSON, LL. D., Member of Mass. Board of Education.

I wish it to be known that I consider Dr. Worcester's Dictionary the best and the MOST UNEXCEPTIONABLE DICTIONARY of the English Language with which I am acquainted.

From HON. CHARLES SUMNER.

I know no one who has done so much ra you for all departments, and given to our language a Dictionary SO COMPLETE AND MANY-SIDED. It ought to be in every library, academy and school.

The issue of a few months will be sufficient to establish Worcester's Dictionary as the acknowledged standard of reference among the scholars of England and America.—London Literary Gaz., Feb. 11, 1861.

HOUSE FURNISHING ESTABLISHMENT,

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,

Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster, or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking: giving an oven nearly 3ft. long; or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz:

1st. The permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking over.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and the jackets are provided for the back and hot air plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves;

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

Weeks, Geo. W. Davis, Greenland; John Smart, Stratham; H. L. Pollard, Raymond, Robert F. Gerrish, Kittery; Nath'l F. Berry, Gosport, and many others who are using the Stove.

This stove was thoroughly tested before being brought into the market, and we know that all that is said of it will be found true on trial:

☞ We have also a very beautiful new pattern COOK STOVE, called the

THE GREATEST INVENTION OF THE AGE!

For Wood or Coal,

Operating on the same principle as the celebrated

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE.

This beautiful COOK STOVE is now offered to the public with entire confidence in its being the BEST OPERATING, MOST DURABLE and ECONOMICAL Stove ever invented, requiring one-third less Fuel than any other Stove in the market, to do the same amount of cooking; and the fire may be kept in it the entire season, without going out. The public are invited to call and examine this Stove, which is all that is necessary to convince any person that it has no superior, and cannot be beat. And we predict for it that popularity and immense sale which has attended the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE since its introduction into this market.

"Every Stove is warranted to give ENTIRE SATISFACTION in every particular."

☞ A correspondent of the St. Louis Democrat, who was one of the party who visited the battle-field at Belmont under a flag of truce, to bury the dead, relates that a man wounded in both legs and unable to walk was found in the woods singing the "Star Spangled Banner," but for which circumstance the surgeons say they would not have discovered him. He was brought off and his wounds properly dressed.

It is said that Governor Magoffin, of Kentucky, has become quite docile. His former secession sentiments have, in a great measure, vanished, or are adroitly hid beneath the cloak of hypocrisy, and he now announces his intentions to send no more vetoes to the Legislature, but will sign every bill that passes. He is nevertheless known to be a firm friend of Breckinridge, Marshall and Buckner—Boston Post.

☞ It is represented to our Government that the coolie trade is still carried on briskly, especially by Spanish vessels. The English are somewhat in favor of it, as a substitute for the slave trade. A bill is soon to be introduced into Congress for its suppression.

Statistics of the present year show the number of Baptists in Maine to be 20,735, who are gathered into 278 churches, over which are ordained 202 ministers. The number of baptisms the past year was 365.

They are to have a new equestrian sensation in London, in the appearance of a troop of real Bedouin Arabs from the desert of Sahara, with their horses and equipage. Such a novelty ought to draw, especially as the London Police arrangements are good, and they will not have any opportunity to display their other talent, that of robbery.

WAR WITH ENGLAND.

The public mind in England, as well as in this country, seems to be under some excitement in respect to the capture and detention of the two traitors, Mason and Slidell. But there is no probability that England will declare war against the United States on account of their capture, should our Administration pursue a conciliatory course. There is a more hostile feeling in England on the part of merchants and manufacturers on account of the blockade of our Southern ports, than in respect to Mason and Slidell. The want of cotton and some other southern staples affects their interest, but they do not express the voice of their whole nation, when they threaten war. The alleged "outrage" upon the British flag is used as a pretext to cover their designs and inflame the public mind. Let all keep cool in our free States.

If the English government is really desirous of having the bodies of Mason and Slidell delivered up, let it be done. They are of no use to us, and we should save paying their board. True it may be, that their lives are forfeited for their crime; but their execution would afford no real pleasure, or do any more good than the execution of two other traitors, and their confinement tends to produce a more savage spirit of revenge among the rebels. Inasmuch as our Government did not authorize their seizure in a British vessel, giving them up would be no stigma on our national character. Besides, they would be liable to arrest and to be tried for their crime, after the war shall be ended, unless they should escape to foreign parts. It would hardly be worth while to engage in war, and have hundreds, perhaps thousands, of lives sacrificed on account of two traitors.

After the present rebellion shall be crushed out, it may be well for our government to insist upon having some treaty stipulation with England in regard to her old claim of right to search our vessels. That claim and impressment of our seamen was the main cause of the war of 1812, for "free trade and sailors' rights." That claim we resisted, and therefore in giving up the two traitors, we would be consistent with our own doctrines.

We can therefore well afford to surrender the traitors, but not give up the blockade. Should the English government levy war against us on account of the latter, we will fight;—rapidly increase our navy, fit out a thousand privateers, and cut up their commerce upon the wide ocean,—the object of war being to see which party can do the other the most harm. But we repeat that with prudent and conciliatory councils on our part, it is wholly improbable that the Queen will declare war, or that Parliament will raise money to carry it on. PAX.

THE PANIC IN PRICE'S CAMP.—An escaped prisoner reports that when the news that Gen. Pope's cavalry had driven in Gen. Rains' pickets at Johnston, was received in Gen. Price's army, the greatest consternation pervaded the rebel camp.—The cavalry, artillery, infantry, and raw, ragged and unarmed recruits, were mixed up in inextricable confusion, and many hours elapsed before anything like order was restored. The retreat of the whole army commenced as soon afterwards as possible, and so fearful were they of pursuit, that they burned bridges and placed every obstruction in the way of the fancied pursuit. The bridge built by Gen. Fremont across the Osage river at Warsaw was not spared.

The following is a resume of the recent military operations in Missouri, obtained from a reliable source: Within the last two weeks the Union army has captured 2500 rebels, including about 70 commissioned officers, 1200 horses and mules, 1100 stand of arms, two tons of powder, 100 wagons, and an immense amount of commissary stores and camp equipage; also a large foundry at Lexington, used by the rebels for casting cannon, shot and shell; most of the rebel craft on the Missouri have been destroyed or captured. A pretty clean sweep has been made of the whole country between the Missouri and the Osage rivers, and Gen. Price, cut off from all supplies and recruits from North Missouri, is in full retreat for Arkansas with his army, having passed through Springfield on Monday last. Our loss in accomplishing these important results did not exceed 100 killed and wounded.

These are the points of the strategical combinations of Gen. Halleck, which have been so ably executed by Generals Pope, Prentiss and Nickerson, and Cols. Jeff. C. Davis (of Fort Sumter fame) any Fred. Steele of the 11th infantry, and the brave officers and soldiers of our army, regulars and volunteers.

☞ Thirty of the counties of Kentucky are in possession of the rebels, and eighty are loyal.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Mr. Chester Nichols left his house in Keene Monday, Dec. 16, in the evening, saying to his wife that he was going to drown himself, and has not since been heard from. He was tall and rather slender, had light hair and light blue eyes—wore a dark sack coat, ribbed pants of a brownish color, and black felt hat.

—— The Sixth regiment of N. H. Volunteers left Keene in twenty-two cars, at about nine o'clock, on Wednesday morning. The soldiers seemed in good spirits and were heartily cheered by an immense crowd that had assembled to witness their departure. They went by way of Fitchburg, Worcester, and Norwich. They were to take the boat at New London, land on the New Jersey shore, below New York, and go direct to Washington, where it is reported they are to join Berdan's Brigade of Rifles.

—— Mrs. Lovie Benjamin, wife of E. W. Benjamin of Sharon, was burned to death a few days since. It is supposed that her clothes were ignited while kindling a fire.

—— The Columbian mills, at New Ipswich and Mason Village, have all stopped, having worked up their entire stock of cotton.

—— The sum of $10,755.75 has been expended in Manchester for the relief of the families of volunteers. Of this amount all but 500 or 600 dollars will be refunded by the State, under the act of last June.

—— Mr. Samuel C. Crombie, of Nashua, is now engaged at Burlington, Vt., in making houses for the army, large quantities of which are to be sent to the Potomac and further South.

—— The thermometer indicated 20 degrees below zero in Lebanon on Thursday morning. In the storm on the previous Sunday night, snow fell to the depth of 18 inches.

—— The town of Unity, is said to be a disunion nest, containing over 100 secession rebels, who have formed a company and threaten to resist taxation and drafting for war purposes.

☞ The Petroleum Oil Business at Allegheny City is said to be immense. The wharves are crowded with it, and flat-boats are constantly taking it away. Numbers of refineries have been erected, but they cannot supply the oil equal to the demand.—Crude oil is sold there at 15 cents per gallon, the refined oil, 42 cents for the best qualities, prices which pay liberally. The oil production of Pennsylvania, like its coal, is giving a source of wealth which will continually increase in extent.

☞ Steamship Australasian, from Liverpool, with troops for Canada, on attempting to ascend the St. Lawrence, found the river obstructed by ice. The troops will probably be landed at St. John, N. B. Two other steamships, laden with troops and munitions of war, arrived at the mouth of the river some days ago, and may be able to reach Quebec.

☞ A requisition for 11,000 fathoms of chain cable—an inch and an eighth, an inch and a quarter, and an inch and three-eighths—came into the Navy Department a day or two ago. It was read aloud, and the feeling of astonishment among the auditors was painful at hearing the announcement that the only place in America where chain cable was made was in the little shop in the Washington Navy Yard.

☞ The N. Y. Times thinks it is a little amusing to reflect how perfectly quiet Canada was under the Trent "outrage" until she heard from England. It was not until the old lion growled that the whelps thought of whining. Canada looks abroad for her resentments, as well as for her opinions, Governors, and other luxuries.

☞ The Nouvelliste de Rouen asserts that Mr. Slidell's dispatches have been safely brought to Paris by his Secretary, Colonel Leinat, (an American of French origin,) and that they were delivered with the seals unbroken to M. Thouvenel, Minister for Foreign Affairs.

☞ Col. Billy Wilson is unpopular with his officers. A letter from Pensacola says they invited him to resign, but Billy didn't see it. A U. S. army officer, it is thought, would be more popular, but Billy should have a hearing before he is condemned.

☞ A young bridegroom, residing near London, has been held for perjury, because, in order to marry a girl of fifteen years, he swore that he had obtained her father's consent, which he hadn't, and the irascible old fellow complained of him, and had him arrested.

☞ In a waltzing match at Bangor, Me., a few nights ago, a couple won the prize by waltzing for two hours and fourteen minutes. Three other couples kept whirling over two hours. During the contest two of the ladies fainted, bless their dear soles! and were carried out.

A melancholy, but robust bachelor in Waldo, Oregon, has sent his photograph and a letter to the New Bedford ladies, and requests them to communicate with him on the subject of matrimony. He says—"I am 29 years old, I am six feeate 1 inch his and ways near 200. I am well able to take ceare of a wife."

THE REBELLION.

The damages to the North Missouri railroad have been greatly exaggerated. The repairs are going on as rapidly as possible, and a part of the road was to be opened Friday night. Ten of the bridge burners have been shot, and fifty more are in prison, awaiting Gen. Halleck's orders. No more trouble of the kind is expected, as that part of the State has been pretty thoroughly purged of the rebellion.

Considerable excitement prevails among the rebels at Yorktown in anticipation of an attack. All the sick were removed on the 21st by order of Gen. Magruder.

A dispatch dated Nashville 25th, says that Tom Crittenden with 12,000 men, was within 40 miles of Hopkinsville, Ky., and would advance upon that place at three points. The Southern rights citizens were sending their families and stock to the South.

A force of not less than 60,000 men, the advance of Gen. Buell's army, has crossed Green River, and are within five miles of Gen. Hindman's advance. Great preparations have been made for the defense of Bowling Green, and a terrible conflict is impending.

☞ A special dispatch by "Perley" from Washington, Saturday, to the Boston Journal, says:

"The Administration has decided to release Slidell and Mason. Mr. Seward and Lord Lyons were in conference this morning in regard to the manner in which the rebel Commissioners should be given up.

The National Intelligencer publishes the entire correspondence which has taken place between the English and French governments, and our own, on the subject, with an editorial article justifying the release.

The conservatives here approve of this decision on the part of the government, but the more radical Republicans denounce it. The Republican has an angry article on the subject. The "peace men," who sympathize with the South, are disgusted."

Mr. Seward's repy to the letter of Earl Russell, in relation to Mason and Slidell, discusses the whole question in all its bearings. He says:—"If I decide this case in favor of my own Government, I must disallow its most cherished principles, and reverse and forever abandon its most essential policy. * * We are asked to do to the British nation just what we have always insisted all nations ought to do to us. In coming to my conclusion, I have not forgotten that if the safety of this Union required the detention of the captured prisoners, it would be the right and duty of this Government to detain them. But the effectual check and waning proportions of the existing insurrection, as well as the comparative unimportance of the captured persons themselves when dispassionately weighed, happily forbid me from resorting to that defence." He trusts that by this course, "a question is finally and rightly settled which heretofore exhausting not only all forms of peaceful discussion, but also the arbitrament of war itself for more than half a century, alienated the two countries from each other,—and perplexed with fear and apprehension all other nations."

A dispatch from M. Thouvenal is also contained in the correspondence, in which he adopts the principles laid down by Earl Russell's dispatch, and urges that a neutral flag from one neutral port to another, covers the persons and merchandise it carries.

The decision of the President in the Trent affair, as announced in the dispatch of Sec. Seward, has the approval of every member of the Cabinet.

☞ On Tuesday an order went from the Ordnance Department to the 3 largest cannon founders in the country, viz: one in Pittsburg, one at West Point, and Alger's in Boston, to manufacture to their utmost capacity 10-inch columbiads for the next twelve months. Their present make would in that time yield eighteen hundred guns.—Contracts for immense quantities of small ordinance, arms, and shot and shell, have been made this week.

☞ The Canadian telegraph company contemplates an extension of their line to Cape Rozier, 200 miles beyond its present terminus. If this is done, we shall receive news from the Canadian steamers at least one day earlier than by way of Farther Point.

☞ The President has approved the bill providing for the appointment of three commissioners from each State, to visit the camps to receive and forward to the friends and families of soldiers the latter's allotments of pay.

☞ A copy of the London Court Journal, received at Washington, announces that a second petition had been received from citizens of Maine asking a reannexation of that State as a British Province.

☞ The Navy Department is receiving thirty Dahlgren guns of the heaviest calibre every week, which are immediately mounted on board the new gunboats and other war vessels.

☞ The January number of "Tales of the Day," just published by Carter & Bro., Boston, is the first of the second volume. This is the best collection of able and popular stories published in the country.

☞ Hon. Joseph Holt denies the statement that Gen. Schoeppf was formerly a hotel porter, &c. He is a Hungarian, and a graduate of the military school of Vienna.

☞ Lieut. Hurd's story about the fire in Charleston, escape of Corcoran, &c., is pronounced wholly untrue, and the Lieutenant is regarded as a dubious individual.

☞ The recent great fire at Antwerp destroyed $2,000,000 worth of property and killed twenty firemen. It lasted one night and a day.

☞ The rebel army, it is said, is composed entirely of twelve months' men, whose term of service expires in February.

☞ It was reported and believed at Washington on Friday that the Trent affair had been settled.

Special Notices.

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notices may be ordered for the Chronicle; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

TRUTH IS MIGHTY and always prevails, tho' it may at times meet with such opposition that makes the contest a protracted one. Such an one has the Hom. Cathartic mode of treatment met, but nobly have its champions stood up for the right, and they are now reaping their reward. Never since the discovery was first made by the Immortal Hahneman, has it numbered so many friends as it does at this time. Improvements and new discoveries in the method of treatment, as well as the simplifying the preparation of the medicine, which is done by DOCT. GIFFORD'S system of CURATIVES, have no doubt done much to popularize the practice. His SPECIFICS for the different diseases, for instance, headaches, coughs or colds, dyspepsia, biliousness, croup, catarrh, piles, etc. etc., put up in neat boxes, and sold at 25 cts. each, are doing much, by their efficiency of action, in arresting disease, to open the eyes of the public to the absurd practice that has long been considered "regular." A case of these Curatives for family use are getting to be about as common as babies in a house, and every family should have one.—A case of medicine we mean, sold by J. H. THACHER, Agent, 12 Market Sq, and corner State and Pleasant sts., Portsmouth; M. S. Hunt & Co., wholesale, Boston, Mass.; W. O. PHILLIPS, wholesale, Portland, Me; or sent anywhere by

American Women.

America is justly proud of its beautiful women; but how many die annually, or prematurely lose their health and youth for want of a remedy suitable to their peculiar ailments. That remedy is found in SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS. We know hundreds of cases where they have been used with the greatest success.—In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed,—moderating excesses and removing obstructions, whether from cold or any other cause. Suffer no more anxiety or low spirits, but try them. For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the Agent.

One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 Pills, by return mail. my28daw3m

References can now be given to some of the principal Physicians and numerous individuals in this vicinity, who have used the above remedy with the fullest success in various cases of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Sore Throat, Influenza Irritation of the Uvula, &c., &c. The success of this remedy has been fully tested in various parts, where the moisture of the climate induces great prevalence of Colds, &c., and a certainty of the efficiency of a remedy is required to avoid Consumption and ultimate death. This remedy, although only recently introduced in this vicinity, has met with a great demand, and every confidence is placed in its merits by those who have given it a fair and impartial trial.

THE PATENT

FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably supersede all other Hair-Brushes, whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it pronounce it a complete success. It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot by any possibility get out of order, is compact, elegant, durable, and will save twice its own price within three months, by economizing Preparations for the Hair.

THE FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH is guaranteed to effect a Saving of One-half in the use of all hair-washes, oils, &c., as compared with any and every other means of applying them. As some of these articles cost from one to two dollars per bottle, this is a matter of no small moment.

To recapitulate, in brief, the merits of the PATENT FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH:—

It dresses the hair without soiling the fingers; it effects a saving of one-half in the use of hair preparations; it does away with the greasy hair-oil bottles; it is a handsomer article than the common hair-brush; it regulates the quantity of fluid used, to a drop; it is perfectly tight, and cannot spill over on the trunk or on the toilet; it carries enough of any preparation to last for a voyage or a long journey; its price is moderate, and it saves its own cost in three months; and finally, no sensible person who uses the PATENT FOUNTAIN BRUSH will ever use any other.

Local.

☞ Rev. J. C. Fletcher delivers the fourth and concluding lecture of his course, at the Temple this, Monday, evening.—The course, thus far, has been of unusual interest, and has also, we feel assured, been of real and lasting benefit to the hearers — The lectures have been upon such subjects that while, like many other lyceum lectures, they indeed interested for the passing hour, there was something beyond and better than this contained in them, and much information conveyed, which could not be obtained so easily or so fully by any other means.

The lecture this evening will be a fitting conclusion to such a course. With the subject of Naples, Pompeii, and Herculaneum, Mr. Fletcher will, doubtless, make it the most interesting of the course, and, if possible, give greater satisfaction than ever.

☞ In the 6th N. H. Regiment, which on Wednesday left for Washington, are the following from this city:—Andrew J. Sides, 1st Lieut., Co. H; privates, James Berry, Richard Craig, Havillah F. Downing, Caleb S. Frost, Pierpont Hammond, Dennis Kane, Andrew McCarty, Robert Perrott, Bickford L. Rand, Irving W. Rand, William H. Redden, Samuel S. Sides, William F. Tripp, and William Wilson, all of Co. H.

☞ Mr. Nathan Jones advertises his new American Stable this morning. With his spacious and well-arranged premises, and large stock of horses and carriages, including several new hacks, he is fully prepared for all sorts of business in his line.

☞ A Washington dispatch says:—"Portland and Newbort are known to afford the only harbors that the great British iron-clad steam frigate Warrior can enter. She draws 28 feet of water,—too much to admit of her crossing the bar into New York harbor. Her Majesty's other vessels are less formidable visitors."

Perhaps a more intimate acquaintance with the New England coast might disclose another harbor, called Portsmouth, which the great frigate could enter as easily as either of those mentioned.

☞ Mr. E. D. Coffin, one of our most skilful and tasteful painters, has just finished and put up an elegant sign, for Mr. Jones' new "American Stable" in Vaughan street. We are always glad to see Coffin succeed, not only because he is "a grand good fellow," but also as he was one of the original employees in the Chronicle office—which fact of his being a printer, accounts for his unusual good taste in lettering.

☞ We are requested to state that the pews in the Church on Court street, recently purchased by the Christian Society, will be sold on Tuesday evening next, at said Church—to commence at 7 1-2 o'clock.

☞ We rejoice to say that two trains per day will run hereafter on the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad, passing through Manchester.

☞ Mr. Head's elegant new book for the Holidays, is just published.

PAY OF NAVY YARD MECHANICS.—The act recently passed to promote the efficiency of the navy, and approved by the President, contains a provision which has heretofore, we think, been confined to a general order,—regulating the hours of labor and the pay of Mechanics and others employed in the navy yards. It provides that the hours of labor shall be the same, and the pay as nearly as may be the average price paid to employes of the same grade, at the nearest private ship yards or workshops—the rate to be determined by the commandant of the navy yard.

☞ In Sebec, Me., Dec. 16th, Mrs. Charlotte Vose, wife of William H. Vose, lately deceased, and daughter of the late William Pitcher, of Belfast, was accidently drowned by falling into a cistern in the cellar of her house.

☞ Surgeon John M. Brown, lately returned in the sloop-of-war Constellation from the coast of Africa, has been ordered to the new steamer Kearsarge, now preparing for sea at the Portsmouth, Navy Yard.

☞ The Lewiston Journal says there is in that town a lad of twelve years who pays his own board, buys his own clothing and assists his mother by paying one dollar a week for her board.

☞ Salvage to the amount of $17,000 has been awarded to the negro Tillman who killed three whites and brought the schooner S. J. Waring into New York. He earned the money.

☞ The U. S. revenue cutter Howell Cobb, from Lake Erie, via Quebec, for Boston, went ashore at Lanesville, Cape Ann, during the blow Friday night, and will probably be a total loss.

The Madison, (Wis.) Argus recently made some change in its heading. It called attention to the fact as follows: "We have cut off a part of our head. Is it an improvement?" To which the Madison Journal replied: "Yes, it is a move in the right direction, Go on."

☞ Ex-Congressman Ely, who has reached Washington, brings a list of 2700 prisoners. He states that there is no doubt of an extended and deep Union feeling in Richmond, and if the rational army were within ten miles of Richmond our old flag would be hung out from hundreds of windows there; but at present there is a perfect reign of terror.

☞ Minister Corwin has made no treaty with Mexico. Miramon is now on his way from New York to Mexico, to gather the fragments of the old church party to co-operate with the Spanish invaders and establish a provisional government with Miramon at the head, and subsequently erect a Spanish monarchy.

☞ Having made arrangements for furnishing good custom-made BOOTS and SHOES for the people; also for all kinds of repairing in the same line, an invitation is extended to all who are in need of something good to wear to call at No. 6 MARKET SQUARE. D. R. AMBROSE.

N B—Newspapers and Periodicals as heretofore dec30

From the Journal

HOLIDAY PRESENTS.—The wise man says, "A gift is as a precious stone in the eyes of him that hath it: withersoever it turneth it prosperetb." It is an axiom true as holy writ that we love those whom we benefit; and it is no less true that a gift has a wonderful effect upon the receiver. Wise it is, that one season of the year is set specially apart for the bestowment of those little mementos which more closely cement the bonds of life. Trivial it may be, but there is a value in a gift which is not to be found in a purchased article. We saw not long since in the hands of a man of grey hairs, a magnet of perhaps a mineponce value, which had been kept more than half a century, because it was a gift—a manifestation of good feeling from a friend, the sight of which ever brought up his remembrance. The magnet retained its power, and so did the gift. Did we fully realize that all our blessings are the gifts of God, how much stronger would be our love for him. But though the subject is ample, we do not intend to write a sermon on it.

Those who wish to obtain articles for presents may find the principal places by referring to our advertising columns. Mr. Shores has a good variety of toys as well as of books. Mr. Foster has always a selection of choice articles for the season. Mr. Head has literally filled his store with the outpourings of the pockets of Santa Claus. Mr. John Sise has a fine assortment of the rare and beautiful in his line. Dr. Preston has also some choice articles suitable for presents. Mr. Stavers has a well arranged table of toys and ornaments. Mr. Hahn has given a prominence to articles for the season, above his usual stock. The boys will be pleased with the New Year fittings Mr. E. A. Stevens can furnish. At the several jewelry stores of Messrs. Clark, Emery, Bennett, and Bodge, are shining displays of articles which will make their recipients feel that the New Year is indeed a happy one. Nor less happy if they chance to find themselves in soft warm furs, such as Messrs. Dearborn or Mr. Head can furnish. Or if you wish to make your name ever melodious to the ears of your friend, just give Mr. Tilton an order for one of M'Phail's Pianos. If you wish to be happy yourselves, and make those happy around you, be active in the season of Holiday Gifts.

FOUNTAIN HEAD HAIR BRUSH.—Have you seen it? If not call on Mr. Preston or on Col. Hutchings, and examine it. "It saves your cocoanut," said a lady who had used it and highly approved of it. "Then it would be an excellent thing where balls are flying," was the reply. "Cocoanut oil, I mean, sir."

NORTH BRITISH REVIEW.—The following is the table of contents of the Number for November:—Pascal as a Christian Philosopher; What is money? Plato and Christianity; Spain; Poets and Poetry of Young Ireland; Edmund Burke, his life and Genius; Scottish Humor; Comets; Mr Mill on Representative Government. For prospectus of L. Scott and Co.'s reprints of the British Magazines see advertising columns.

DUTY ON LUXURIES.—Both Houses of Congress have passed a bill to increase the duty on tea to twenty cents per pound; on coffee to five cents; on sugars two and a half, three, five and eight cents a pound, according to quality, and on molasses six cents a gallon. This will very naturally reduce the consumption as it enhances the value. We have sometimes talked of these things as among the necessaries of life; but people can live without them, and when they become too high they will.

Rev. J. H. Towne, formerly of Portsmouth, was installed, Dec. 14th, as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Milwaukee; Sermon by Rev. D. M. Humphrey of Chicago.

A Happy New Year!

IMMORTELLES.

WINTER.

Down swept the chill wind from the mountain peak,
From the snow five thousand summers old,
On open wold and hill-top bleak,
It had gathered all the cold,
And whirled it like snow on the wanderer's cheek;
It carried a shiver everywhere,
From the unleafed boughs and pastures bare;
The little brook heard it and built him a roof,
'Neath which he could hum his own warm, winter-proof;
All night by the white stars' frosty gleams
He groined his arches and matched his beams;
Slender and clear were his crystal spars
As the lashes of light that trim the stars;
He sculptured every summer delight
In his halls and chambers out of sight;
Sometimes his tinkling waters slipt
Down through a frost-leaved forest-crypt,
Long, sparkling aisles of steel-stemmed trees
Bending to counterfeit a breeze;
Sometimes the roof no fretwork knew
But silvery mosses that downward grew;
Sometimes it was carved in sharp relief
With quaint arabesque of ice-fern leaf;
Sometimes it was simply smooth and clear [here
For the gladness of heaven to shine through, and
He had caught the nodding hulrush tops
And hung them thickly with diamond drops,
Which crystalized the beams of moon and sun,
And made a star of every one:
No mortal builder's most rare delight
Could match this winter palace of ice;
'Twas as if every image that mirrored lay
In his depths became through the summer day
Each living shadow of earth and sky,
Lest the happy model should be lost,
Had been mimicked in fairy masonry
By the elfin builders of the frost.

GET THE BEST!

WORCESTER'S

ILLUSTRATED

ROYAL QUARTO DICTIONARY,

The Standard.

This massive volume contains ONE THOUSAND EIGHT HUNDRED AND FIFTY-FOUR Pages. It is illustrated by more than ONE THOUSAND SUPERB WOOD CUTS: FIVE THOUSAND Words are accurately SYNONYMIZED; the Tables of PROPER NAMES Pronounced are very full and accurate.

☞ It is the BEST DEFINING and PRONOUNCING DICTIONARY of the English Language and contains many thousand more words and meanings than are to be found in any other similar work.

☞ It is the standard recognized by our eminent authors. It is the standard authority for the official Records and Documents and Public Printing of the United States.

☞ Every family should possess a copy, for it is a Library of itself. It is the only American Dictionary which is a safe guide. It is the only desirable Dictionary of the language.

From Hon. Geo. P. Marsh, LL. D., Author of "Lectures on the English Language."

The work of Dr. Worcester is unquestionably MUCH SUPERIOR to any other general Dictionary of the language, in EVERY ONE of these particulars, and it is therefore entitled to rank FIRST among the existing helps to a complete knowledge of English philology.

From William Cullen Bryant and Washington Irving.

The new authorities, etymologies, the conciseness and COMPLETENESS OF THE DEFINITIONS, the nicety with which the different shades of meaning in synonyms are distinguished, and the CONSCIENTIOUS ACCURACY of the work in all its departments, give it, in my judgment, the highest claims to public favor.

I concur with the opinion of Mr. Bryant.—Washington Irving.

From Prof. Oliver Wendell Holmes, Boston.

It is, indeed, a MONUMENTAL WORK, and one of which our city and country may be proud as long as we have a city, a country, and a language.

From Charles Dickens, England.

It is A MOST REMARKABLE WORK, of which America will be justly proud, and for which all who study the English language will long have reason to respect your name, and be grateful to you.

From the Rev. W. Whewell, D. D., Master of Trinity College, Cambridge, England, Author of "History of the Inductive Sciences."

I have repeatedly consulted the Dictionary, since the book came in my possession, and have seen reason to think it MORE COMPLETE AND EXACT than any of its predecessors.

From Rev. Joseph Bosworth, D. D., F. R. S., Professor of Anglo-Saxon in Oxford University, England.

The whole work is the most comprehensive and useful that I have yet seen. It is THE MOST COMPLETE AND PRACTICAL THE VERY BEST, as well as the cheapest English Dictionary that I know.

From C. C. Felton, LL. D., President of Harvard College.

I find it not only rich beyond example in its vocabulary, but carefully elaborated in all the details, and THOROUGHLY TRUSTWORTHY as a guide to the most correct and elegant usage of the language.

From Geo. B. Emerson, LL. D., Member of Mass. Board of Education.

I wish it to be known that I consider Dr. Worcester's new Dictionary the best and the MOST UNEXCEPTIONABLE DICTIONARY of the English Language with which I am acquainted.

From Hon. Charles Sumner.

I know no one who has done so much as you for all departments, and given to our language a Dictionary SO COMPLETE AND MANFULLY-ED. It ought to be in every library, academy and school.

The lapse of a few months will be sufficient to establish Worcester's Dictionary as the acknowledged standard of reference among the scholars of England and America.—London Literary Gaz., Feb. 11, 1861.

HOUSE FURNISHING ESTABLISHMENT,

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,

Of Providence, R. I.

The secret—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster, or (by the removal of a simple plate) in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom; every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz.:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking oven.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separate, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and tin jackets are provided for the back and hot m plates. A hot closet and tank can be adde i if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation."

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves.

THE MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be the stove for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

Reference is made to Messrs. J. Trundy, J. M Mathes, N. K. Walker, C. C. Jackson, C. H. Mendum, James F. Shores, Geo. Whitehouse, Joseph E. W. Davis, Greenland; John Smart, Stratham; H. L. Pollard, Raymond, Robert F. Gerrish, Kittery; Nath'l F. Berry, Gosport, and many others who are using the Stove.

This stove was thoroughly tested before being brought into the market, and we know that all that is said of it will be found true on trial.

☞ We have also a very beautiful new pattern COOK STOVE, called the

Modal Range;

Of which very many are being sold. It works well and comes cheap, and is well suited for a small family.

ENAMELED KETTLES, SAUCE PANS, BOILERS and PANS of every size, from a half pint to sixteen quarts,—the largest assortment ever offered in this city.

1861. MAGEE'S PATENT COOKING STOVE. 1861.

PATENT COOKING STOVE

For Wood or Coal,

Operating on the same principle as the celebrated

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE.

This beautiful COOK STOVE is now offered to the public with entire confidence in its being the BEST OPERATING, MOST DURABLE and ECONOMICAL Stove yet invented, requiring one-third less Fuel than any other Stove in the market, to do the same amount of cooking; and the fire may be kept in it the entire season, without going out. The public are invited to call and examine this Stove, which is all that is necessary to convince any person that it has no superior, and cannot be beat. And we predict for it that popularity and immense sale which has attended the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE since its introduction into this market.

"Every Stove is warranted to give ENTIRE SATISFACTION in every particular."

Jones & Bolles, No. 61 MARKET ST., Portsmouth.

STOVES.

THE MAGEE PARLOR

VENTILATING AND GAS-CONSUMING

STOVE.

We deem it unnecessary to enlarge upon the good qualities of this Stove, believing it to be too well known to need any recommendation from us, further than to say that it has been greatly improved in its appearance and thoroughness of operation, being made round or oval, and a very ingeniously constructed and ventilated OVEN attached

We have on hand many other kinds of COOK STOVES, which are well known in this vicinity, among which are

THE GOOD SAMARITAN,
BOSTON AND MAINE,
TRIUMPH, CLIPPER, EMPIRE STATE,
KITCHEN QUEEN, DAYLIGHT,
WHITE MOUNTAIN, &c.

For Wood or Coal.

We also offer for sale, the COUNT, SPARTAN, CORAL, FAVORITE, TRIUMPH, LEADER, &c., with a variety of SHEET IRON STOVES, with or without ovens; CYLINDER AND BOX STOVES, of all sizes and prices, and a general assortment of

HOUSE-KEEPING ARTICLES,

All of which will be sold at prices to suit the times.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., confident that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS at Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be exceeded by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

Advertisements may appear both in the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, if ordered; and will thus receive the most thorough circulation both in this city and vicinity, and throughout the State. ☞ Liberal terms for yearly advertising.

☞ A correspondent writes that "Master Gilbert Orne, aged twelve, youngest son of Mr. John Burnham, of Essex, Mass., saved the pennies, and having bought the material, under his mother's tuition, on holidays and evenings, knit a pair of thick woolen hose, apd presented them to the "Ladies' Soldiers' Aid Society." They are seamed "two and two," and grandmammas, who are undeniably the best judges in such matters pronounce them A 1. Which of the lads will go and do "likewise?" By patience and perseverance all may do something; some may knit and others sew. A fond mother exhibits to visitors a quilt made by her only son when but nine years of age. That quilt now covers that son's bed at home, while he at twenty-two, is in the Massachusetts Second, at the seat of war.

Boys, remember, but a few years will elapse before you must fill the places now occupied by your fathers. Strive then to be prepared to act well your parts, for "there all the honor lies."

☞ There was a turkey cooked in New York on Christmas day, that weighed, several days after being killed, and when divested of all but tail and wing feathers, full 37 pounds.

☞ A butcher at Grand Rapids, Mich., invited the family of every volunteer from that place to call at his stall on Christmas morning and get a roasting piece. This is practical benevolence.

☞ John C. Heenan withdraws his challenge to meet "the best man in England" and writes to Wilkes's Spirit that when the time comes to repel a foreign foe he will be the first volunteer to defend his country.

☞ Minister Webb at Brazil represents that the sympathy of that country is strong in favor of the Federal Government.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 31, 1861.

HILTON HEAD, S. C., Dec. 23.

Messrs. Editors:—Perhaps a few items from this place would not be wholly without interest to your readers, as many of them have friends in the two regiments which represent New Hampshire on the "sacred soil" of the palmetto State. Our regiment is still located in the cotton field in which we first pitched our tents after leaving the Atlantic, and there is now no prospect of our leaving here at present. We several weeks ago received marching orders, and had our quarters assigned us on board steamers Daniel Webster and Marion.—The prospect of a change of location and active service gave very general satisfaction, but the order was countermanded,—and here we are.

But we have not been idle during the six weeks we have been here. For some time past we have had a daily detail of six hundred men at work on the entrenchments which are being thrown up, and fifty men felling trees and at work on the large stables and storehouses which are being built at head quarters near Fort Welles, besides smaller details for various purposes, and the camp guard and pickets.

Of course we are able to drill but little, while doing so much outside work, and it speaks volumes in favor of our officers and men, that we are still able to maintain our reputation as being the best drilled Regiment in the Division. The truth is, we have got as good a set of officers as any regiment,—we think a little better. Col. Fellows is a thorough soldier, solicitous for the welfare of his men, and beloved by the whole regiment. Lieut. Col. Jackson, of your city, is a soldier and a gentleman and never fails to make a good impression.—Major Bedell is always "up and dressed;"—he has got more "snap" in him than a dozen ordinary Majors—a great worker and an excellent officer. Adjutant Hill is also (I believe) a citizen of Portsmouth. His position is one that involves a large amount of work, and requires also a thorough knowledge of military tactics; but Adjutant Hill can perform all that his position, or a much higher one, would require of him in a perfect manner. He is universally esteemed. Our Sergeant-Major is a son of our Lieut. Col., and rumor says he has lately received a Lieutenant's commission,—in this case truly a reward of merit, as he fully deserves to "go up higher."

Lieut. George W. Jackson of Co. E, has resigned his commission and gone home, and it is rumored about camp that one or two more think of doing the same. Five or six privates have been discharged, they being sick and unable to perform their duties, with no prospect of being able to do so for some time to come.

The health of the regiment is, in general very good, there being at this date but ten in hospital, and some fifty (mostly with colds) sick in quarters. The 4th is not so fortunate, there being quite a large number sick in that regiment, although I cannot give the exact number.

Those who enlisted from Portsmouth are mostly in Co. D, which is composed mostly of Portsmouth, Hampton and Seabrook boys. The health of this Co. has been better than any other on the line, owing perhaps to the fact that they are more accustomed to the sea air than the other companies. The D's are most of them good boatmen as well as good soldiers, as many of them are accustomed to spend a part of every summer in fishing. Their marked superiority in handling the oars caused them to be selected to do most of the rowing for the officers of the regiment from the time we embarked at Annapolis until now.

As for any thing very stirring about here,—we "don't see it." Vessels are brought in every day or two, taken prizes in attempts to run the blockade. Day before yesterday our gunboats performed a nice little job up at South Edisto, but as you will receive fuller accounts thereof than I can give, I forbear particulars.

We are anxious to get later intelligence from our army at the North, and we would also like to know on what key the British Lion now pitches his growls. John Bull had better "sing small," even if we are in the midst of a perplexing family quarrel.—We have a great deal of curiosity to learn what answer our Government will make to the demands of England. The hope is very generally expressed here that we shall not display symptoms of a want of backbone.

Yours truly, ROCKINGHAM.

☞ Gen. Scott disavows any official or responsible connection with or between either the United States or French governments. He returned home, it is stated, because he feared war, and felt it his duty to be at home, pending a war.

☞ No person is living in the town of Belmont, Mo., where a battle was fought some time since, the stench from dead horses preventing people living within two miles of the town.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Mr. Samuel Currier, residing in South Hampton, will be ninety-eight years old in March next, and has voted for every President, from Washington down. He is in good health, and chops wood and takes care of cattle, like any young man.

—— It has been reported that Capt. Gerrish, of the N. H. Battery, was under arrest and would be court martialed. The facts, as represented by an officer of the Battery, are these:—Capt. Gerrish proposed to go to Washington with some men who had been ordered there, when another Captain, who outranked him, advised him not to go, and when he went caused him to be arrested. One of the gunners says:

"His arrest was no disgrace to him. Our battery is so much better than the other batteries stationed near, that the commandant of the post became jealous of us, and took this way to break us down. But he cut his own fingers, for Gen. McDowell ordered Capt. Gerrish's release, and declared our battery the best on this side of the river."

—— Lieut. George H. Perkins has been ordered to the command of the gunboat Cayuga, fitting for sea at the New York navy yard. Mr. Charles H. Danforth has been appointed a master's mate, and ordered to the steam sloop-of-war Kearsarge, nearly ready for sea at Portsmouth. Assistant Paymaster Charles H. West has been ordered to the ship J. L. Chambers, at the Philadelphia navy yard. These gentlemen all reside in Concord.

—— Col. E. Q. Fellows, and other officers of the New Hampshire Third, intend to present to Capt. Oliver Eldridge, of the steamship Atlantic, a handsome silver trumpet, as an evidence of their esteem and friendship. They were passengers on the Atlantic from Annapolis to Port Royal, and found the commander to be a first-rate seaman and a gentleman.

—— On Friday night a school-house was burned in West Rumney, not far from the place where Mr. Alden Clifford's barn was burned the week previous. The people of that town are on the watch for the incendiary.

——Mrs. Long, the distinguished vocalist, formerly of Nashua, is about to change her profession, with the intention of devoting her time to teaching.

—— The covered wooden bridge on the Concord R. R., at Nashua, was burnt Saturday afternoon. It was built four years ago, at a cost of $6000, and was fully insured.

AN ECLIPSE OF THE SUN will occur this morning, December 31, which will cover a quarter of the sun at the time of its rising, and pass off before 10 o'clock. It will be total far south of us, as the centre of the shadow first touches the earth at the Caribbean sea, and passing southeast will cross the island of Margarita, the northeast portion of Venezuela, and the island of Trinidad, to the Atlantic ocean. Afterwards changing its course to the northeast it will cross Senegambia, the Great Desert, Tripoli, and the Mediterranean to Greece, leaving the earth near the ancient city of Corinth. The width of the shadow will be about forty miles.

This eclipse crosses the line of the one last year, near Tripoli, making two total eclipses at that point in a year and a half. The next total eclipse visible in the United States will be in 1869, when the greatest obscuration will be in Virginia. On Tuesday next it will be greater at Key West than elsewhere in this country, where more than three-quarters of the sun will be darkened.

EXPLOSION IN A K ROSENE OIL FACTORY.—On Friday night, the residents in the neighborhood of Newton Creek, Brooklyn, N. Y., were startled by a loud report, resembling thunder, succeeded by a glare of light, caused by an explosion at the immense Kerosene Oil Works at Newton Creek, near the Flushing plank road.—There were, at the time, over three thousand barrels of oil on the premises, and these becoming ignited, exploded, scattering the fire in all directions. The works were built about five years ago, and were the largest in the country, costing, when finished, over $400,000. About a year since, the original company, who built the works failed, and the manufactory was purchased by a company of which Peter Cooper is the principal, for $100,000. The total loss, by the fire is estimated at over $120,000.

PLAIN DUTY.—The duty of our people and our Government, at this moment, says the Boston Post, is too apparent to require pointing out. It is to combine all our energies, at once, in efforts to suppress the insurrection. The question with England has been removed—those who are satisfied with the disposition made of it, can rejoice—those who are not should manifest their patriotism by silent acquiescence. We think the Government has acted discreetly, under the circumstances, and deserves to be cordially sustained by the country. At least, let us not gratify our enemies, at home or abroad, by fretful and unavailing complaint—but, with united hearts and hands, go into the great work of restoring our National Constitution to its just supremacy.—Now is the time to strike the effectual blow; let it be given with a will.

THE REBELLION.

The Constitution, with another portion of Gen. Butler's division, will sail from Boston for Ship Island in a day or two; but the order placing all the troops remaining in New England at the disposal of the General will probably delay his departure for a week or two longer.

The following items are from Richmond papers—

Intelligence from Bowling Green, Ky., states that appearances do not indicate an engagement, although unforeseen circumstances might precipitate a fight within eight or ten days. A Federal fleet of twelve gunboats had passed up to White Point on North Edisto, and made demonstrations on Gen. Evans' forces. Reinforcements were sent to him, and a battle was expected. Demonstrations had also been made at other points. The North Carolina batteries disabled a few Federal gunboats on Tuesday. Five Federal gunboats had anchored off Cole Island, and a battle was expected immediately. It was reported at Augusta that steamer Gladiator had entered a Confederate port, with large quantities of arms, ammunition, &c. A rumor was in circulation, that a gentleman of Richmond, holding a commission in the army of the Potomac, had committed suicide by shooting himself through the head.

Our troops are still building entrenchments on Tybee Island, while Fort Pulaski kept up a continual fire on them without damage.

Gen. Prentiss with 450 men encountered and dispersed 900 rebels under Col. Dorsey, at Mount Zion, Boone county, Mo., killing and wounding 150 and capturing 35 prisoners, 95 horses and 105 guns. Our loss was only 3 killed and 11 wounded.

The rebels burned another train on the North Missouri Railroad, Friday, and they say they intend to burn all the cars on the road so as to prevent its being used.

The British steamer Karnak, from Nassau, N. P., Dec. 23, arrived at New York, reports that the rebel steamers Isabel and Gordon were in port, closely watched by the U. S. steamer Flambeau. The British steamer Gladiator was also in port, and would soon sail for England.

☞ James Cunningham, a youth nineteen years of age, was found on Tuesday morning lying on the sidewalk in New York in an insensible condition. He was taken to the Station House, where he was restored to consciousness. He stated that he had eaten nothing for four days; that he had for two months past been a bed fellow with two dogs in an out-of the way place, and that he had for a long time indulged to excess in ardent spirits. The police were conveying him to the hospital when he died. Deceased was an intelligent young man, and prepossessing in appearance. His brother keeps a marble store in Broadway.

SUSPENSION OF SPECIE PAYMENTS.—The banks of Boston, New York and Philadelphia have suspended specie payment.—Many banks in New York were still paying specie on Monday. There was little demand, however. The old Bank of Pittsburg, Pa., pays specie on all its liabilities, and did so thro' the last suspension.

☞ The World's dispatch says the manner in which Mason and Slidell are to be given up has been left to Lord Lyons. They will probably be put on board the steamer America, which sails from New York on Wednesday, and which will be required to stop at Boston.

☞ Civil war has affected St Louis like a stroke of palsy. More than 60,000 inhabitants have left that city within a year; an immense number of houses and stores are vacant, and all business except Government contracts, is at a dead stand.

GREAT crimes ruin comparatively few. The little meannesses, selfishness, and impurities do the work of death on most men: and these things march not to the sound of fife or drum—they steal with muffled tread, as the foe steals on the sleeping sentinel.

☞ Fanny Fern says, to her eye, no statue that the rich man places ostentatiously in his window, is to be compared to the little expectant face pressed against the window-pane, watching for its father when his day's labor is done.

☞ The National troops at Hatteras inlet are said to be suffering for want of everything—tents for shelter, medicines, provisions, &c.

VIRTUE AND VICE.—The wrong virtues in the wrong place are as fatal as if they were vices,—indeed the main element of virtue is that is a good thing coming in its due season.

☞ The injury to Col. Berdan from trying a breach-loading rifle, is not so serious as at first reported. He is rapidly recovering.

☞ A gold-fish was recently caught at Wareham, (and is alive,) which has two tails and parts of two bodies.

☞ Three flower vases of 18th Sevres porcelain sold in Paris recently for eighty thousand dollars!

☞ Gen. McClellan has entirely recovered from his illness.

Special Notices.

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, if agreeable, request that their notices may be ordered for the Chronicle; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

TRUTH IS MIGHTY and always prevails, tho' it may at times meet with such opposition that makes the contest a protracted one. Such an one has the Homeopathic mode of treatment met, but nobly have its champions stood up for the right, and they are now reaping their reward. Never since the discovery was first made by the immortal Hahnemann, has it numbered so many friends as it does at this time. Improvements and new discoveries in the method of treatment, as well as the simplifying the preparation of the medicine, which is done by DOCT. GIFFORD'S system of CURATIVES, have no doubt done much to popularize the practice. His SPECIFICS for the different diseases, for instance, headaches, coughs or colds, dyspepsia, biliousness, croup, catarrh, piles, etc. etc., put up in neat boxes, and sold at 25 cts. each, are doing much, by their efficiency of action, in arresting disease, to open the eyes of the public to the absurd practice that has long been considered "regular." A case of these Curatives for family use are getting to be almost as common as babies in a house, and every family should have one,—a case of medicine we mean, sold by J. H. THACHER, Agent, 12 Market St; and corner State and Pleasant sts., Portsmouth; M. S. Burt & Co., wholesale, Boston, Mass.; W. O. PHILLIPS, wholesale, Portland, Me.; or sent anywhere by

American Women.

America is justly proud of its beautiful women; but how many die untimely, or prematurely lose their health and youth for want of a remedy suitable to their peculiar ailments. That remedy is found in SIR JAMES CLARKE'S FEMALE PILLS. We know hundreds of cases where they have been used with the greatest success—In all cases of Nervous and Spinal affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Sick Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed,—moderating excesses and removing obstructions, whether from cold or any other cause. Suffer no more anxiety or low spirits, but try them. For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the Agent.

One dollar and six postage stamps sent to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 Pills, by return mail. my28daw3m

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

References can now be given to some of the principal Physicians and numerous individuals in this vicinity, who have used the above remedy with the fullest success in various cases of Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Sore Throat, Influenza Irritation of the Uvula, &c., &c. The success of this remedy has been fully tested in various parts, where the moisture of the climate induces great prevalence of Colds, &c., and a certainty of the efficiency of a remedy is required to avoid Consumption and ultimate death. This Lozenge, although only recently introduced in this vicinity, has met with a great demand, and every confidence is placed in it by those who have given it a fair and impartial trial.

THE PATENT
FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH.

In the opinion of all who have seen this invention, it is the most convenient TOILET ARTICLE ever introduced, either in this country or abroad, and must inevitably supersede all other Hair-Brushes, whenever an opportunity for comparison is afforded. All scientific men who have examined it pronounce it a complete success. It is simple in principle, perfect in operation, cannot by any possibility get out of order, is compact, elegant, durable, and will save twice its own price within three months, by economizing Preparations for the Hair.

THE FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH is guaranteed to effect a Saving of One-half in the use of all hair-washes, oils, &c., as compared with any and every other means of applying them, as some of these articles cost from one to two dollars per bottle, this is a matter of no small moment.

To recapitulate, in brief, the merits of the PATENT FOUNTAIN HAIR-BRUSH:—

It dresses the hair without soiling the fingers; it effects a saving of one-half in the use of hair preparations; it does away with the greasy hair-oil bottles; it is a handsomer article than the common hair-brush; it regulates the quantity of fluid used, to a drop; it is perfectly tight, and cannot spill over on the trunk or on the toilet; it carries enough of any preparation to last for a voyage or a long journey; its price is moderate, and it saves its own cost in three months; and finally, no sensible person who uses the PATENT FOUNTAIN BRUSH will ever use any other.

PORTSMOUTH BANKS.

SUSPENSION OF SPECIE PAYMENTS.

Whereas, information has been received that the Banks in Boston, which hold the funds of the Banks of Portsmouth for the redemption of their bills, have this day suspended Specie Payments,—therefore

Resolved, that the Banks of this city suspend Specie Payments, so long as the Banks in Boston withhold our funds in specie.

Resolved, that the Banks of this city will receive and pay its money receivable at the Suffolk Bank and Bank of Mutual Redemption, in Boston, as heretofore.

Portsmouth, Dec. 30, 1861.

☞ A few evenings since as a lady in this city was sitting alone in her house, the door being unfastened, a man walked in and sat down. The lady asked what he wanted, and he replied by saying that he wanted a great many things, and if they were not furnished in the shortest possible time, he would (to use his own language) "make mince meat of her." The lady, with uncommon coolness, told him that she presumed he first wanted something to eat. He replied that he did, and that it must be served in the most speedy manner. The brave woman informed him that she should be under the necessity of kindling a fire in her cook stove, and would go and bring some wood. She then, under the pretence of going for the fuel, stepped to the street door, procured some assistance, and the intruder was speedily ejected.

About five minutes after the exit of the scoundrel, the husband of the lady came in, a fortunate circumstance for the stranger, as we know that he could not have escaped with a whole hide if he had fallen into the clutches of Mr. K.

☞ Now that Mr. Fletcher's brief—too brief, course of lectures, is over, we again desire to testify to their great interest and value anywhere,—and also to commend the music at the North Church, on the occasion of the lecture on the Waldenses. The duetts on the organ were grand—the brilliant playing of the two young ladies eliciting praise from all. Yes, the performances on the organ were a rare treat indeed. Why can't we have more such? And the vocal quartet had evidently made no little effort of preparation to add to the interest of the occasion—and even though their singing may be open to criticism, yet we think, where so little home music (or any other) is offered to our citizens, it is well to make the most of, and be duly grateful for, what little public spirit of the sort is manifested.

Messrs. Editors:—Having seen a notice that Miss Emma Hardinge is to speak in the Temple, Tuesday evening, I wish to call the attention of your readers to this most remarkable woman. Her wonderful gifts of oratory are, perhaps, the most remarkable development of intuitive or inspirational eloquence which the world has seen for ages. She stands confessedly first, among the liberal teachers of the present day, as an orator, while her unselfish devotion to the interests of the down-trodden and friendless has won her hosts of friends among the most conservative and talented of the orthodox. Any one neglecting to hear her will lose an intellectual treat, such as a lifetime may not again offer. D.

☞ The Ball given at Irving Hall, by the Atlantic Associates, on Christmas eve, was a complete success. The company was large—almost too large for the Hall—and highly respectable, including many prominent citizens and strangers, and plenty of beautiful young ladies, without whom a ball is not a ball. [We couldn't help grudging the Masons the monopoly of the more spacious Congress Hall—and asking ourselves how long will it be now, before Portsmouth can afford a City Hall? Thanks to those who secured the Post Office.] Lamprey's Quadrille Band furnished the music. A bounteous and elegant supper was spread in Washington Hall, which was tastefully decorated. The Sixes may well congratulate themselves on their success, which was in no small degree owing to their efficient committee.

SALE OF PEWS at the Court Street Christian Church this, Tuesday, evening at half past seven o'clock.

☞ The usual Watch Night Meeting will be held this evening at the Methodist Church in State Street. Rev. Mr. Waterhouse, of the Christian Society, is to preach the first sermon, at 9 o'clock.

☞ At a meeting of the Republicans of Ward 3, on Monday evening, the following delegates were chosen:—

To the State Convention at Concord, on Wednesday, January 1,—Daniel F. Smith, Warren Coggswell, Joseph H. Gardiner, Job Woodsum.

To the Senatorial Convention at Portsmouth, Jan. 21,—Samuel H. French, Chas. E. Blunt, Chas. L. Abbott, James M. Pickering.

To the County and Councillor Convention, at Exeter,—Frank B. Johnson, Daniel F. Smith, Wm. H. Rollins, Joshua Stackpole.

☞ A gentlemen has brought into the Chronicle office, a chain and ball, which the rebels once used to confine refractory soldiers, but which they forgot to take with them in their hasty evacuation of Port Royal.

THE DYING YEAR.

The year is dying, the sad old year
Goes down to its sleep at last;
Its cheek is wet with a falling tear,
And its life is forever past;
Its locks are gray, and its trembling hands
Are folded upon its breast;
And Time like a giant in mourning stands,
To bear it away to rest.

Alas! for the year, the sad old year,
That came in so hearty and hale!—
'Twill be shrouded soon for a silent bier,
For repose in the shadows pale.
It dawned upon us in radiant light,
With promise of so much good,
But closes its eyes in a weary night,
And its bosom is tinged with blood.

Alas! for the year, the sad old year!—
It goes to its grave with weeping,—
With low-breathed whispers of inward fear,
For the land where the brave are sleeping.
Fear not, old year, there are true hearts still,
From the snows to the land of flowers,
And a summer of beauty the sky doth fill
In the cloud which beneath it lowers.

—Hartford Times.

☞ The heavy cannonading near Gardner's Bay, the subject of a telegram from Stonington, was caused by Gen. James and others of Gen. McClellan's staff, testing the James cannon. The mysterious light was probably either that from some light-house, as seen by landsmen, or an ignis fatuus.

UNIVERSAL CLOTHES-WRINGER,

THE GREATEST LABOR-SAVING MACHINE NOW IN THE MARKET!

Will more than pay for itself in the Wear of Clothing.

FOUR REASONS

Why no one should be without one of them:

1st.—It will wring four times as fast as can be done by hand; much drier, and with one-fourth the labor; and wrings anything from a silk glove to a heavy Blanket.

2d.—Is simple, strong, and durable, and will not get out of repair

3d.—Any servant will use it with safety to the machine, and with great saving of wear to the Clothes.

4th.—It is readily and firmly secured, to tubs of any thickness, and can be easily detached and set aside.

IMMORTELLES.

MORNING.

Morn breaketh in the east. The purple clouds
Are putting on their gold and violet,
To look the master for the sun's bright coming.
Sleep is upon the waters and the wind;
And nature, from the wary forest leaf
To her majestic master, sleeps. As yet
There is no mist upon the deep blue sky,
And the clear dew is on the blushing bloom
Of crimson roses in a hollow reed.
How hallowed is the hour of morning! Meet—
Ay, beautifully meet—for the pure prayer.
—Willis.

EVENING.

It was an eve of autumn's holiest mood;
The hemlocks, bathed in Cynthia's silver light,
Stood ready for the reaper's gathering hand,
And all the winds slept soundly. Nature seemed,
In silent contemplation, to adore
Its Maker. Now and then, the aged leaf
Fell from its fellows, rustling to the ground;
And, as it fell, made man think on his end.
On vale and lake, on wood and mountain high,
With pensive wing outspread, sat heavenly
Thought,
Conversing with itself. Vesper look'd forth,
From out her western hermitage and smiled;
And up the east, unclouded, rode the moon
With all her stars, gazing on earth intense;
As if she saw some wonder walking there.
—Pollok.

GET THE BEST!

WORCESTER'S

ILLUSTRATED

ROYAL QUARTO DICTIONARY,

The Standard.

This massive volume contains ONE THOUSAND EIGHT HUNDRED AND FIFTY-FOUR pages. It is illustrated by more than ONE THOUSAND SUPERB WOOD CUTS; FIVE THOUSAND words are accurately SYNONYMIZED; the Tables of PROPER NAMES Pronounced are very full and accurate.

☞ It is the BEST DEFINING and PRONOUNCING DICTIONARY of the English Language, and contains many thousand more words and meanings than are to be found in any other similar work.

☞ It is the standard recognized by our eminent authors. It is the standard authority for the Official Records and Documents and Public Printing of the United States.

☞ Every family should possess a copy, for it is a library of itself. It is the only American Dictionary which is a safe guide. It is the only desirable Dictionary of the language.

From Hon. Geo. P. Marsh, LL. D., Author of "Lectures on the English Language."

The work of Dr. Worcester is unquestionably MUCH SUPERIOR to any other general Dictionary of the language, in EVERY ONE of these particulars, and it is therefore entitled to rank FIRST among the existing helps to a complete knowledge of English philology.

From William Cullen Bryant and Washington Irving.

The new authentic etymologies, the conciseness and COMPLETENESS OF THE DEFINITIONS, the nicety with which the shades of meaning in synonyms are distinguished, and the CONSCIENTIOUS ACCURACY of the work in all its departments, give it, in my judgment, the highest claims to public favor.

I concur with the opinion of Mr. Bryant.—Washington Irving.

From Prof. Oliver Wendell Holmes, Boston.

It is, indeed, a MONUMENTAL WORK, and one of which our city and country may be proud as long as we have a city, a country, and a language.

From Charles Dickens, England.

It is a MOST REMARKABLE WORK, of which America will be justly proud, and for which all who study the English language will long have reason to respect your name, and to be grateful to you.

From the Rev. W. Whewell, D. D., Master of Trinity College, Cambridge, England, Author of "History of the Inductive Sciences."

I have repeatedly consulted the Dictionary, since it has been in my possession, and have seen reason to think it MORE COMPLETE AND EXACT than any of its predecessors.

From Rev. Joseph Bosworth, D. D., F. R. S., Professor of Anglo-Saxon in Oxford University, England.

The whole work is the most comprehensive and useful that I have yet seen. It is THE MOST COMPLETE AND PRACTICAL, THE VERY BEST, as well as the cheapest English Dictionary that I know.

From C. C. Felton, LL. D., President of Harvard College.

I find it not only rich beyond example in its vocabulary, but carefully elaborated in all the details, and THOROUGHLY TRUSTWORTHY as a guide to the most correct and elegant usage of the language.

From Geo. B. Emerson, LL. D., Member of Mass. Board of Education.

I wish it to be known that I consider Dr. Worcester's new Dictionary the best and the MOST UNEXCEPTIONABLE DICTIONARY of the English Language with which I am acquainted.

From Hon. Charles Sumner.

I know no one who has done so much as you for all departments, and given to our language a Dictionary SO COMPLETE AND MANY-SIDED. It ought to be in every library, academy and school.

The sale of a few months will be sufficient to establish Worcester's Dictionary as the acknowledged standard of reference among the scholars of England and America.—London Literary Gaz., Feb. 11, 1861.

HOUSE FURNISHING ESTABLISHMENT,

THE MODEL COOK STOVE,

FOR WOOD OR COAL.

MADE BY

THE BARSTOW STOVE COMPANY,

Of Providence, R. I.

The novel—the peculiar feature of the MODEL COOK, that which distinguishes it from all others, is the addition of a Ventilated Roasting Oven within the body of the stove and in front of the fire; so arranged that it can be used separately for a roaster, or by the removal of a simple plate! in connection with the larger oven, for baking; giving an oven nearly 3 ft. long! or large enough to take six large plates on the bottom, every part of which will bake evenly at the same time! The advantages of this arrangement over that adopted for roasting in the Stewart and other stoves, by extending the oven with a tin roaster in front of the fire, are obvious, viz.:

1st. This permanent extension of the stove costs no more than the temporary extension by a tin roaster, while this is more durable, tasteful and useful.

2d. As the flues of the stove extend over and under the entire size of the oven, it is more easily and surely heated than a tin roaster, which receives no heat except what it borrows from the baking over.

3d. By this arrangement the processes of roasting and baking are entirely separated, while by the others they are carried on together, the fumes of both being intermingled.

4th. By this arrangement the roasting oven can be attached to the baking oven in a single moment of time, when occasion requires; or it can be used for a hot closet when not required for baking or roasting.

5th. By this extension an additional boiler hole and other room is gained on the top of the stove, while, at the same time, the stove occupies no more room on the floor.

6th. The stove is made in the most thorough manner; the doors and roasting oven are lined with tin, and 11 jackets are provided for the back and hot in plates. A hot closet and tank can be added if required. With any reasonable care, the stove will last a life-time, and we know it to be "perfect in its operation"

We might make extended notice of some other things peculiar to this stove, as compared with other high priced Air Tight Cook Stoves,.

The MODEL COOK is adapted equally well for wood and coal, summer and winter. It will be found to be THE STOVE for farmers, mechanics or professional men; for boarding houses or private families—in fact for every place where a good stove is needed.

Reference is made to Messrs. J. Trundy, J. M. Mathes, N. K. Walker, C. C. Jackson, C. H. Mendum, James F. Shores, Geo. Whitehouse, Joseph E. Cate, Nathaniel Dennett, John Harrett, Phineas Nichols, Jas. P. Bartlett, Thos. Murphy, Geo. Rice, Benj. F. Canney, H. F. Gerrish, John Seuter, Wm. C. Newton, Cyrus Plummer, Wm. Bell, Capt. W. Davis, Greenland; John Smart, Stratham; H. L. Pollard, Raymond, Robert F. Gerrish, Kittery; Nath'l F. Berry, Gosport, and many others who are using the Stove.

This stove was thoroughly tested before being brought into the market, and we know that all that is said of it will be found true on trial.

☞ We have also a very beautiful new pattern COOK STOVE, called the

Model Range;

Of which very many are being sold. It works well and comes cheap, and is well suited for a small family.

MAGEE'S

For Wood or Coal,

Operating on the same principle as the celebrated

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE.

Jones & Bolles, No. 61 MARKET ST., Portsmouth.

This beautiful COOK STOVE is now offered to the public with entire confidence in its being the BEST OPERATING, MOST DURABLE and ECONOMICAL Stove ever invented, requiring one-third less Fuel than any other Stove in the market, to do the same amount of cooking; and the fire may be kept on it the entire season, without going out. The public are invited to call and examine this Stove, which is all that is necessary to convince any person that it has no superior, and cannot be beat. And we predict for it that popularity and immense sale which has attended the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE since its introduction into this market.

"Every Stove is warranted to give ENTIRE SATISFACTION in every particular."

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE, and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wines in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.
